BURKE DEMANDS AMERICA AID IN HALTING HITLER

Do It by Arms Ban Repeal, He Pleads.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—The religious issue was injected into the senate neutrality debate today by Senator Edward R. Burke [Dem., Neb.], who delivered the most warlike speech uttered thus far by a supporter of the Roosevelt administration's arms embargo repealer.

Senator Burke.

Assailing Adolf Hitler, the Nebraskan appealed to the sentiments of the Catholics and Jews in demanding that "we apply ourselves to a task of far greater importance than the impossible effort to maintain a strictly neutral position."

[Other news of the senate debate on the neutrality issue, including a speech by Senator Bennett Champ Clark, in which he charged Americans are being inflamed to war, is on page 6.]

Admits Repeal Is Unneutral.

Senator Burke denounced as a sham that does not carry conviction the contention of some embargo repealists that the administration's cash and carry plan of selling war supplies to belligerents is neutral. He supported it precisely for the reason, he said, that it is unneutral, and will help Great Britain and France defeat Hitler.

"Every one knows that the belligerents do not have the same capacity to cross the seas, pay for their purchases, and carry them away in their own vessels," said Senator Burke. "Repeal of the arms embargo will, therefore, not operate equally.

"For myself, I have crossed that bridge. I speak no more of repeal of the arms embargo as an expression of strict neutrality, for it is not that. It checks the belligerent that I want checked. It favors the belligerents that I want favored."

No Compromise Now, He Says.

Some senators said they believed Burke was about to advocate a declaration of war against Germany when he said: "There is a time for compromise, for yielding, for appeasement, if you will. That hour is past. We need a rebaptism in the faith and the courage of our fathers.

"It is all very well to say that we love peace and hate war. We can all subscribe to that without any reservation whatever. I will go as far as any one to promote the former and prevent the latter. But we may as well recognize that we live in a world wherein, unfortunately, force is still the only language that many understand.

"Until that condition can be corrected, it will be best for us to master that language. Only harm can result if the erroneous impression is permitted to be spread abroad and at home that America has no rights which it cherishes so deeply that it will fight to the last drop rather than surrender them."

Denies He Advocates War.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] asked Senator Burke whether he believed the United States ought to go to war because of the persecution of Jews and Catholics in Germany. Burke insisted that he was not advocating that we go to war.

"But," he shouted, "we ought to wipe from the statute books any law that helps Hitler against England and France."

Burke cited protests made by American officials against pogroms in Russia during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

"On all of these occasions," he said, "it was recognized that we were powerless to prevent by force a continuation of the persecutions. But the American policy has been that it is our right and our solemn duty vigorously to protest such outrages, that in so doing we will aid in developing a moral sense of indignation that the guilty nations dare not ignore.

Defends Right to Interfere.

"It has always been urged by the offending country that no outsiders have any right to interfere with its internal affairs. The world has been asked to believe that when any country undertakes a program of perse-

FORMER AGENT TELLS OF SOVIET SPY RING IN U. S.

Planted in Army and Navy, He Testifies.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Gen. W. G. Krivitsky, former head of the soviet military intelligence service in western Europe, appeared today before the Dies committee on un-American activities to unfold a tale of the widespread activities of Josef Stalin's secret agents in the United States.

Six months before the pact between Stalin and Adolf Hitler startled the world, Krivitsky exposed the communist-Nazi alliance in a series of magazine articles. He told the committee that American military secrets obtained by agents of Stalin and Hitler undoubtedly are being shared by the soviet union and Germany.

Flees from Purge.

Krivitsky fled Paris, where he was directing operations of Russia's military intelligence, in 1937, just in time to escape death in the notorious purge instituted by Stalin. In that purge, he told the Dies committee, approximately 500,000 persons were imprisoned, exiled, or executed.

Soviet agents are planted in the army, navy, and government agencies of the United States, he testified. They work with the assistance of the American communist party, he declared. Ninety per cent of that party's expenses are paid by the soviet government, he added.

Earl Browder, the general secretary, is but a figurehead, Krivitsky said, adding that the real chief is a representative of the Comintern, who dominates not only the party but the soviet embassy and all trade organizations affiliated with the soviet.

Resorts to Interpreter.

The former Russian intelligence head had demanded an executive session of the committee, and obviously was nervous as he testified. He spoke through an interpreter, explaining that although he understood the questions in English, he could answer more clearly in his native tongue.

The military intelligence service of the soviet government is unique among similar services of other countries, Krivitsky said, in that it has at its command the members of the communist party in each country.

In the United States, for example, it is able to recruit any of the 100,000 members of the American communist party for assistance in espionage. Such recruiting is done with the utmost care, of course, Krivitsky said, but it is the duty of any loyal member of the communist party to furnish information regarding the armed forces of this country.

All Under Secret Police.

The soviet secret police, formerly known as the OGPU but now termed the "chief department for state security," likewise may call upon communist party members for aid and information, Krivitsky said.

"It should be emphasized that the secret police has unlimited powers," he told the committee. "It acts as police, prosecutor, judge, jailer, and executioner. Its first job is to spy on all soviet citizens in the country, from the ambassador down to the last clerk in any trading organization. The soviet government does not take the loyalty of its officials abroad for granted, any more than it does the loyalty of those within the soviet union.

"The second job of the secret police is to spy upon all Russian émigrés, including both White Russians and those labeled Trotskyites. It keeps records of all the friends and all the enemies of the soviet.

Committee Under Surveillance.

"This committee, for example, no doubt is under the constant examination of the secret police in so far as it exposes the crimes of the Stalin régime.

"Secret police agents of the soviet government are planted in all institutions and agencies, governmental and otherwise, which in some fashion concern the soviet government and its interests. Kidnaping and murder are carried out by the secret police when it is considered necessary.

"Members of the American communist party are required to aid the secret police in any manner they can. It very often happens, however, that a member of the rank and file of the party furnishes information without knowing that he is engaged in espionage.

"The agents undoubtedly are in the

Another increase of 1 cent a quart in the price of milk in Chicago and suburbs will go into effect this morning. It is the second 1 cent raise since Sept. 1, when the federal government began controlling the price paid to farmers. Representatives of the major dairies and several of the smaller distributors announced the new prices last evening.

Milk delivered to homes will now be 13 cents a quart and that sold over store counters will be 11 cents a quart. This will be the second time since 1932 that milk has been 13 cents a quart here. The other occasion was from August, 1937, until May, 1938, after which prices declined sharply.

Blames Federal Control Plan.

Walter Schaub, vice president and treasurer of the Meadowmoor Dairy company, said the federal market control plan was responsible for the latest price boost. He said that prior to July 16 dealers were paying $1.43 for 100 pounds of milk, but today the price for 100 pounds of the fluid is $2.06.

"The increase of one cent a quart on Sept. 8," said Schaub, "was not enough to cover the increased cost of the product to the distributor."

His statements were echoed by Dr. David B. Peck, president of the Bowman Dairy company, and C. L. Dressel, president of the Borden-Wieland division of the Borden company.

Dr. Peck said the rise in cost since the federal marketing order hearing was begun in Chicago last July already has amounted to 1.37 cents a quart for fluid milk. By Nov. 1, he said, the increase will have reached more than 1.8 cents a quart.

Applies to All Suburbs.

None of the dairymen, however, would say why the increase in price to the consumer was applied in the Chicago suburbs that are outside the area affected by the federal control program. Only the city of Chicago and the north shore suburbs, Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka, Glencoe, and Kenilworth, are within the control zone. None of the northwest, west, southwest, or southern suburbs are in the zone.

Nevertheless all the major distributors propose to charge consumers in these areas the same prices paid by Chicagoans.

The current effort to control milk prices through a federal agency is the second in recent years. In 1933, through the Agricultural Adjustment administration, Secretary Wallace attempted to peg retail milk prices at 11 cents a quart. This price was ordered on Nov. 1, that year, but by Dec. 31 the order was withdrawn.

Bootlegging of milk and the widespread practice of underselling the official price at that time forced the withdrawal of the scheme.

U. S. FIRMS MAY HELP EMPIRES TO CREATE GREATEST AIR FORCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 11.—United States industry is expected to help in the plan of Britain, France, New Zealand, and Canada to build in Canada a world dominating air force, provided the arms embargo provision of the American neutrality act is repealed. To this end, it was disclosed here today, Canada, Great Britain and France have built up gold reserves in New York, in excess of six hundred million dollars with which to buy aircraft.

Under the contemplated plan to make Canada the empires' air capital, heavy purchases would be made in the United States and, at a later date, according to the understanding in Ottawa, some United States companies would establish subsidiary plants in Canada.

Semiofficial estimates of the ultimate war investment to be made in Canada by the four empire governments involved runs into hundreds of millions of dollars.

Goering's Rockford Kin Hopes for Nazi Downfall

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 11. [Special].—Edward Gohring, 43 years old, of Rockford, is a first cousin of Germany's Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, but he said here today he hopes some one will rid Germany of the leadership of Adolf Hitler and Goering. Gohring changed the spelling of his name when he became an American citizen in 1916, five years after his arrival in the United States. His father and Goering's father were brothers. As a boy he played in Stuttgart, Germany, with Goering.

Firemen Show Off Their Truck in Blaze of Glory

Odin, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—The volunteer fire department almost burned up the village's new pumper truck when it was delivered today—showing cheering citizens how it works. The firemen backed their truck up to the coal mine pond. It sent a stream of water from the pond high into the sky, and a stream of sparks from the exhaust low into the dry leaves. The firemen were still marveling when flames eight feet high enveloped the truck. They sent what was left of the truck back to St. Louis to be repaired.

Icy Issue in 100 Cabooses Gives Law a Hot Box

The caboose goes on the end of the train. The ice water goes in the caboose. The dipper goes in the ice water. But the thing that's puzzling the Illinois Commerce commission is this:

Where does the ice water ice go?

It melts, you'd say. Well, that isn't what the commerce commission means. The commission is thinking of ice before it melts.

Aloofness! That's Question.

Should it go into the water that goes into the container that goes into the caboose that goes on the end of the train? Or should it remain somewhat aloof from the water in a separate container, so that the ice cools the water, but does not mix with it?

It's a burning question that has made the commissioners' blood run hot and cold for 15 months now. Both sides have tried to sway them at 18 hearings with evidence and argument that fill 500 pages.

Unions Demand End of It.

The matter was brought up by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad. The brotherhood protested that the company put the ice in the water in the railroad's 100 cabooses.

The objection is this: The ice is transported a quarter of a mile from the railroad yards to the cabooses. A. A. Swarzbach, attorney for the brotherhood, says dust, cinders, and sometimes snow accumulate on the ice. The ice water formed by placing such ice in water, he asserts, is insanitary.

He wants the water cooled by contact with a separate container of ice. And he wants the dipper thrown away for paper cups.

Deny Jurisdiction Coolly.

Paul R. Conaghan, attorney for the railroad, replied that the commission has no jurisdiction.

The commission heard final rebuttals yesterday and then retired to consider. A decision is expected within a few weeks.

The commission tried to settle the question last November by ordering the railroad to install new containers with separate ice compartments, but the railroad stepped in with a petition for a rehearing and thus extended the debate for nearly a year.

Attorney say the cost of the extended legal battle has mounted to thousands of dollars to both sides and the commission. And the brotherhood asserts that the railroad could have installed the containers in the first place at a total cost of $500.

Finland Mobilizes to Stand Off Attack by Russians.

U. S. to Support Finns

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—Officials, carefully studying dispatches from Moscow tonight recounting impending negotiations between Russia and Finland, were prepared to throw the diplomatic weight of the United States of America, if necessary, into an effort to preserve peace in the Baltic. It was reliably understood here that Norway, Sweden, and Denmark were prepared to make similar moves. First word as to the Russian demands on Finland was awaited.

The Swedish, Norwegian, and Finnish ministers said tonight that they had not received word from their capitals as to the possible action their governments were taking. An official discounted reports that Sweden, Norway, and Finland had asked the United States to join in simultaneous diplomatic steps at Moscow.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Oct. 11.—Finland's preparations to defend herself against attack from soviet Russia will be completed by tomorrow when 125,000 persons, including 65,000 women, approximately a third of the population of Helsingfors, have arrived at temporary places of refuge in towns and on farms on the western coastline along the Gulf of Bothnia.

These towns, whose houses are spaced far apart and whose 50 yard wide streets are a development from the disastrous fires of previous generations, are exceptionally well equipped to suffer little loss through any air raid attacks.

More than half of the inhabitants of Tampere [Tammerfors], north of Helsingfors, and of Viipuri [Viborg], a city of about 73,000 population near the soviet border, have been removed.

Admit Full Mobilization.

It is now admitted that complete mobilization has been carried out in Finland and that both the army and home guards are prepared for immediate action.

Finland's precautions have been taken because of the soviet government's recent hasty methods of diplomacy by which the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania in rapid succession have submitted to Moscow's "suggestions" that the Red army, the fleet, and aviation should be permitted to have bases, garrisons, and air fields in their territory.

Finland already has rejected one set of Russian demands, and, should they be revived, they will be rejected again by the government, which, however, has expressed willingness to enter discussions. Finland's official representatives arrived in Moscow today.

Some Concessions Possible.

Military authorities have informed THE TRIBUNE that Finland even is willing to make certain concessions, but both Finland and Sweden are determined to resist Moscow's ambition to gain a portion of the Aaland Islands, controling the Gulf of Bothnia, for a naval base.

Barter English Tin and Rubber for Soviet Timber.

A resume of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech in the British house of commons today will be broadcast by radio station W-G-N direct from London at 10 a. m. [Chicago time]. Chamberlain is expected to give Britain's reply to the latest peace overture of Fuehrer Hitler of Germany.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 12, Thursday (AP).—The British navy was reported today to have captured the 13,615 ton German steamer Cap Norte. The report, issued by the British Press association, said the Cap Norte, a ship in trade between Germany and South America, had sailed from the Brazilian port of Pernambuco Sept. 17.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Russia and Great Britain sprang a new surprise tonight by signing a barter agreement estimated to involve around $48,000,000 worth of goods yearly.

An official statement issued by the ministry of supply announced that the agreement provided for exchange of Russian timber for tin and rubber. It goes into effect immediately.

The pact was signed in London late tonight by M. Felin, soviet trade commissar, and Leslie Burgin, British supply minister. They have been negotiating secretly for the last fortnight at the same time that Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany has been consulting Dictator Josef Stalin in Moscow.

Even Trade of Goods.

Although the official statement stressed that the agreement is purely commercial, it is expected to have a widespread reaction in Europe.

Trade exchanges under the agreement will be evenly balanced. Supplies of tin and rubber sent to Russia from Britain will be limited to an equal amount, based on the current market value, of consignments of soviet timber shipped to England. In effect, payments will be mere bookkeeping transactions, since no cash will be interchanged

Timber will be brought from Russian ports in ships convoyed by the British navy, it was reported. Tin and rubber will be bought on the London market to be sent to Russia.

Speculate on Nazi Attitude.

There was speculation in political circles tonight about the attitude of Germany, a new friend of Russia, toward the pact. Timber, from which cellulose, an important ingredient of explosives, may be obtained, is on the German contraband list. Ships carrying timber to England, therefore, presumably would be subject to attack by German submarines.

Explaining the speed with which the negotiations were conducted, the supply ministry said that between now and the end of next month Russian White sea ports become icebound. It is necessary, therefore, to get the vessels out quickly. After shipment from Russia's far northern ports becomes impossible because of ice, the timber, it is understood, will be sent to England by the Black sea and Mediterranean route.

Goods Already Loaded.

One object of the pact, it was revealed, will be to release already loaded goods which have been held up by both sides since the war started.

The agreement, it was understood, limits the quantities of goods to be exchanged to the normal consumption before the war. A representative of the British ministry of economic warfare took part in negotiating the agreement, it was reported, and apparently was convinced that the tin and rubber are intended for Russian consumption and that there would be no balance for transfer to Germany.

There was no official indication in the supply ministry's statement, however, as to whether the pact specifically prohibited the re-exportation of the rubber and tin from Russia to Germany.

Well informed sources contended that, since Russia's normal imports of tin and rubber from Britain will not be increased under the agreement, if Russia re-exported these commodities to Germany she would be depriving herself of her normal requirements.

Supply Minister Burgin is expected to reveal further details of the agreement in the house of commons tomorrow and announce that the barter deal is only the first of a series of similar pacts with Russia. It was suggested in political circles tonight that Russian wheat in exchange for industrial machinery from Britain may form the subject of further agreement.

158,000 BRITONS IN FRANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary of state for war, told the house of commons today that 158,000 British soldiers and 25,000 vehicles of war have been sent to France in the last five weeks.

Hore-Belisha, who gave the country the first definite information about the British expeditionary force since the war began, asserted that the British forces in France are under French command.

"But the British commander in chief [Viscount Gort] may appeal to his own cabinet," he added.

The war secretary said the understanding between the British and the French was "complete and wholehearted." He declared he did not think it would be necessary for the British commander in chief to exercise his right of appeal to the cabinet.

"The unity of the command is assured!" he exclaimed.

Corps Commanders Named.

He disclosed that two corps commanders, Lieut. Gen. Sir John Dill and Lieut. Gen. Alan Francis Brooke, and Chief of Staff Lieut. Gen. H. R. Pownall had been appointed for service in France.

Hore-Belisha told the house in detail how the British troops were transported across the dangerous English channel "without a single casualty."

He said the government had "more than fulfilled the undertaking recently given to France" by sending an expeditionary force at a specified time. He said the number of troops was greater and better equipped than in 1914, when, he said, 148,000 men were sent to France in the first six weeks of the world war.

Says Base Is Created.

Declaring that the "major operation is over," the war secretary asserted:

"We have created our base and lines of communication organization so as to assure a regular flow of supplies and ammunition of every kind and to receive further contingents if and when we decide to send them."

Plans for transporting the highly mechanized expeditionary force and maintenance stores to France were worked out by a small group of war office experts, Hore-Belisha said. Convoys, he said, crossed the channel on the average of about three a night. He stressed the complications of moving a modern army, pointing out that in 1914 only 800 mechanized vehicles were sent to France with the troops, compared with 25,000 this time, including tanks weighing more than 15 tons each.

As a precaution against possible air attacks, he said, more remote landing places were chosen in France and the vehicles and troops were moved in small groups at night.

Hore-Belisha said nearly 60 per cent of the British troops in the world war were infantrymen relying on rifles, bayonets, and two machine guns for each battalion. He stated that now only 20 per cent are infantrymen. Each battalion, he said, is equipped with 50 Bren guns, 22 antitank rifles, and other weapons.

Churchill Makes Report.

Prior to Hore-Belisha's statement, Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, reported on the progress of the navy's campaign against German submarines.

"From Sept. 24 to Oct. 9 we have lost by U-boat action 5,809 tons and we have taken from the enemy 13,615 tons, leaving a balance in our favor of 7,806 tons," he said.

There have been no British shipping losses since Monday, Churchill said, so the figures actually cover 16 days. During this period 50,000 tons of new merchant ships prepared before the war for such an emergency have entered trade, so "we are 58,000 tons better off," he declared.

craft guns pointed skyward. Defenses against aerial attack also were in readiness at other vantage points.

Boys of 14 and 15 years were recruited in a voluntary civic guard throughout Finland to augment the regular army reserves in carrying on large scale emergency preparations.

The navy was said to have been getting in readiness for a possible crisis since spring. It consists of two 3,900 ton coast defense vessels, five submarines, six gunboats, 21 minesweepers, six minelayers, and 19 patrol boats.

Red Warships at Tallinn.

The regular army, whose strength was placed at about 300,000, already had advanced its preparations for active duty. Official estimates were lacking but observers said that with her reserves, Finland could put 600,000 men in the field.

All schools were closed. The bourse was ordered closed indefinitly.

Many of those leaving Finland went to Sweden. The Finnish steamer Wellamo arrived in Stockholm today with 250 passengers in its quarters which normally accommodate only 100.

The Danish radio reported in Copenhagen tonight that three soviet Russian warships had arrived in Tallinn, Estonia, across the Baltic south of Helsingfors, for what was described as a "friendly visit." A fourth soviet ship was on the way there.

Meanwhile, Estonia's cabinet headed by Premier Kaarel Eenpalu resigned to permit reorganization of the Estonian government on a broader basis.

It also was announced in Tallinn that a joint Estonian-Russian commission had reached an agreement permitting soviet troops to enter Estonia on Oct. 18 to take stations at previously designated points where Russia was granted the right to establish air and naval bases.

A soviet midnight news broadcast announced from Tallinn that the chief of staff of the Estonian army, Gen. Johan Laidoner, had "accepted an invitation to come to Moscow."

See Some Hope in Germany.

MOSCOW, Oct. 11 (AP).—Nervous northern European states were reported unofficially tonight to be looking to Germany—if she could be released from her war on the west—to aid them in halting soviet Russia's bloodless military and diplomatic conquests.

These powers were described as urging Great Britain and France to end hostilities against Germany, believing that if Germany were at peace with the western powers she could prevent Russia from dominating eastern Europe.

Finland, whose delegation arrived here today for talks with soviet leaders, and Sweden were reported to be especially anxious over the turn of events in the Baltic and hopeful that France and Britain could see their way to an early peace.

[The British foreign office declined to comment on the report that Sweden and Finland were urging peace.]

Will Learn Reds' Demands.

The Finnish delegation, headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, one time premier and now minister to Sweden, arrived in Moscow at a time when soviet troops were massed on Finland's border and Russian men, warplanes and warships were concentrated elsewhere in the Baltic region.

The Finnish-soviet talks will begin tomorrow afternoon and Dr. Paasikivi expects to learn just what Russia wants and then return to Finland to consult his government.

The arrival of the Finnish delegation came on the heels of the announcement of a soviet pact with Lithuania. This, added to previous accords with Estonia and Latvia, completed transformation of these three small Baltic states into virtual soviet protectorates.

Turkish Talk Drags On.

The Lithuanian pact provided for the return to Lithuania of her historic capital Vilna and the Vilna region.

Finland, like the other three states, once was part of the Russian empire.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

What do you think of Hitler's plan to move millions of Germans from other foreign countries into the reich?

Where Answered.

In the loop.

The Answers.

Stephen Pagano, 1852 Cleveland avenue, plumber—Hitler's plan is unfair to the Germans who have moved away from their homeland and have established homes and businesses in other countries. Many of them have been away for years.

Frank Philips, 1716 Larrabee street, real estate broker—I think it is a good idea. Perhaps it will make for peace in this way—it will bring all Germans together under their own government. Hitler won't have to go to war for "persecuted minorities."

Mrs. Catherine M. Pavlak, 3352 South Paulina street, housewife—It would be a good thing. Hitler has kept the world in turmoil attacking first one nation then another to aid Germans living in those countries. Maybe the world would have peace.

A. J. Smutney, Oak Lawn, village clerk—To a certain degree, Hitler's plan to segregate his people is an excellent idea. Perhaps it really will make them more contented. At any rate it will eliminate Hitler's wars over German minorities in other countries.

Miss Angela Princess, 1718 Morse avenue, radio dramatist—The plan might lead to lasting peace in Europe. It would put an end to Hitler's argument that he must make war to free German minorities in other countries. But I'm sure many Germans will rebel.

GERMANY DRIVES FOR PEACE WHILE IT PUSHES WAR

Air Fleet Gets Order to Raid British Fleet.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Oct. 12, Thursday [11:45 a. m., 4:45 a. m. Chicago time] (AP).—The German army high command issued the following communique today:

"In the east, the Bug river was reached at several points in central Poland.

"In the west, there was minor reconnoitering, troop, and artillery activity. There also was a little air scouting activity over the North sea and in the west. During an air fight south of Lauterbourg a French plane was shot down."

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—German statesmen and military leaders conducted two campaigns today. The statesmen were engaged in a furious drive to obtain peace while the militarists prepared for intensive action against Great Britain and France on the western front and at sea. Heavy action on the western front by the end of the week was forecast.

Although the supreme army command said fighting on the western front was restricted to "minor artillery fire" today, D. N. B., the official German news agency, disclosed that aerial and naval operations against British blockading warships were gaining momentum.

Reports Successful Attacks.

"Starting Oct. 7 joint operations took place in the northern part of the North sea and off the west coast of Norway by light and heavy naval units as well as military aircraft. In the course of these operations, the airplanes succeeded in damaging the British naval forces," the news agency said. "Operations are being continued."

[The British admiralty has consistently denied any damage had been suffered by the North sea fleet in aerial and naval engagements.]

D. N. B.'s account of fighting in the North sea coincided with the issuance of new orders to the German air force for continuance of extensive operations against British warships. Squadrons of planes stood ready to carry out the orders.

The forced landing of three Nazi planes in Norwegian territory and the destruction of three others by British anti-aircraft guns after an attack on British warships revealed that the Germans are using various types of aircraft.

Germans Test Planes.

Military observers suggested the German air command was attempting to discover which type of aircraft and what tactics are best suited for attacking warships.

Meanwhile, Nazi officials who advocate peace said yesterday's speech by Premier Edouard Daladier of France "does not close the door to peace."

[Daladier said France could not accept Adolf Hitler's peace terms because Nazi promises are worthless. He called the offer a ruse and said Britain and France will continue to fight "to obtain a definite guarantee of security."]

The Nazis saw a further omen pointing to peace in the fact that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of England postponed his reply to Hitler's offer to end the war until tomorrow.

Hear Goering Will See Duce.

Rumors persisted that Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, air minister and Hitler's right hand man, will go to Rome to urge Premier Mussolini to hasten negotiations to bring about a peaceful compromise.

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's closest confidant, Heinrich Himmler, chief of all German police, arrived in Milan, Italy, today. The purpose of the trip was not made known.

Diplomats in the Scandinavian nations were attempting to support the peace efforts of conservative groups in Europe while Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands urged both English and Germans to outline their demands in a manner that could be used for peace negotiations.

It was understood Queen Wilhelmina maintains there can be only one victor in Europe if Germany and England and France fail to come to terms and that victor would be bolshevism.

She is supported in this view by Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Finland.

Hitler and his lieutenants meanwhile were putting the finishing touches on a map which will establish Poland's future. As matters stand, less than one-third of conquered Poland will survive as a semi-independent state under German control. The second third was alloted to Russia. The third part will be incorporated into the reich.

In the north a big area of Poland—in prebolshevik days it was Russian territory—will be added to East Prussia. This district, labeled Southeast Prussia, extends from the southeastern border of East Prussia south to the Vistula river. The new German borderline will be roughly marked by the cities of Plock and Modlin, a few miles northwest of Warsaw. From Modlin the borderline extends eastward to the German-Russian frontier.

Germany Gets Lodz.

Near Plock the new German border turns at a right angle southward, running west to Kutno. Lodz, Poland's second largest city, will be inside of the German border, and Czestochowa is to remain Polish.

The state set aside for Jews will include Lublin and the area east of there. In Upper Silesia, the main industrial centers of Katowice, Koenigshuette, and Dombrowa will be returned to Germany. Plans are under discussion to return the Teschen district, with its rich coal fields, to the Czechs, making it part of the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia. Poland acquired Teschen when Czecho-Slovakia was partioned.

The cutting up of Poland involves the reshifting on a large scale of Poles now living in the future German area. It was estimated that 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 Poles living in Posen and West Prussia as well as in newly formed Southeastern Prussia will be resettled in the district left to the Poles by Germany and Russia.

Estates Go to Peasants.

Estates of big Polish landowners are expected to be divided into small farms for the benefit of Polish peasants. Large areas in western and northern Poland, which are to be evacuated by the Poles, are expected to be redistributed among the so-called Volga Germans, of whom 1,000,000 live in Russia. The Russian government, it was reported, has agreed to allow Volga Germans to emigrate to Germany.

It was assumed that the Baltic land barons—those who did not leave Russia after the bolsheviks assumed power—will emigrate to Germany since the Baltic states are now in Russia's sphere of influence. These barons probably will settle in Germany's newly acquired territory as compensation for the land they will be compelled to hand over to the soviets.

HARRIED VOYAGE OF IROQUOIS TOLD AS VESSEL DOCKS

Passengers Bare Feelings After Sub Warning.

New York, Oct. 11. [Special].—The American refugee liner Iroquois—which the German admiralty had said would be sunk near the American coast—pulled safely into its dock tonight and landed 577 Americans brought from warring Europe.

Two thousand cheering persons welcomed the little vessel as it moved up to its mooring after a harrowing 10 day voyage from Cobh, Ireland. Those aboard the ship and on shore shouted hoarsely across intervening water and some sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The one-time cruise ship was convoyed to the entrance of New York harbor by two navy destroyers sent to mid-ocean to meet it after receipt of the sensational warning that it would be sunk under circumstances similar to the destruction of the British liner Athenia.

Passengers Reveal Fears.

The weary passengers and 211 American crewmen gave vivid accounts of their fears of submarine attack, and of an Atlantic storm that tossed the small ship so severely that many aboard were treated for injuries.

"We were so worn out from the storm that the submarine scare came as a sort of anti-climax," said Howell Walker of Washington, D. C., a representative of the National Geographic society.

"Most of the fear and worry was over the seaworthiness of the Iriquois," added the Rev. Michael Grace of Shelbina, Mo. "Almost every one on the ship was bruised from being tossed against doorways and being knocked to the floor."

Know Something's Wrong.

The passengers were told last Sunday by Capt. E. A. Chelton that a threat against the Iroquois had been made, but they received none of the details until they landed tonight. For three days prior to the announcement, however, they had deduced from activity aboard the ship that some unknown danger threatened them.

"When I received the warning from Washington last Thursday," Capt. Chelton said, "I told the heads of the ship departments and instructed them not to speak to the passengers about it. Then I had the ship searched for radios. The passengers had none and we dismantled short wave sets the crew had.

"Both the crew and the passengers knew that something was up, but they didn't know what. When the coast guard cutter came up Sunday morning I told the passengers part of what had happened. When the destroyers came up the next day I announced specifically to the passengers what my information was."

Ship Searched for Bomb.

In the search for explosives aboard the Iroquois, a search ordered by the American government, a rumor that a bomb had been planted caused widespread fear among the passengers for a time.

A thorough search of all passengers' baggage, both below decks and in cabins and staterooms, was made. Each passenger was asked: "Have you a package any one gave you to hold during the voyage?" It was feared that a time bomb might have been given to an innocent passenger.

Radio Operator William McLaughlin said the first information of possible danger to the ship came in a curt radio message from Washington which announced: "Your ship is to be sunk."

"When I got that word 'sunk,' I was plenty scared," McLaughlin said.

German Broadcasts Heard.

From then on the ship's radio was tuned into German and British broadcasts, from which were gleaned further developments on the warning. Passengers were denied access to the radio room, however, to avoid unnecessary hysteria.

Although passengers complained because the ship's captain did not tell them the details of the situation, they generally agreed they were more frightened over the storm that tossed the ship from Friday to Sunday than they were over the submarine and bomb scares.

"We heard rumors for several days that submarines were after us," related Margaret Quilligan, a nurse in St. Katherine's hospital in Omaha, Neb., "but it was so terribly stormy and every one was so sick we didn't have much time to worry.

"The stewards were told not to answer any questions, which increased our anxiety. The suspense before we were told was awful, but so was our sickness. The captain told us not to be frightened, but we were. We were certainly happy to see those American destroyers."

LULL ON WEST FRONT EXPECTED AS BRITAIN PONDERS PEACE BID

LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ON THE LUXEMBURG-GERMAN BORDER, Oct. 11.—Observers here believe that military operations on the western front will be curbed until Fuehrer Hitler's peace proposals are given further consideration by London and Paris.

Baltic developments are considered significant, possibly prefacing a concerted Russo-German submarine and airplane war against England if the Hitler proposals are rejected.

It is believed here that Germany intends to fight defensive war on the western front while, with the aid of Russia, it opens an offensive from the Balkans, possibly through Iran [Persia], against the British empire.

PRESIDENT HEARS NAZI SHIPS CARRY POCKET U-BOATS

Told Small Subs Can Be "Planted Like Corn."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—President Roosevelt received today an unofficial report that Germany has commercial ocean vessels capable of planting 100 ton pocket submarines across the Atlantic "like rows of corn."

After calling on Mr. Roosevelt, John Tazewell Jones, for 22 years an American importer in Brazil, told newspapermen he had related to the President the following incident:

Shortly before the outbreak of the war, Jones said, he had talked with a German ship captain who unloaded three 68 ton locomotives at Bahia. The locomotives were far too heavy for the cranes of the Brazilian port to handle.

Carry 12 Men Each.

Jones expressed amazement at the power of the ship's cranes. He was told, he continued, that the vessel could carry and lower overboard pocket submarines carrying twelve men each and with torpedo equipment capable of sinking large ships.

The German captain also told him, he said, that the ship could pick up the submarines afterward, before they ran short of fuel.

Jones, a former Harvard classmate of the President's, said most of his talk with Mr. Roosevelt had been about trade opportunities in Brazil due to the European war.

Admit Warship May Be Raider.

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP).—The British admiralty admitted tonight the possibility that one of Germany's three 10,000 ton pocket battleships had slipped through the North sea blockade and was operating in the South Atlantic ocean.

"All we have to go on are the statements of the crew of the British freighter sunk Oct. 1," an admiralty spokesman said.

[Survivors of the freighter Clement, sunk off the Brazilian coast, were quoted in dispatches from Bahia, Brazil, as saying their ship was machine gunned by an airplane, then shelled and torpedoed by a warship which some insisted was the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer.]

Nazi Ship Eludes British.

BAHIA BLANCA, Argentina, Oct. 11 (AP).—The crew of the 7,834 ton German merchantman Ussukuma reported upon the ship's arrival here today that it had been chased by British warships near the Cape of Good Hope, off the southern tip of Africa, and had sailed all the way across the south Atlantic to avoid capture. The ship was ordered to depart within three days because it lacked papers for Argentine ports.

60 BOMBERS BUILT FOR BRITISH TO BE FLOWN TO JERSEY

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11 [Special].—Sixty bombing planes built for Great Britain by the Lockheed Aircraft corporation at Burbank, Cal., will be flown to Newark, N. J., for storage pending the outcome of embargo repeal legislation now pending before congress.

It is believed the planes are being sent east for quicker shipment to England in the event the embargo is lifted. The movement will begin next week, the company announced today, and is expected to require about two weeks time. The planes will be flown across the country in leisurely three day junkets by Lockheed's entire staff of 14 test pilots and others hired for the task.

The 60 twin engined bombers are part of an order for 250 such ships, of which 160 were delivered to England before the European war began. The planes, which cost $80,000 each, travel 250 miles an hour.

BRITAIN'S RADIO PROGRAMS CUT TO FOIL AIR FOE

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Sir Samuel Hoare, lord privy seal, told commons tonight that the British Broadcasting corporation reduced its transmissions to a single program daily to prevent navigational aid being given to Nazi aircraft by broadcasting stations. As an additional precaution, broadcasting stations were moved from London.

It was the first explanation of the meager programs that had been made to the public, although it was no secret to experts that radio waves could be used by flyers as a guide.

Sir Samuel promised improvements in the radio entertainment and, in reply to critics, said that departments handling the censorship would hereafter be concerned with issuing news.

NAZIS PUSH FIGHT FROM RHINE TO MOSELLE RIVER

Patrols Center Raids Near Saarbruecken.

BULLETIN.

PARIS, Oct. 12, Thursday (AP).—The French general stax communique for this morning, issued at 10:10 o'clock [3:10 a. m., Chicago time], announced: "Activity of first line elements was extended during the night on several parts of the front between the Moselle and the Rhine [rivers]."

PARIS, Oct. 11 (AP).—Pressure of the German army and air force was reported increasing tonight against the whole French line between the Rhine and Moselle rivers on the western front.

Strong German patrols concentrated their thrusts against French advanced positions south of Saarbruecken and Pirmasens, the French reported, and smaller patrols were keeping all other sectors of the Rhine-Moselle front active. It is in the Saarbruecken and Pirmasens areas that the French have driven closest to the advance positions of the Siegfried line.

French reports said the Nazi patrol attacks were broken by machine gun fire which swept the barbed wire defenses in front of the French positions.

Nazi Planes Get Busier.

Despite heavy fogs hanging over the valleys in the no man's land between the Maginot and Siegfried lines activity of German scouting planes was reported to be increasing. The planes were said to be staying mostly over their own lines and taking photographs of French positions from a distance of a few hundred yards.

The French general staff's communique tonight stated:

"The activity of the enemy patrols continues and is increasing between the Moselle and the Saar [rivers]. Artillery fire on both sides in the same region."

The morning communique said: "Strong enemy patrols were repulsed anew during the night south of Saarbruecken and in the region south of Pirmasens."

Minor Activity, Nazis Report.

[The German high command reported yesterday: "In the west, after the night passed quietly, there was minor artillery activity during the day."]

The Germans appeared to be particularly interested in the extent to which the French have dug trenches and strung barbed wire in the last week.

One method used by the Nazi infantry to get this information is to send out 10 or 12 men armed with hand grenades.

Forces of 150 Make Raids.

These steal forward until detected, then take cover and hurl grenades while Nazi raiding parties of 100 to 150 men are brought up. German machine guns in the rear then join with the automatic rifles in the advance skirmish line in firing at the French post that is the object of the raid.

French said that barbed wire had stopped the Germans and that the Nazis had been unable to seize any French prisoners in three days of such raiding.

The French announced that up to yesterday their blockading fleet had intercepted 150,000 tons of contraband consigned to Germany. Metals, food and gasoline were included.

MOSCOW BARES MASSACRE OF POLISH PRIESTS

MOSCOW, Oct. 11 (AP).—The Moscow newspaper Bezbozhnik [the Godless], organ of the antireligious movement, indicated today that a large number of Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox priests were "liquidated" when soviet Russian troops marched into White Russia and partitioned Poland.

The newspaper asserted that many priests barricaded themselves "with capitalists and Polish officers in Catholic churches and met the Red army with machine gun fire."

The paper said that church and monastery lands had been turned over to workers and peasants.

It asserted that "priests gave antitank prayers hoping to prevent Russian tanks from crossing the Dneister river where the Poles blew up the bridge."

TUNING AMERICAN INDUSTRY TO WAR IS HUGE PROBLEM

Peacetime Orders Needed by Manufacturers.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

Potentially the strongest military power in the world, the United States of America is among the weakest nations in ability to convert potential strength into striking power.

Only China and Russia exceed the United States in man power. In quality and education of its man power this nation is unexcelled, and modern war demands education and intelligence. Soldiers no longer are herded around a battlefield in close order. They must act often as individuals and rely upon their own judgment.

The American soldier excels because he is individualistic and amenable to military discipline, knowing that it is necessary. Only Germany rivals this country in the number of technicians used in modern warfare.

Supplies are Major Problem.

One of the major problems involved in putting an adequate army into the field is supplies and equipment. In the event of war a large force could be obtained from volunteers. The selective service act would bring in any additional number necessary.

Then the problem of equipping and arming the troops would become acute. In the world war 18 months were required to get an army of 500,000 men equipped and into the field.

Within the borders of the United States of America may be found all the food and virtually all the raw materials necessary to carry on a war indefinitly. The biggest worry would be getting rubber from the British East Indies, but tin, manganese and coffee always could be obtained from South America.

Production Is Superior.

Industrial production in quantity in America is superior to that of any other nation. But the extreme use of machine tools, as opposed to handwork in this production system, makes it inflexible for conversion to production of war material except in cases where the peacetime products, for example motor trucks, are needed in time of war. Other major powers tool their factories for the production of military needs in time of peace and build vast stores of equipment.

Blunders in the Spanish-American war of 1898 showed this country the need for a general staff to study and supervise the training, transportation, supply and health of the army. The world war, in which four million men were called to arms, proved the need for perfection of procurement plans before the outbreak of hostilities.

In passing the national defense act in 1920 congress recognized the need to plan national defense in advance of the outbreak of war. The defense act, however, did not provide for equipment needed by a large defensive army. It did provide for a study of the subject and a survey of industry.

As a result of this survey the war and navy departments now know what factories can be converted to the production of military supplies. They have eliminated the possibility of companies bidding against one another as was done in the world war.

Both departments have distributed specifications for material. In some instances they have succeeded in having educational orders filled, and a few factories have the tools, jigs and dies for the manufacture of munitions. The educational orders rarely have resulted, however, in the production of more material than is needed for training purposes.

Mobilization in a nonindustrial country is simple. When Italy went to war against Ethiopia, King Haile Selassie simply decreed that every one was mobilized, and all boys old enough to carry a spear were sent to Addis Ababa. Married men were told to bring their wives to cook for them, and single men were told to bring any women without husbands. Only the lame and the blind were exempted. Those who did not respond were hanged.

Compete with Labor Market.

The American soldier is the most expensive in the world. To get the educated type of men required for the army in peacetime, recruiting stations must compete with the labor market. This means the army must be attractive, the soldier must be well fed, well clothed, well housed, and well equipped. The great expense of supporting the American soldier is in contrast to the cost of supporting men in the huge armies of other powers which give their soldiers only barest necessities.

Other powers, except Great Britain, have conscripted their soldiers in time of peace, trained them for two or three years and then kept them in reserve for many years. [A British law conscripting men 20 years old for six months' training became effective last May 26.] Every man trained in Europe's conscript armies is equipped to fight and keeps his equipment ready at all times until his reserve duty is ended.

That is how Germany, in 1914, was able to put 2 million armed men on her frontiers in six weeks, and had 4½ millions ready for action before the combat started.

America has no such reserve force.

The partly trained civilian soldiers in the National Guard would not be considered a striking force in the event of war.

Although the seas which separate the United States of America from Europe and Asia give some protection for mobilization of men and supplies for a defensive war, the nation needs a mobile field army of 110,000 regular army troops. This is in addition to the present regular army which is scattered all over the nation and its possessions, guarding the Panama canal and other strategic points.

One solution to the defenselessness of the United States of America is to build up strategic reserves and enough military supplies for several years. It is doubtful, however, whether congress will take such action until a war appears to be a certainty.

LITHS JOYFUL AS REDS RETURN VILNA TO THEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Oct. 11.—With wild demonstrations of joy, the Lithuanians early today welcomed news from Moscow that their government had obtained the return of Vilna [Wilno], together with Grodno, Lida, and a large strip of the Vilna corridor. In this strip are 600,000 inhabitants, of whom about a third are Lithuanians.

The return of Vilna was agreed to by Russia in return for military concessions by Lithuania.

Fear is expressed in Moscow that peace will be achieved in western Europe and that Germany will turn against Russia.

WRITER SEIZED AS SPY ON TREK ACROSS POLAND

Fears Raised After Bombs Hit Ukrainian Towns.

(This is another of a series of dispatches by Alex Small, who was The Tribune's correspondent in Poland. In previous articles he told of the flight of the government from Warsaw and the panic of refugees under German bombing. Mr. Small writes from Amsterdam in order to avoid the censor.)

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 11.—Before dawn on Sept. 16 we resumed our odyssey in eastern Poland. Our goal was Sarny, first important railway junction north of Kostopol, where I cherished the hope that we would find trains running toward Vilna.

Horses and farm carts hauled us through the sands of Wolyn province. We headed for Berezne, 16 miles away, which was the limit to which our horses were allowed to go. There were no further horses to be had at Berezne and we soon found the reason.

Berezne had had its first German air bombardment the day before, evidently by the same plane we had seen at Kostopol. There was no industry except a little sawmill at Berezne, no railway, no main roads and no troops.

Drops Incendiary Bombs.

The bomber, we were told, flew so low that he was able to pick out the Jewish synagogue and school beside the market place and let them have it first with some light incendiary bombs. Then he had covered the whole block of houses—40 in all—with incendiary bombs. We saw blackened heaps of rubbish still smoldering and only blackened chimneys emerging from the ruins. The fire had spread with such rapidity that few possessions were saved.

All the remaining stores were shut and the people were piling their goods into carts and fleeing.

Berezne was filled with volunteer spy hunters like all places freshly bombed. They were specially active because there is an unassimilated German colony in that part of Wolyn which settled there 40 years ago.

Explain to the Captain.

We two Americans were hauled in and had to give explanations to a police captain. He was sure we were Germans and the sight of our American passports only deepened this conviction. Making matters worse we had to find an interpreter who talked to us in German. The interpreter tried to explain that I had something to do with the country called America and the city called Chicago, but the captain was dubious. He had never heard of them and was sure they were part of some wily German strategy which would result in another bombardment of Berezne.

In passing, it may seem strange that there are many Poles who never heard of Chicago, but you frequently find them in these eastern regions. From my experience in Poland I judge that the vast majority of Chicago's Polish immigrants came from the west and northwest regions of the country. Among the Ukrainians, where we were, the only foreign people they have heard about were the Russians, whom they hardly consider foreign. Some of them had vaguely heard about the Germans.

Hoodoo Stays with Party.

The interpreter, at length and with difficulty, persuaded the captain that we were not taking Berlin's gold. We had given up the hope of hiring horses and started hiking with our friend Eltar, an official of the Polish foreign office, expecting it would be easier to find horses in some tiny hamlet.

But our hoodoo stayed with us. We had just reached a clump of farm houses on a hill above Berezne and were raising the horse question when the sound of heavy and continuous explosions was heard to the southwest. It was not the cadence of an air bombardment; it was rather heavy field guns in battle, although the intervals between the sounds was extremely irregular.

Disheartening Sounds.

That sound of artillery firing was disheartening and perplexing. I could not find a plausible explanation for it. It must be coming from the direction of the highway from Luck to Rowne. Was it possible that the Germans already had captured Luck and were advancing on Rowne with the Poles opposing them?

It seemed incredible that the Germans already were so far east. Eltar suggested that it might be artillery north of Kostopol, where new guns were being tested.

Two days later we learned the truth. That afternoon there had been a second air attack on Kostopol, only with bombs this time. They had fallen at the station where a train loaded with munitions was standing and had set it afire. What we heard on the hill above Berezne was successive shells exploding.

Farmers Stay at Home.

This shell fire was sufficient to settle the question of hiring horses. The terrified farmers said they were staying home and taking no chances on driving the horses anywhere. One of them said:

"You can't hire a horse even for 1,000 zlotys." [At that time this would have been about $200.]

That statement was decisive. The average peasant in this region, I knew, rarely handled more than 5 to 10 zlotys [$1 to $2] in cash in a month. It was about like the average American saying he wouldn't do something "even for $100,000."

We had no choice but to hike through sand up over our ankles where, with our knapsacks, every mile seemed like 10 and 10 miles like a thousand. Darkness came on.

Search for Lodging.

We halted at a house having wild dreams of some food and water and straw for sleeping. The peasant was willing to take us in but said that he would have to take us to see the soltys, the village headman or mayor, first. With him guiding us we slogged on another few miles.

After another hour we reached a hamlet far off the main road and were told that here was the soltys' house. Dead tired we sat on the ground and in the gloom I noticed shadowy silent figures forming a ring around us. It was too melodramatic for comfort and we had no firearms. A gruff deep voice boomed through the dark and the following dialog ensued:

"What you people want here?"

"We want to talk with the soltys."

"The soltys isn't here."

"Well, can we get lodging or sleep in a barn here tonight?"

"No, no one here will give you people lodging."

"Well then can we hire horses to take us on farther?"

"How far is the nearest station of the national police?"

"It is three kilometers [1.8 miles] away and a good place for people like you to go as fast as possible."

Days Without Food.

Two men offered—for pay—to guide us to the police station and to help carry our packs. We stumbled on. We were feeling pretty low. Successive bombings had got to our nerves. We were suffering from a lack of sleep, and finally hunger and thirst. We had had little to eat that day, could find no drinkable water, the peasants and villagers refused to sell milk and here was the prospect of slogging on indefinitly in the dark. Now I know what the expression "three kilometers" means when used by Polish peasants. It may be a day's journey.

On the way our guides explained the menacing reception we had just received. The man who had talked with us, they said, was really the soltys. It seemed that our first guide, who had preceded us into the hamlet, had given a warning that we were Germans. He had heard us talking a strange tongue, French, the only language all three of us were able to use conveniently.

Meaning of 3 Kilometers.

Then, the guide admitted, the nearest national police station was more nearly 10 kilometers [6.21 miles] away than three, as I had suspected. Every step through that sand now was backbreaking and I was ready to sleep beside the road rather than go farther.

Just then we entered another village. Our Polish friend Eltar went straight to the soltys of this village, showed his credentials as an official of the foreign office, which still commanded some respect, and demanded that the soltys let us sleep in his barn. This man proved to be accommodating, and even provided a huge jug of milk.

The next morning he seemed amiable enough to learn the dreadful facts about our nationality. With pride the soltys told us that he knew about America and that in fact, 30 years before, he had been a factory worker in Detroit. There the amiability ceased. The only breakfast we could have was some hot milk, which went down with stale bread from our knapsacks.

Workers Collect Pay.

In the soltys' best room—meaning one with a bed and sewing machine—two officers who had just arrived in the village were gorging on eggs which they wouldn't pay for.

It was Sunday and the local hands were collecting pay for the work they had done for the commune. They were picturesque in long Ukranian blouses and with rags lashed around their legs to take the place of boots. But on the horse question they were obdurate—no one would risk taking horses out of the village no matter what the price.

Presently we found a strange vehicle. It was a small handcar which ran on the light narrow gauge rails through the village main street.

Ride on Military Handcar.

The soltys told us in alarm that it was military and that dire things would happen to us if we touched it. We told him we would take the risk and started off with two village boys to pump the car. Sure enough, we presently were held up by a police patrol but they, unlike the villagers, were somewhat impressed by our credentials as a foreign office official and correspondent from America and let us continue.

The narrow railway wound in and out through barriers of barbed wire and mounds marking casemates of the defense line along the river Slucz. This was a line that the Poles had built against the Russians.

We saw detachments of soldiers and the special border police force which the Poles call "kop" around the fortifications. In one place I noticed a whole platoon rushing toward the river as if going into action and with much gesticulation among the officers.

Reach End of Line.

They were peering through field glasses at the opposite bank. In this quiet part of Poland, where the only troubles seemed to be the lack of food, drink, tobacco, and communications, this performance seemed inexplicable. I was due to get an explanation that night.

The handcar took us to the end of the line which was at a village named Tynne, where we found men of the Kop organization quartered in a dilapidated country house. They promised to requisition horses for us which would take us 33 kilometers [20.49 miles] into the town of Sarny.

While we were waiting for the horses at Tynne we heard the buzz of airplane motors and had to scurry into the woods as usual. Twice they came over and one time I noticed nine flying in formation. They dropped no bombs. Although they were very high, I thought they were not much like the German planes I had seen.

Flyers from the East.

I also noticed they came from the east and returned to the east. Things were becoming more mysterious. If I had not been concentrating on the hunt for food—which had the magnificent result of netting some fresh picked tomatoes—and if I had not been fatigued I might have connected the plane flights with the agitation I had seen that morning around the fortifications.

Little good it would have done, however, since I had no means of getting my story to the outside world.

In our horse cart we jogged along through fields where the road often was imperceptible to my eyes. Twice we piled out when we sighted planes. They seemed to be flying straight north and south, apparently observing the fortified line along the river and also the railway which was almost parallel with it a few miles distant.

70 Miles in Five Days.

At nightfall on Sunday, Sept. 17—a date that all three of us are little likely to forget—we reached Sarny. A kindly secretary at the communal administration building offered us hospitality in his home for the night, and produced bread, tea and a big pot of jam.

Gloomily I took stock of the situation. I had taken five days to get from Rowne to Sarny, a distance which, by railway, is 70 miles. At this rate it would take 24 days more to reach Vilna and a functioning telegraph office. Our hospitable official already had told me to give up hope of any trains going out of Sarny to the north and any hope of sending telegrams.

Sarny had had its first air bombing that afternoon, one of the first bombings for which I arrived too late. Bombs had fallen all around the railway station which was a fairly important junction. Other bombs, apparently aimed at the town's waterworks killed a score of people. Our friend, Eltar, was optimistic, however, about our future progress. He was sure that in Sarny we would be able to buy a horse and get proper military passes.

Contract for 2 Horses.

Talking with the communal secretary I learned that one horse, under conditions in that country, could not make more than 30 kilometers [18.63 miles] per day. A pair of horses, he said, might make even 50 to 60 kilometers [31 to 37.62 miles] with luck.

He left us, then returned to say that he had found a horse dealer who, the following morning, would sell us two horses for 1,000 zlotys [$200, approximately]. I agreed, anticipating recuperating a good part of this outlay by resale of the horses at Vilna, where we expected now to arrive in eight days. Things seemed rosy.

Dajla Gelblung, held by Germans as Polish sniper, according to British censor.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The British censor passed a picture of a young Polish woman, Dajla Gelblung, which was identified as a photograph of a sniper now held by the Germans and charged with shooting at Nazi troops. The British say the Germans reported capturing her at Brest-Litovsk as she tried to escape in a Polish army uniform.

BUILDERS OF CHICAGO

By CALEB

NO roster of Mid-Western civic and business leadership would be complete that failed to include the name of Philip Danforth Armour. For around that name is woven a saga of pioneering in domestic and foreign distribution of foodstuffs that has contributed enormously to the prestige of Chicago among world provision-centers. Like Swift, he was identified with refrigerated shipping that brought Western stock-raiser and farmer into profitable proximity with Eastern consumers; and Armour's was also a unique genius for organization that the world needed.

The little town of Stockbridge, in Madison county, N. Y., was the scene of Armour's birth, and the date May 16, 1832. There, on a comfortable farm, he was fourth in a family of six sons and four daughters. According to the record: "From his father he inherited frugality and industry, and a love of the simple life; from his mother, a sunny, joyous disposition, and a generosity which was to crystallize in large benefactions later." . . . A truly enviable legacy!

Following little-red-schoolhouse learning, and study at a so-called academy, young Armour caught the unrest of the "California gold fever," and with a band of companions made the long covered-wagon journey across the plains. Failing to find gold, however, he resourcefully started building sluices for other miners; and in four years' time had a nestegg with which to return East. A short stay home—and he again migrated; this time to Milwaukee, where he presently formed a grain and commission partnership with Frederick B. Miles.

The Civil War was by now in full flower, and in 1863 Armour dissolved his partnership to form the packing firm of Plankinton and Armour with a Milwaukee merchant and provision dealer. The Union armies desperately needed meat, and the opportunity was golden: the new business soon became one of the busiest in the country.

In 1867, Armour and Company was organized, and in 1875 Philip D. Armour moved to Chicago to take over its personal direction. In 1892, he founded the Armour Institute of Technology, one of the country's finest schools of its type—and at the time of his death, Jan. 6, 1901, "he owned more elevators than any other house in the world, had 50,000 employes on his pay roll, and was exporting food to every civilized country on the globe." . . . Such, in brief, is the life-sketch of a premier upbuilder of the Chicago of today, famous alike for his business acumen and benefactions, and endeared to innumerable young men to whom the educational by-products of his career have been the lifelong mainstay of their own.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

CLARK ALLEGES EFFORT TO STIR PEOPLE ON WAR

Charges Roosevelt with Inflammatory Acts.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator Clark.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] charged in the senate today that the Roosevelt administration is attempting deliberately to inflame the American people by actions and speeches of a warlike nature.

President Roosevelt's order transferring control of the Panama Canal Zone from the military governor to the army itself, Senator Clark said, is lawful only when the United States is engaged in war or "when war is imminent." Therefore, he declared, the order amounts to a certificate by the President of the United States "either that a state of war exists in which we are engaged or that war is imminent, which is preposterous."

Senator Clark made his allegations during a three hour speech condemning the Roosevelt administration's neutrality repealer as an act of intervention in the European war.

Each Side Gains Recruit.

During the day each side in the neutrality debate gained one recruit. Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota, a Republican, came out for the administration repealer, while Senator Vic Donahey of Ohio, a Democrat, declared his opposition to it.

Senate opponents of the arms embargo repealer were disappointed by the loss of Gurney, on whose vote they had counted, but they pronounced Donahey's accretion extremely significant. Like Senator Arthur Capper [R., Kas.], he has the reputation of keeping "both ears to the ground" and never declaring himself until he is certain he speaks the voice of the people.

"The people should not forget that when our implements of war get into action international and neutrality laws are as dead as the unknown soldier," said Senator Donahey. "Our pot of gold should be used 'over here' to take care of the boys who went 'over there.'

"If cash and carry is adopted in 1939, we may have cash and credit in 1940, and cash and boys in 1941."

Gurney for Arms Sale.

"On the same basis that we supply ammunition to a sherif to hunt down a criminal who has violated a law of all the people," said Senator Gurney, "we can now make available at United States ports to democratic nations whose rights have been transgressed the weapons or supplies which, I believe, will be used for their own defense and for upholding the rights of free citizens. This is the time honored American principle."

Senator Clark said the Roosevelt administration had resorted to warlike measures and speeches at a time "when we do not even have a serious diplomatic dispute with any country in the world."

The President's proclamation of a "limited" national emergency, he said, is no such thing.

"It is a proclamation of national emergency without any limitations," Clark declared. "Under it the President can exercise all the powers of a national emergency which he can exercise without specific authority of congress. The only limitation is the limitation voluntarily placed by the President himself in his discussion with newspaper men."

Hits Cabinet Aid's Speech.

"Far more dangerous," Senator Clark said, "because far more calculated to alarm and inflame our people—and perhaps deliberately intended for that purpose—are the irresponsible statements of certain officials who only by reason of their position carry a certain weight of authority.

"An example was the speech on yesterday by Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson in which he sought to inflame the people as to the safety of our own shores by comparing our situation to that of Poland. In my judgment no more idiotic, moronic, unpatriotic remark has ever been made by a man in a high public position.

"To compare the situation of the United States, located between Canada and Mexico, with 3,000 miles of ocean between us and any possible adversary on one side and 7,000 miles of sea between us and any possible adversary on the other, with a superb navy and a magnificent air force, with the situation of Poland caught in a nut cracker, surrounded on three sides by Germany and the other side by Russia, is an attempt to alarm and excite our people which to my mind is beneath contempt.

Strikes at Predictions.

"This is the same Louis Johnson, who has been flying around the country in an army plane for the last several years preaching the inevitability of war and the certainty of our being drawn in and drawing horrific pictures with grisly prophecies of our own shores being invaded and our own land being laid waste.

"No less reprehensible in my opinion is the effort of the war department to make the nation warminded by preparations for the draft. Already—when we have no quarrel with any nation in the world—with no authority of law whatever, officials are going about the country training draft boards for the purpose of conscripting the youth of our land for military service.

"Mr. President, I say it is a shameful thing when, without the authority of congress, plans are already far under way for drafting boys 18 years old who have not even had the poor privilege of voting for those who pass the laws and determine the policies which would send them to the shambles. I say it is a shameful thing because it can have no other purpose than inflaming the people and making them war minded."

Charges Goal Concealed.

Senator Clark said it was an open secret that the proponents of embargo repeal wanted the United States to take sides and, as "one senator said over the radio," help England and France to "blow Hitler off the earth without getting into the war." But he said an effort had been made to conceal from the people the purpose of quietly taking sides in the war.

Senator Clark congratulated Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.] for having "the courage and the manhood to come forward frankly and disclose the purpose of repealing the arms embargo when he said it was an effective means of aiding Great Britain and France—an expression which breathes the very spirit of unneutrality, the essence of unneutrality, contrary to the whole theory of the neutrality act."

Austin Makes Protest.

Austin protested Clark's account his statement. "It is for national defense that I have said that we should speed up the victory of the allies, because the very last thing in the world that America as a nation will do is to put her sons and daughters in battle," he said. "My sincere view is that we will protect the institutions and the peace of the United States by affording access—the easiest access that is feasible—to the allies for all the resources that we have, short of sons and daughters."

The argument that we should assist the British and French empires because they are fighting our battle was assailed by Senator Clark as being both cowardly and immoral as well as erroneous.

"If I believed for one moment that 'the American frontier is on the Rhine,' that the 'American frontier is the Maginot line,' that 'our first line of defense is the British navy,' or that the British and French are fighting our battle, that they are defending our shores from foreign attack, that their unhappy and persistant pursuit of the game of power politics in Europe makes them the guardians of the safety of the United States, then as an American senator and an American citizen I would scorn the idea of casting a vote for either the arms embargo repealer or the 'cash and carry' or the 'credit and carry' or any other scheme which would make us a huckster of munitions and vital supplies to the saviors of our liberties," the senator declared.

Would Make Tragic Choice.

"Tragic as the choice would be to me, if I entertained any such belief I would unhesitatingly vote for a declaration of war and I would do so with the full knowledge that the initial requests for supplies would soon be followed by demands for loans and credits and then by demands for our man power, the 'men over 18,' as the war draft scheme puts it, the lads with the bayonets, the boys to man the heavy guns, to fly the new planes on foreign fields—the oncoming boys who are the heart and hope of America.

"If I believed that the safety of this nation or the safety of our institutions was involved in this power struggle in Europe, if I believed that Britain and France were fighting to protect us, I would regard the 'cash and carry' or the 'credit and carry' as no more honorable than hiring a substitute for military service—as a national stultification.

"In such a case, I would vote for war and be glad to march again myself and to see my boys march as they became old enough. I would vote for war even though I know full well that such a declaration would put in pawn here at home the dearest of our liberties; that under such schemes as the army mobilization plan and by such agencies as the Morgan-controled national resources board, now temporarily suspended, a dictatorship with totalitarian powers would immediately be set up in this country, and that the rights which had been put in pawn might never be redeemed.

Preserve Democracy, His Plea.

"But, Mr. President, I entertain no such view. I adhere to the opinion that the greatest service that the United States can possibly render to democracy in the world is to preserve democracy in the United States of America. I not only do not believe that it is our duty, but I think that it would be suicidal for us to undertake—not only this year, but every 25 to 30 years—to protect the world-flung colonial empires of France and Great Britain."

The phrases referring to the "American frontier" and the "American first line of defense," which Senator Clark inclosed in quotation marks in his prepared address, were uttered by President Roosevelt at a secret White House conference with the military affairs committee last January, according to senators present. Senator Clark was present at that conference and he is known to have entered a detailed account of the President's remarks in his journal.

Clark conceded that many Americans were sincere in their belief that the interests of the United States are inextricably interwoven with those of Great Britain and France. "With regard to neutrality," he said, "they echo with enthusiasm the frank and candid words of the able and erudite senator from Utah [Elbert D. Thomas, D.], one of the authors of this bill, when he said in a recent radio address: 'Let us give up this dream of impartiality, therefore of neutrality. It is better to take sides and fight.'"

Calls Course Dangerous.

He pronounced more dangerous, because more subtle and more appealing to many persons, "the view that we may or may not be able to stay out of the war, but that in the meantime we should pursue a mercenary course, make every penny out of the conflict that we can, indulge in measures 'short of war,' and let nature take its course.

"That course leads as surely to war as if we were today to declare war and range ourselves upon the side of one set of belligerents on Europe's far-flung battle line, which would probably in the long run be a cheaper and more honorable course than pursuing our mad search of war profits until the inflation of munitions production had brought about a financial and economic situation which dragged us in.

"As against these various views is the position of that great body of our people who desire to stay out of war, who are willing to make some sacrifices of profits in order to stay out, and who will not, I hope, be misled or seduced by the propaganda for taking us into the conflict which is already in full sweep."

Hits Partisan View.

Senator Clark said he concurred whole-heartedly with President Roosevelt's plea for an adjournment of selfishness and partisanship in debating the neutrality issue.

"Only a peculiar mental obfuscation upon the part of a few of the 'kept' columnists and some of the propagandist editorial writers of some of our metropolitan newspapers," he continued, "could have given rise to the suggestion that a Republican who happens to agree with the President upon the great nonpartisan issue of the repeal of arms embargo is a noble, altruistic, patriotic American statesman who has forever foresworn political considerations, while a Democrat, who, sworn upon his own oath as an officer of the government and a servant of his people, still conscientiously adheres to the views vehemently expressed as lately as three years ago by the President of the United States, the secretary of state, and the chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations is playing politics, is a factionalist, or a partisan.

Ready to Back Faith.

"It involves no lack of respect for the President of the United States, no criticism of those of our colleagues who adhere to a contrary view, for those of us who believe that the repeal of the mandatory arms embargo is the first step to war, to rise in our places as United States senators and give reasons for the faith which is within us.

"Holding the conviction to which I adhere that the repeal of the arms embargo is a first step in the path which leads to war—a step to which I am utterly opposed—I would think myself a poltroon and a coward if I allowed any consideration to prevent me from rising in my place and expressing my view. When our feet have been set upon the path to war, when successive demands are made and acceded to under the whip and spur of emergency, it may be too late to dispassionately discuss questions of policy.

"Commitments made, even clandestinely, for matters of national policy which cannot be retreated from without national disgrace. We found that in the last war, although we did not learn the full details until twenty years after the war. To my mind, Mr. President, now is the time for every senator to speak or forever after hold his peace.

Too Late Then to Speak.

"Later when we go through the successive steps which will be asked of extending loans and credits, permitting entry to our ports of armed merchantmen, submitting to increasing partiality as to the violation of our neutral rights, finally a declaration of war, followed by conscription of boys from 18 years and up and the army's industrial mobilization plan which frankly and openly means dictatorship, it will be too late for dispassionate debate. Any one who then opposes the Fascist plans of the war party will forthwith be branded a 'slacker' or a 'traitor'."

Senator Clark denounced the propaganda with which, he said, the "cash and carry" scheme of selling war supplies to belligerents was being presented as an "either or" substitute for the arms embargo. The suggestion that we cannot have the arms embargo and a cash and carry plan as well with respect to other materials he called the "greatest hoax ever perpetrated upon the American people." Moreover, he said, the administration's so-called cash and carry bill itself is filled with loopholes which make it "a sieve instead of a fortress for our national security."

Predicts "Crash and Carry."

"Now they call it cash and carry," he declared.

"Soon it will be crash and carry, and before we know it, it will be clash and carry—carry the debt forever."

Senator Clark said his reason for opposing partisanship in the European war was not due to any fear of reprisals.

"I do not fear that Germany or Italy or Russia will treat us differently than they will treat other neutrals, or when our partisanship has led to more and more open and avowed aid, that they will treat us differently than other belligerents—after we become a belligerent," he said.

"My fear is that we will ourselves be the victims of our own aberration. Once we believe the siren song that one side is our friend, is fighting our battle—so to speak, then our own noble impulses of loyalty, our own fine eagerness for action will take us into the slaughter.

No Half Way, He Says.

"This point I wish to make very clear: We cannot be half way this and half way that when America's national interest is concerned. If we are misled as to what that interest is, if we are convinced by the men who now are urging the first step in partisanship, then we, because of that one mistake of judgment, that one hasty yielding to years of propaganda by own own leaders, will do the rest.

"We will brush aside the distinction now being made that there is a difference between sending our arms in return for gold and giving these arms free. We will brush that aside as the proponents of repeal are now brushing aside the distinction between arms and materials of war. Then, having gone that far, we will brush aside the distinction that there is any difference between giving them arms and sending our own boys over there to use those arms."

A Hat of Metal

Lady Diana model hat to be shown at National Metal congress in Chicago late this month.

The National Metal congress and exposition will show three models of steel hats for women at its meeting at the International amphitheater the week of Oct. 21. Helmet chapeaux come in models affected by the Crusaders, the Spanish conquistadores, and Roman gladiators. Some of them are in steel, others in copper.

BURKE DEMANDS AMERICA AID IN STOPPING HITLER

Urges Arms Ban Repeal for That Purpose.

cution and the infliction of atrocities as the outgrowth of prejudice against race or religion, the inhabitants of other lands should do nothing, say nothing, but recognize and treat the situation as purely domestic. It has been said that protests if made might be considered as unfriendly acts and might lead to serious consequences. Americans have ever been ready to run that risk.

"It has been the view of the American statesmen that we cannot afford to stand idly by while such wrongs are being perpetrated. Our own safety, if nothing else, demands that we express our moral indignation, that we denounce such outrages wherever they show themselves, that we summon the guilty rulers before the bar of public world opinion where they may be held up to the scorn and condemnation of all right-thinking people.

Calls It Our Contribution.

"Thus only can we make our contribution to the great cause of curbing the evil of racial and religious persecution. It must be clear that whatever we may see fit to do in the way of voicing our condemnation of the acts of persecution and other offenses which have made the term Hitlerism odious throughout the civilized world, at least we are under no obligation, in the name of neutrality, to leave on our statute books an arms embargo which is of material aid to him in carrying on the activities which so seriously offend our sense of right—an embargo so favorable to any nation bent on aggression and so detrimental to all others anxious to walk in the paths of peace.

"For myself, I see no justification on any ground for permitting a law to stand that favors Hitler. Must we close our ears to his broken promises? Must we shut our eyes to the fate of one after another of the independent nations of Europe that stood in his path to power and chanced to be not strong enough to resist his advances? Must we blot from our memory his record of religious persecutions? Of racial atrocities? Of the suppression of individual freedom?

Quotes Religious Publication.

"Is there in America any one who doubts that Hitlerism, which is now spreading over Europe, means just what I have described? On the point of religious persecution let me quote from the reliable London Catholic Herald of Dec. 31, 1937:

"'His Holiness has referred in very serious terms to Germany, stating that things must be called by their real names.' "We wish to speak," said the pope, "of the very sad fact of persecution in Germany, because we want to give things their proper name. In Germany there is a religious persecution. It is being said that that is not true. We know, however, that it is a persecution, and a grave one. Seldom has there been persecution which was so serious, so terrible, so painful, and so sad in its deepest consequences. It is a persecution where neither the use of violence, nor the pressure of menaces, nor the deceptions of cunning and lie are missing.'

Refers to Fate of Jews.

"In determining whether we want to continue a law that favors Hitlerism, we can properly consider the attitude and conduct of those who direct that movement toward minority groups, particularly the Jews. The story of recent and repeated atrocities is so fresh in our minds that further proof is unnecessary. I give only this brief statement from an outstanding American citizen whose sources of information are complete and whose veracity is above question. He said:

"'The sufferings of the Jews in Germany have been so horrible, so terrifying, so diabolical, that no man of sensibility would even dare make a public recital of them.'"

Actress Divorced

[Acme Photo.]

MIRIAM HOPKINS.

Reno, Nev., Oct. 11 (AP).—Blonde Miriam Hopkins, actress, won an uncontested divorce today on grounds of cruelty from Anatole Litvak, film director. At the brief, private hearing, Litvak was represented by counsel. He filed a cross-complaint charging desertion, but no evidence was offered in his behalf.

The couple was married at Yuma, Ariz., Sept. 4, 1937. The actress spent her six weeks' residence at a secluded Lake Tahoe resort. She consistently refused to discuss her divorce plans or to pose for news photographers.

Two Regiments of Field Artillery Become Active

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—The war department took first steps today to put into service the inactive 19th and 21st field artillery regiments at Fort Knox, Ky., by ordering six officers there from Fort Myer, Va. The two regiments will be a part of the new 5th division which soon will be concentrated at Camp McClellan, Ala., for winter training maneuvers. The 19th regiment will have truck-drawn 75 millimeter guns and the 21st regiment truck-drawn 155 millimeter howitzers.

SENATORS BLAST MOVES TO LIFT ARMS EMBARGO

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Urging retention of the arms embargo, Senator Gerald Nye [R., N. D.] said tonight that, "If we keep our heads clear and our hands clean, the United States can be a great peaceful force in helping Europe to an adjustment when the war is over."

"This is a grand hour to do our job here," Nye said at a massmeeting in Carnegie hall.

Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va], speaking on the same program, contended that the administration's neutrality bill "opens the front door to our intervention in the warfare now being waged in Europe."

"The real truth is now coming to the people," Holt declared. "Congress was not called in session to enact a neutrality bill. It was called into session to enact a participation bill."

NAZIS EXECUTE COUSIN OF OLD DOLTON FAMILY

Members of the Diekman family, pioneer settlers of the district around Dolton, received word yesterday of the execution before a German firing squad of August Diekman, 44 years old, a second cousin living at Thalle, Germany. He was court martialed for refusing to bear arms because of conscientious objections. Ernest Diekman, first of the family to settle at Dolton, emigrated from Thalle in 1848. Members of the family living in the south suburban area at present are Fred, Frank B., Grace M., and Wesley A. Diekman, and Mrs. Fred Schroeder.

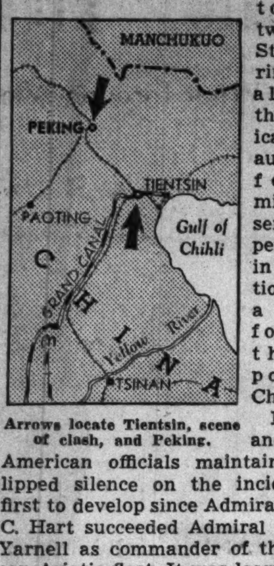
JAPANESE POLICE SEIZE AMERICAN MARINE IN CHINA

Private Held at Tientsin After Clash.

TIENTSIN, Oct. 11 (AP).—Two Japanese railway police were wounded today by two United States marines in an altercation that American naval authorities feared might have serious repercussions in the relations of the armed forces of the two powers in China.



Arrows locate Tientsin, scene of clash, and Peking.

Both Japanese and American officials maintained tight lipped silence on the incident, the first to develop since Admiral Thomas C. Hart succeeded Admiral Harry E. Yarnell as commander of the American Asiatic fleet. It was learned, however, that the Japanese considered it to be of a "serious nature."

Marcell Szymansky, a private in the marines, was held by Japanese police. Another marine, identified as John V. Armonia, was said to have left the scene after the clash, in which one Japanese was wounded in the thigh when he drew a sword. The other Japanese was struck on the head by a revolver butt.

The difficulty developed while the marines were standing guard over freight cars containing supplies on a siding near Tientsin.

Two investigations were under way by American officials, one by Admiral Hart and the other by a board named by Lieut. Col. William G. Hawthorne, marine commander.

The United States maintains two companies of marines at Tientsin and two at Peking.

Chinese Gain in Attack.

Shanghai, Oct. 11 (AP).—Initial success for a Chinese counteroffensive against Japanese forces in Hunan province was reported today by Chinese dispatches, which said the attack was being carried into territory held by Japan for almost a year.

Chinese said they were attacking Japanese forces on the outskirts of Yochow, gateway to Hunan province from the Yangtze river. Yochow is 88 miles north of Changsha, Hunan capital, from which Japan's columns were thrown back last week.

All territory lost to Japan in the last two weeks was reported to have been regained by the Chinese with additional areas on the Hankow-Canton rail line north of Changsha.

Semiofficial Japanese dispatches stated "the Japanese temporarily have halted their campaign to prepare for their next attacks" and lent credence to the Chinese claims.

No Reconciliation

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

MRS. FRANCES R. GARVY.

Dr. Andrew Cosmas Garvy, medical director of the state industrial commission, and his daughter, Mrs. Cecile Garvy Potts, both spent busy afternoons in the county building yesterday.

Dr. Garvy, who is 60 years old, appeared before Judge Donald S. McKinlay who tried vainly to effect a reconciliation between the surgeon and his second wife, Frances R. Garvy. She left him in 1932 and filed suit for separate maintenance. Dr. Garvy now charges her with desertion. At the suggestion of Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, counsel for Dr. Garvy, Judge McKinlay set Nov. 6 for the contested hearing.

Mrs. Potts, who is 30 years old, is seeking to set aside the divorce she obtained in August from William Fernandes Potts, son of Peter Thomas Potts of Miami Beach, Fla., retired president of the Dixie Vortex company. She asserts that she thought she was obtaining a separate maintenance decree and that her former lawyer, John J. Enright Jr., her brother-in-law, influenced her unduly.

Enright was called to the stand by Potts' attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., and denied her charges, giving his version of every step in the divorce litigation. Judge Oscar Nelson continued the hearing to Oct. 21.

PEOPLE'S PEACE GROUP FORMED; DRAFT PLATFORM

Rally Chicagoans to Save Arms Embargo.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The People's Program for Peace, an organization whose purpose is to defeat President Roosevelt's proposed repeal of the embargo on the shipment of arms and munitions to belligerents, was launched yesterday at a luncheon in the Fair store. Offices have been opened at 203 North Wabash avenue.

An intensive program has been planned. Regional meetings will be held throughout the city. A speakers' bureau will supply churches and interested organizations with orators. Pamphlets will be distributed and other steps taken to influence President Roosevelt and members of congress.

Announcement of the organization was made by Paul Hutchinson, managing editor of the Christian Century, a religious journal, who is chairman of the program committee. He said the group will exist only as long as the debate in congress lasts.

Devise Peace Platform.

"This is not an attempt to form another peace organization," said Mr. Hutchinson. "It is a movement to promote a platform on which all Americans who desire to see their country kept at peace can stand. We are acting on the belief that the first desire of such Americans is to stay out of Europe's war.

"A six point program is presented as the best way of making that certain. All the Peoples' Program for Peace asks is that other Americans who agree with this program shall let their senators and representatives, and the public know it."

The six points follow:

1—To maintain the present embargo on arms, munitions and implements of war.

2—To place all other trade with belligerents on a cash and carry basis.

3—To establish quotas for direct and indirect trade with belligerents which will prevent a wartime expansion boom.

4—To prohibit extension of loans or credits by the United States or its nationals to any country engaged in war or to its nationals.

5—To take the profit out of war, including trade with belligerents, by steeply graduating personal and corporate income taxes.

6—To promote improved relations and increased trade with Central and South America.

The Rev. Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, a member of the committee, stated that he found many legislators in Washington who advocate lifting the embargo because they are convinced that the United States cannot stay out of war.

Act on War Conviction.

"Unfortunately," Dr. Tittle explained, "it is on this conviction that they are acting, instead of on the conviction that we can keep out if we use our heads."

Members of the committee include Dr. Albert B. Coe, First Congregational church, Oak Park; the Rev. Dr. Charles Boss, head of the world peace commission of the Methodist church; Sophonisba Breckenridge. University of Chicago; Edith Abbott of the University of Chicago; Stuart McMullen, Northwestern university; the Rev. Dr. Paul S. Minear, Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston; the Rev. Dr. Arthur Holt, Chicago Theological seminary; Dr. Ralph Hamill, president of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene; William J. Grace, Chicago Veterans of Foreign Wars; Prof. George Axtelle, Northwestern university, vice president of the American Federation of Teachers.

Three mass meetings for Hyde Park, Oak Park and Evanston are now being planned.

COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS INSTITUTE APPOINTS A NEW HEALTH DIRECTOR

The appointment of Miss Alice H. Miller as director of public health for the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county was announced yesterday by Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, executive director of the institute. She succeeds Mrs. Adelaide Ross, who resigned. Miss Miller has taught health courses at the University of Florida and served as consultant for the 1939 Florida state health conference. She holds degrees from the University of Texas, Columbia university, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She has been active in collecting data on child health problems and is a co-author of the book, "Health Instruction Guide for Elementary School Teachers."

SEIZED IN THREE ROBBERIES.

Joseph Siemienic, 20 years old, who has been sought since July 12 on warants charging robbery of three gasoline filling stations, was arrested yesterday by Shakespeare avenue police at Cortez and Leavitt streets. Siemienic gave his address as 2450 Augusta boulevard.

NAZIS REPORTED GIVING BULGARIA BIG OIL SUPPLY

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 11 (AP).—Germany has agreed to buy $19,200,000 worth of Bulgarian foodstuffs, paying for $12,000,000 worth of it by shipping Rumanian oil to Bulgaria and the rest in gold, it was learned from reliable sources tonight.

A government communique said only that three weeks of negotiations with Germany on trade relations "ended satisfactorily."

The reported plan of Germany to ship to Bulgaria oil she was believed to need vitally herself puzzled observers here.

DENIES INDUSTRY HOPES FOR GAINS FROM WAR TRADE

Head of Manufacturers' Group Asks Peace.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 11.—Wisconsin's manufacturers, headed by former Gov. Walter J. Kohler and Gov. Julius P. Heil, each the employer of thousands of men, met tonight to help correct the false opinion that industry in America wants war or profits from war. They met at the regional meeting of the National Manufacturers' association.

The chief purpose of the meeting, Howard Coonley, chairman of the board of the Walworth company and president of the national association, said was to dispel the illusion that industry stands to profit from war or is in favor of the United States entering the war. The system of private enterprise, he declared, is at stake.

Seek Cure, Not a "Hypo."

"We know that the fantastic profits credited to industry by loose mouthed critics were nothing more than a delusion," Mr. Coonley said. "We know that spurious surge of unprecedented orders, leading into plant expansion, ends in complete collapse. We have lived through 10 bitter years of warborn depression. We know there is no surcease from depression in another war. We are not looking for a hypodermic needle. We want a cure."

American manufacturers are for peace, for neutrality and for strong national defense and against profiteering, Mr. Coonley said.

"We are for neutrality which will achieve the single objective of maintaining peace," he declared. "Industry believes that congress, charged with the final responsibility, is best equipped to determine the form of neutrality which will insure peace.

"Industry recognizes that one of the most effective ways of enabling this country to stay at peace is for the world to know that we can quickly and efficiently defend ourselves. To the task of national preparedness, industry offers its facilities as public need requires."

Raps False Emergency Cries.

Coonley urged supporting the idea of placing business executives on emergency governmental boards, the bigger the business men the better. "You can trust the business men to produce less false emergency," he said, "and goodness knows we are fed up in this nation with the emergency created atmosphere.

"The better the coöperation given these quasi public agencies by business executives at this stage, the less public reason there will be for unreasonable, unnecessary government control of industry."

MONTREAL PUTS OFF BLACKOUT TESTS 3 MONTHS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 11.—Montreal will conduct air raid blackouts, but not for three or four months. The delay is due to the time needed to educate the public in this precautionary measure, Fernand Dufresne, director of police, announced today.

Dufresne said police had been studying plans for the blackout experiment since the outbreak of the war. A successful blackout of the city would require the coöperation of surrounding municipalities on the Island of Montreal.

The blackouts likely will be held three or four nights in succession, lasting 15 minutes each. Halifax and Saint John on Canada's Atlantic coast, already have conducted successful blackouts. Citizens refusing to cooperate were fined $50. Police today were investigating shots said to have been fired at military guards on Victoria bridge, which links Montreal with the mainland.

FOREIGN OFFICE STRIKE CREATES A JOB PROBLEM

TOKIO, Oct. 12 [Thursday]—(AP)—A diplomatic strike in which 133 employés of the foreign office tendered their resignations presented a grave domestic problem today to Foreign Minister Kichisaburo Nomura.

The resignations, in which the Japanese consul-general and 40 other diplomatic officials in China joined foreign office employés here, were offered as a protest against the proposed creation of a trade ministry that would absorb the foreign trade bureau of the foreign office.

Nomura will refuse to accept the resignations. In that case, the Japanese conception of duty to the emperor leaves the strikers no choice but to remain at their posts. Most of them are secretaries and clerks. The government is expected to let the leaders of the movement quit.

BUDGET OF NAVY MAY REACH 900 MILLIONS IN '41

New Warships Main Item on List.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 [Special].—The navy's budget for the fiscal year 1941, delivered to the bureau of the budget yesterday, is one of the largest, if not the largest, in the peace time history of the United States.

Congress voted to the navy for the current fiscal year $773,049,151, a peace time peak. For the fiscal year 1941 the total is expected to be more than 900 million dollars, depending, in part, on world conditions when the bill comes up early in the regular session of congress.

The principal item in the appropriation for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will be for naval replacements—battleships, cruisers, destroyers, and submarines, and for continuing construction of ships now being built.

Labor Charge May Gain.

If the navy and private yards are put on a 24 hour day work basis this one item probably will total between 350 millions and 400 millions. For the 1940 fiscal year $253,604,712 was appropriated.

The second largest item, covering the pay, subsistence and transportation of naval personnel, will be much larger than the $210,519,217 appropriation for his fiscal year. The new naval bill will consider an enlisted force of 145,000 men instead of about 111,000 which was the strength when the last appropriation bill was passed. The amount in the 1941 bill should be nearer 300 millions.

The 1941 aviation item of 82 millions is expected to be as large if not larger than the amount set for the current fiscal year.

Increased appropriations for the overhead of the great naval bureaus, which exceeded 100 millions this year, and for the marine corps, $29,959,000 are forecast.

50 Millions for Guns.

The ordnance item may reach 50 millions next year because the first of the eight new battleships now in various stages of construction will be ready for armor and armament placements by the end of next year. The current item is about 32 millions.

While details of new construction to be provided for in the next appropriation bill are guarded carefully there is talk of a program that will include two more battleships of 45,000 tons each, eight destroyers, eight submarines and from four to eight 6,000 ton cruisers, a type new in the American navy.

An appropriation to start construction would be required, but costs would not assume major appropriations until the fiscal year 1942 unless construction was rushed.

Since 1933, when the present building program got under way the American bill for naval construction totals $1,247,266,314. It is expected to pass the 2 billion figure by the end of the fiscal year 1942.

Even Sandwiches have SEX!

It may be that in their own sphere, shy little girl-sandwiches secretly adore big hairy-chested male-sandwiches. This possible attraction does not extend to the human race. One of the sadder sights remains a hungry man confronted with a plate of feminine watercress sandwiches. Another is a woman being introduced for the first time to one of Joe's Specials—raw steak and Spanish onions au naturel.

Each sex makes no bones about loathing the other's favorite. But such natural differences have caused no wars and few divorces. You will find few women sports commentators in the American scene—and fewer men giving Advice to the Lovelorn. Few women philosophers—and fewer men professors of household economy. Women continue to mash their thumbs with masculine hammers; men to adorn theirs mistakenly with thimbles when they try to sew. And so it goes . . .

In sandwiches, men and women sometimes compromise on ham-on-rye, about which neither side feels strongly. But when a man stops off at Joe's to indulge his cannibal tendencies, or a woman lingers over the tea-table for another snack of pond-clover embellished with mayonnaise, you will find each regarding the other's idiosyncrasy not only with tolerance but with indulgent admiration. This attitude goes from foods, to moods and magazines.

For however many women leaf through general magazines, it should not surprise you to discover that they turn to their own special magazines to satisfy their deeply feminine tastes. In numbers sufficient to give the Journal and 3 other magazines edited for women half a million more buyers than the 4 largest weekly magazines in America.

The Journal, specializing in the new and perpetual tastes and techniques of womanhood, is different just as women themselves are different. That is why in 3 months it has recorded two newsstand sell-outs, reaching over 1,015,000 copies—added another 35,000 buyers during the first 3 hectic weeks of the war in Europe. Over 3,250,000 women now buy the Journal—give it their natural, undivided feminine approval. You will find it reflected in their reaction to your advertising in the Journal too!

FEDERAL COURT KILLS ICE CREAM MONOPOLY CASE

'Trust' Busters Suffer 4th Straight Defeat.

Monopoly indictments against 20 ice cream corporations and 20 individuals were thrown out of court yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. The court ruled the charges were not made "with sufficient certainty" to meet constitutional requirements and did not show that the northern Illinois district was the proper venue for the action. The opinion also stated that no specific unlawful act was alleged.

This was the fourth straight defeat dealt the Roosevelt administration's trust busting campaign.

Judge Sullivan made his ruling at the end of two and a half days of arguments on a motion to quash the indictments. Government counsel, headed by Leo F. Tierney, assistant United States attorney general, had been confident a quick ruling by the court would be in their favor.

Linked with Milk Cases.

The ice cream indictments were voted Nov. 14, 1938, at the same time the federal grand jury indicted 14 milk corporations and 43 individuals—including several public officials—for an alleged milk monopoly in the Chicago area. The milk indictments were thrown out last July 13 by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. The government since has appealed to the United States Supreme court.

Judge Woodward held that the Sherman anti-trust act under which the milk indictments were drawn had been superseded by legislation empowering the secretary of agriculture to regulate the industry.

The government's next two defeats came in July when anti-trust indictments against four medical associations and 21 individual doctors were dismissed by the District of Columbia federal court, and when convictions of several oil companies and individuals, also for anti-trust law violations, were set aside by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Based on Freezer Complaints.

The ice cream indictments were based upon charges that the defendants conspired to prevent the sale and transportation of counter freezers by small dealers. It also was charged that they obtained the passage of laws, based on contentions that the freezers are unsanitary, outlawing their use, and, finally, refused to sell ice cream mix to owners of the freezers.

The defense contended the indictments did not show that the alleged conspiracy and unlawful acts had occurred within the jurisdiction of the federal court of the northern district of Illinois. The government allegations covered many states.

It was contended further that no specific time or place of the alleged violations was shown and that there was nothing to show that they had occurred in the last three years. This was a reference to the statute of limitations.

In reply, the government insisted that the indictments set forth enough facts to stand up and added that the law does not require that an indictment contain evidence; that proof should be presented later before a court. The successful effort to obtain the passage of laws, Tierney argued, might be innocent enough in itself, but, he said, the government regarded it as part of the alleged conspiracy.

During the last day and a half of the arguments it was noted that Judge Sullivan had been writing busily. At the conclusion yesterday afternoon he asked if counsel were ready to hear his decision. Both sides were surprised, the government elated and the defense dubious. Then Judge Sullivan began to read:

"Venue is laid where the conspiracy was formed, or where an overt act in furtherance of it was committed. The present indictment purports to cover the activities of ice cream manufacturers in 47 states, as well as in several foreign countries. The alleged unlawful acts complained of and described as overt acts amount only to conclusions. Considered in the most favorable light to the government, these acts would not constitute the unlawful acts necessary to support a continuing combination or conspiracy.

"I do not believe that the allegations therein contained as to the commission of the unlawful acts within the district are charged with sufficient certainty and definiteness as to meet the requirements of the sixth amendment to the constitution and show that the court has jurisdiction and that the northern district of Illinois is a proper venue for this action."

"Considering the entire indictment in this case, nothing is stated but the averments in the words of the statute that 'defendants conspired and combined to interfere with the sale and transportation of counter freezers in interstate commerce followed by a recitation of the alleged unlawful acts to carry out the combination or conspiracy,' etc.

"But no specific act or place or time or unlawful act is alleged which is necessary to require the defendants to answer."

Arnold Is Notified.

Tierney would make no statement as he left the courtroom, but said later that he had telegraphed the gist of the opinion to Thurman W. Arnold, chief of the antitrust division of the department of justice.

Late in the day a department of justice spokesman in Washington said the government either would appeal Judge Sullivan's ruling directly to the Supreme court or would bring a new action.

CITY STARTS TELLING WHY IT BANS USE OF PAPER MILK BOTTLES

The city began offering testimony yesterday before Federal Master in Chancery Jacob I. Grossman to show why it has refused to permit the use of paper containers for milk sold in Chicago. The hearing is on a suit brought by the Fieldcrest Dairies, Inc., seeking to compel the board of health to recognize the new type of containers.

Paul Krueger, chief sanitary officer of the board of health, said a close watch on sanitary conditions at the dairies is kept through regular tests of bottles.

It was also disclosed at the hearing that the health board has been testing paper containers for several months. Attorney Fred A. Gariepy, counsel for the dairy, said these tests started after the Fieldcrest suit was filed. Nothing was done during the year while an application for a permit to use paper containers was awaiting action, he said.

Eleganthine Oyster—

THE BELLE OF SAYVILLE BAY

Eleganthine Oyster sat a'prinking on her rock . . . a'polishing her pearly shell with glances at the clock . . . "Oh, will the moment never come, my future to unlock?"

"What is the moment you await?" a sad-eyed salmon said. . . . "I wait the day when I sashay this drizzly ocean bed . . . to sail for hail Chicago—where a girl can get ahead!"

"You're far too sweet and full of meat to chance it in the city" . . . A salamander ventured—"You're as rash as you are pretty!" . . . "You're naive!" said Eleganthine, nautilusinging a ditty.

"Er—don't you know the dangers, though?" A toothy tarpon purred . . . "They'll shanghai you into a stew—A tasty dish, I've heard—" . . . "I'll look a Queen in a tureen!" El b-oysterously averred.

"It's sad to think," a sturgeon said, his deeper nature stirring . . . "How lemon and tabasco sauce and you'll be bill-of-fare-ing." . . . "Speak louder, please." said Elly, "I am very hard of herring."

A crowd was gathering by now 'round Eleganthine's throne . . . And now their importunities were mounting in a moan . . . 'Til Elly signaled silence with "I want—to—be—alone . . .

*"But ere the moment comes for my nos*talgic-less goodbye . . . Perhaps you'd like a resume of quite precisely why . . . I've chosen fair Chicago to salute before I die—" . . . Unanimously all the finny savants murmured "aye"!

"It happens I aspire to couch temptatious on a half -shell . . . Engarlanded with pepper-sauce, supinely dishabille . . . half-buried in a field of ice, delectapertly chill . . .

"Or in a stew, in spite of you, the sweets of fame I'd quaff . . . disporting in a steaming bowl of creamy half and half . . . I'll drive some oyster-lover mad—Oh! go ahead and laugh . . .

"Then to be sure, some epicure, may whimsic'ly decide . . . to deify me on some toast, a taste-dream—gloryfried . . . Now, don't you get my blue-point?" Sweet Eleganthine cried.

With that a failing flounder gave his streaming eyes a swab . . . And all the neighbors shivered as he shuddered with a sob . . . "You—won't go near Chicago, dear, until you have a job?"

"A job!" sweet Eleganthine screamed, "The jobs come hunting me . . . and if you read the papers more you'd see what you would sea . . . I'm oys-starring at Triangle's Fresh Oyster Jubilee—

"And—" Just then Eleganthine's eyes fell flashing on the clock . . . Ecstatic'ly she turned—Oh joy!—A dredge engulfed her rock . . . "I'll send you back a card!" she trilled—But the turtle intoned . . . "mock."

ASSAIL GOVERNOR OF BAY STATE AS REDS' BEFRIENDER

Rap Saltonstall Policy on Minority Parties.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—Massachusetts today is in political ferment over the policy of Gov. Leverett Saltonstall with regard to minority parties in the state. The governor is charged with giving aid and comfort to the Reds.

At Saltonstall's request, the Bay state legislature at its last session adopted a statute which will enable the communist, Socialist, Social Labor and Prohibition parties to qualify their candidates on the ballot with the greatest of ease. The same measure, however, threw up almost insurmountable hurdles in the path of the Townsend organization and Father Charles E. Coughlin's union party.

Blame Future Ambitions.

Local politicians lay the governor's maneuvers to his ambitions for the future. He will run for reëlection on the Republican ticket next year unless, of course, lightning strikes and he is picked on the National G. O. P. ticket. Here in the city of the bean and the cod they say he would jump at the chance of running for vice president. But not even his worst enemies accuse him of being a communist.

Hostilities flared in May when Gov. Saltonstall signed a bill placing all the minority groups in the same boat. Under this original legislation, independent or minority party candidates for state-wide offices were required to file nomination papers bearing signatures numbering at least 3 per cent of the last total vote for governor. This vote was 1,765,869, and thus the required signatures would aggregate about 53,000.

Communists Set Up Howl.

One of the arguments for the legislation was that both the Republican and Democratic parties were forced to deal on a cash basis with nuisance minority candidates. There were eight candidates for governor last year other than Saltonstall, the Republican nominee, and James Michael Curley, the Democrat.

No sooner had the ink dried on the governor's signature than the communists raised a howl about civil liberties and started a referendum petition. Only 15,000 names were needed to make the petition effective, suspend the law, and put the question up to the people in 1940, when presumably the governor likewise would be on the ballot for a second term.

It is said, incidentally, that Saltonstall is billed as one of the "sponsors" of the national conference of the American Civil Liberties union to be held in New York City this week. The communist party regards the union as one of its most important fellow traveler organizations.

Saltonstall Does About Face.

After standing firm for one month in the face of radical criticism, Gov. Saltonstall did an about face. In the latter part of June he proposed the new legislation which permits the communists, Socialists, Social Laborites, and Prohibitionists to qualify as established parties.

These four parties remain on the ballot because they had been there for three successive elections, as provided in the second law. But political groups of more recent vintage, such as Townsendites and Coughlinites, must still meet the 53,000 signature requirement. Since the signatures must come from voters not enrolled in other parties the requirement is a stringent one.

Gov. Saltonstall, who was with the field artillery overseas in the last war and is a prominent Legionnaire, defended his course in an interview at his office in the statehouse. Over his desk hung a great ornamental brass candelabra, one of Paul Revere's masterpieces.

Explains Law's Purposes.

"The purpose of this legislation was to foster clean, representative government," declared Gov. Saltonstall. "It permits well established parties to continue to operate and new ones to come on the ballot if they are capable of obtaining the required number of signatures.

"In suggesting and signing this legislation it was my purpose to prevent confusion among voters, clarify the issues among candidates, and make it possible for the average man who wants to do his duty at the polls to know more clearly who he's voting for and why."

The chief victim of the new legislation is William H. McMasters, veteran champion of lost causes in Massachusetts. McMasters, who is now president of National Old Age Pensions, Inc., polled more than 68,000 votes for governor in the 1936 campaign when he ran as the candidate for the Coughlin union and Townsend recovery plan parties.

Challenges Explanation.

According to McMasters, Gov. Saltonstall is not adhering to the truth in his statement of the purposes behind the new legislation.

"It is a deliberate attempt to keep me off the ballot," asserted the old age pension leader. "The governor has made it possible for the communists to stay in the picture, and is trying to keep me, a man who hates communism, out of the things."

McMasters said he had obtained 48,000 votes in the G. O. P. primary last year and then swung over to support Saltonstall in the election. It was too late to get off the ticket as the Townsend candidate, but he stumped the state urging his followers to vote for Saltonstall. Despite this appeal he obtained 7,206 votes.

In the same election for governor the communists polled about 3,400 votes; the Socialists, 5,600; Social Laborites, 3,900, and Prohibitionists, 2,000.

Expects to Get on Ballot.

McMasters charged Gov. Saltonstall knew he was a good vote getter and pushed through the new legislation in order to make the path smoother for his reëlection.

"The funny thing is that I'll get the 53,000 signatures and be on the ballot," he added.

The second piece of legislation enacted carried an emergency clause which makes it impossible for McMasters to start a referendum petition as the communists did in the first case.

MILKMEN WILL REPORT ON RED HUNT IN UNION

Charges that 514 Chicago milkmen are communists will be considered tonight at the meeting of Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753, in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, 328 South Ashland boulevard. President Robert G. Fitchie will report on steps the officers are taking to determine if members of the union are communists and to drive them out if they are.

The charges were made here last week by Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities. Dies said he had the names of the 514 alleged communist milkmen.

Fitchie said rules of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, with which his union is affiliated, provide for the expulsion of any member suspected of being a communist. He said any information of value that he receives will be given the Dies committee.

Townsend Talks of Setting Up Radio Outlet in Mexico

Abilene, Tex., Oct. 11 (AP).—Dr. Francis E. Townsend today said his old age pension plan organization will "build our own station in Mexico if we are kept off the air in the United States." Dr. Townsend had been informed of action by the National Association of Broadcasters barring him from paid radio programs.

army and navy of the United States. I do not have first hand knowledge of that, but knowing that such agents are in the armed forces of every other country, I do not feel that the American forces would be an exception."

"Is the information thus gathered now available to Hitler?" inquired Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.].

"The pact between Hitler and Stalin is a real military alliance and the armies no doubt exchange military secrets and information," Krivitsky replied.

"Is the United States considered a difficult country in which to obtain military secrets and information?"

"It is not," replied the witness with emphasis.

The soviet embassy is subject to orders of the resident secret police chief, Krivitsky testified. The secret police also utilize the service of sympathetic or "front" organizations, he said. A member of the League Against War and Fascism, which since has become the League for Peace and Democracy, was "very useful" to Krivitsky in his intelligence work in 1936, he recalled.

The witness said that chiefs of the soviet secret police in the United States since 1928 have been Alexander Karen, Valentin Markin, who was killed under mysterious circumstances, and Boris Shbak.

Loses Incinerator Fight; to Raze $340,000 Home

Haverford, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—Percival Roberts Jr., who lost a long fight against operating a township garbage incinerator near his 75 room mansion, has ordered his $340,000 home torn down. Roberts, former director of the United States Steel corporation and the Pennsylvania railroad, built the "Pennhurst Farms" mansion in 1903.

RENEWS CHARGE OF SHAKEDOWN FOR PARTY FUND

Civil Service Chief Says Law Is Flouted.

Clayton F. Devine, president of the Civil Service Protective association, yesterday disputed statements of H. G. Klingbiel, clerk in the East Moline State hospital, made in response to Devine's charge that the Democratic state administration is assessing state employés in preparation for the 1940 campaign.

Devine on Monday made public a bulletin board notice posted at East Moline, which bore Klinbiel's typewritten signature, calling upon employés either to pay their salary assessments [2 per cent] to the "Illinoisans" or announce their intention not to contribute.

Calls Signature a Forgery.

Klingbiel denied he had signed the notice.

"It's a forgery," he declared. "I'll swear on a stack of Bibles that I never put it out."

"Mr. Klingbiel," Devine said yesterday, "might also swear on a stack of Bibles that he did not authorize the distribution of the notice. We know better. Mr. Klingbiel has pursued a course of conduct in coercing employés of that institution to join the 'Illinoisans' that displays a total ignorance of the state civil service act, or wanton disregard of the act.

"Mr. Klingbiel does not deny that in violation of the law, employés in his office distributed notices to state civil service employés through subordinates in his office which solicited political campaign funds notwithstanding the law. Payment for a membership in the 'Illinoisans' is nothing more or less than a political assessment.

Asks Purpose of Organization.

"What is the purpose of the 'Illinoisans'? Where are its headquarters? Who are its officers? What is to be done with the money collected from these state employés? What other membership does it claim outside the workers of the state? What accounting has been made of the funds collected? We are curious to know what advantage can be gained by any civil service employés by joining the 'Illinoisans.'"

S. L. Nudelman, director of finance, denied that any coercion was being exercised to obtain contributions to the campaign collection agency. Dr. William W. Fox, director of the state school at Lincoln, where Devine charged an "Illinoisan" collector stayed for 10 days soliciting back "dues" from civil service employés, admitted something of the sort might have been going on.

"I did see a man around who might have been the one mentioned," Dr. Fox said. "He did not approach me, however. I do not know if he had been talking to the employés."

SUPREME COURT GRANTS REVIEW TO TWO KILLERS

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday consented to review the convictions of Edward Riley and Orville Watson of Chicago, thus delaying their executions, which had been scheduled for one minute past midnight next Monday in the county jail. The two pleaded guilty of slaying Alex Ferguson of 2525 Leland avenue in a gun battle that followed the condemned men's attempted holdup of a tavern at 4623 North Western avenue, on May 3. Policeman Philip J. Kelly also was slain and Policeman Edward McIntyre was wounded.

Of the four men awaiting death in the county jail, three now have received reprieves. Steve Cygan, convicted of killing a police sergeant 11 years ago, is to die at one minute past midnight tomorrow. Charles Price, colored, convicted of murdering an insurance collector during a robbery two years ago, has been granted a reprieve until Oct. 27, to permit his attorney to file an appeal with the United States Supreme court.

TWO POLICEMEN, FIREMAN OUSTED BY TRIAL BOARD

Two policemen and a fireman were discharged yesterday by the police trial board. Patrolman Claude Smith of Irving Park station was charged with being intoxicated at roll call, and Motorcycle Policeman Andrew R. Werntz with leaving the scene of an accident. While driving his automobile March 4, Werntz struck another car and overturned it at Irving Park road and Newland avenue. He drove away without stopping. Fireman Thomas Breen was dismissed for being absent without leave Sept. 7.

Thomas Pihlfeldt Honored for Half Century with City

City hall employés yesterday swarmed into the office of Thomas G. Pihlfeldt, head of the bridge department. It was Mr. Pihlfeldt's 50th anniversary as a city employé. He started working in the map bureau Oct. 11, 1889.

Trace Death Gun

Revolver found on body of John McGuire, escaped convict, who was killed by police Saturday. The bullet that killed a child on the south side when a bandit fired at an insurance agent was identified as having come from this gun.

Bullet at left was fired from McGuire's gun by a ballistics expert, and the one at right was taken from insurance agent's auto.

Lieut. Joseph C. Wilimovsky Jr., coroner's ballistics expert, reported yesterday that the bullet that killed a girl 9 years old last Friday night was fired from a revolver found on the body of John McGuire, 36, escaped convict from Joliet penitentiary. He was shot and killed Saturday in a gun battle with police.

The child, Jacqueline Neville, 4201 Lowe avenue, was fatally wounded in front of her home when a bandit fired upon Frank Maneely, 554 East 70th street, an insurance agent, during an attempt to rob Maneely and another insurance man, Jack Lomas, 6925 South Park avenue. The bullet missed Maneely, but struck the girl as she was roller skating in the street.

McGuire fled from his apartment at 854 West 51st street when Sergt. Walter Paradowski and Detective McGuire surprised him there. Gaining cover of a tree, he fired one shot before Sergt. Paradowski shot him down. McGuire and another convict, Charles Emmerson, escaped while working in the prison quarry. Emmerson was later recaptured. McGuire was serving from one to 14 years for killing his sweetheart.

EX-SOLDIER GETS 1-10 YEARS FOR LOOTING HOUSE

Harvey H. Engel Jr., 19 years old, a private at Fort Sheridan when he was captured July 6 while ransacking a home, was sentenced to from 1 to 10 years in Joliet penitentiary yesterday by Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady at Waukegan. Engel pleaded guilty to burglary. Engel was trapped in the home of Irving Herry at 1623 Greenwood avenue, Highland Park. Returning home late, Herry noticed a light in the house and rounded up a group of neighbors, who brought their guns and held the soldier in the house until police arrived. He then walked out and surrendered. Engel's home is at 4324 Irving Park road.

INDICT FORMER ST. CHARLES BOY, 14, FOR MURDER

The McHenry county grand jury returned an indictment at Woodstock yesterday charging Charles Allen Dain, 14 years old, former inmate of the St. Charles School for Boys, with murder.

Dain had admitted that he killed Lester Groth, 34 years old, a McHenry county farmer in whose home he lived. He first beat Groth and then shot him in the heart with a .22 caliber rifle. The killing occurred on Sept. 26.

CHAMPAIGN VICE CASE PLACED IN HANDS OF JURY

Sealed Verdict Requested by Judge.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Judge Frank B. Leonard ordered tonight that the Champaign county Circuit court jury weighing the case of Roy M. [Riley] Sharp of Champaign, who is charged with keeping a gaming house, return a sealed verdict at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, if a verdict has been reached by then. If there is no decision by that time, the jury shall continue its deliberations, the judge directed.

He issued the order at 9 o'clock tonight, after the jury had been out for six hours. Judge Leonard and prosecution and defense counsel agreed on this procedure.

Indicted After Killing.

Sharp was indicted last spring in the course of an investigation of charges of vice and corruption in Champaign as a result of the fatal shooting of a Toledo, O., sophomore in the University of Illinois last February. The trial was started Monday morning, and went to the jury at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Sharp was alleged to have conducted a gaming establishment at 113 and 115 North Market street in Champaign, which is located a mile from the University of Illinois campus.

Five state witnesses, including three university students, testified yesterday that dice, black-jack, poker games, and horse race-betting were carried on in Sharp's place.

Students Tell of Investigation.

The students were Chester Berutti of Wilsonville, Ill., who said he lost $10 at dice; Loren Juhl of New Holland, Ill., and William Dennis of Riverside, Ill. The latter two said they lost at black-jack and saw poker and dice games while investigating conditions in Champaign and Urbana as reporters for the Daily Illini, university paper.

Fred Gerstrung of Chicago, an attorney general's investigator, and Willis Barnhart of Champaign testified they saw gambling in the establishment.

Another Trial Begins.

Selection of a jury to hear the case of Ben Durman of Champaign, also charged with keeping a common gaming house, and who was indicted by the January grand jury, was started late this afternoon. Judge Leonard announced that testimony will start on Friday afternoon.

Three jurors had been tentatively accepted by both sides when the panel was excused until Friday morning.

VETERAN CLOTHING SALESMAN DIES.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11 [Special].—Morton H. McCown, 75 years old, one of the oldest clothing salesmen in Illinois, died today. He had been employed in a local store since 1887, and was known to thousands of University of Illinois graduates. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

JURY TOLD HOW FLOATERS WERE VOTED IN JOLIET

How a battalion of floaters was organized in Chicago and taken into Joliet to vote in the judicial election last June 5 was told to a jury in the Circuit court of Judge Ben F. Anderson at Joliet yesterday by two of the vote repeaters. They testified in the trial of John Lamburger, 601 East 92d place, Chicago, the first of 22 defendants to go to trial.

The witnesses are Julius Popely, 736 East 92d street, and William Oliver, 725 East 92d place. They said Lamburger approached them three days before the election and asked whether they would like to go to Joliet and make a little money by working in the election. They rode down on election day, they said, with Lamburger and his brother, Alex, of 614 East 88th street.

They testified that the floaters congregated at a kennel outside Joliet, where they were picked up by a driver from Democratic headquarters after being instructed by Lamburger to vote the straight Democratic ticket. They voted in at least five polling places, they said, before their arrest.

SEEK KIDNAPER AFTER WOMAN IS MENACED IN CAR

Police were searching last night for a Negro who seized Mrs. Helen Boldt, 27 years old, 4641 North Paulina street, late Tuesday and held her prisoner for several hours in her automobile. Mrs. Boldt is in St. Luke's hospital suffering from shock.

The kidnaping took place near 4143 Cottage Grove avenue. After robbing Mrs. Boldt of a few cents, the Negro drove her to 103d street and Kean avenue. There he forced the Boldt car against an automobile driven by Miss Frances Carlson of Palos Park. When she stopped, the Negro tried to rob her, but was frightened away by her screams for help.

Mrs. Boldt, who said she resisted the man's attempts to rape her, was released near the place where she was seized.

ONE little thing will illustrate the unsparing care we're spending to make this 1940 Buick the best car we've ever built.

Take the springs—not simply the great soft-action spirals that cushion the car, but even the valve springs.

After they're shaped and tempered and finished there's likely to be here and there a tiny scratch on the surface of the steel.

Such a scratch conceivably might start a fracture. So we shot-blast our springs—to heal such tiny scratches, "peening" the surface in miniature like hammered silver.

All the way through this massive, powerful, beautiful car you will find special precaution like that.

For example, we used to balance by weight all sets of parts in our tornadic Dynaflash straight-eight engine, to cancel out even a hint of "rough."

We do that still, but now we do more. On special machines we electrically balance this great engine to micropoised perfection after assembly, paring metal if need be to smooth its velocity to velvet.

Seat angles, pedal positions, shock absorber travel-arc, brake areas, control tensions – every detail comes under special study.

When the experimental models had done their stuff on the General Motors proving ground, we turned 'em over to sharpshooters to punish, over thousands of miles of bad roads and good.

Out of it all comes an automobile we're mighty proud to offer—an unbeatable travelmate you will be thrilled to own.

Come drive it – see how excitingly close steel and rubber and glass can come to being alive!

INDICT ALLEGED PARTY THROWER IN $14,000 THEFT

Office Head Denies Guilt in Fund Shortage.

Raymond C. Hartman.

An indictment charging embezzlement of $14,000 was returned yesterday by the Cook county grand jury against Raymond C. Hartman, former office manager for the Lever Brothers company, soap manufacturers. The money was drawn from two of the company's bank accounts over a period of 13 months, according to Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown, who added that there is a total shortage of $34,000 covering a period of six years.

Hartman, who is 34 years old and has a wife and child living in Crete, Ill., was locked in the county jail. He denied taking the money, insisting that though he knew the accounts were short and had covered the shortage by bookkeeping, he had been guilty of no thefts.

Heavy Spending Charged.

The state's investigation, Brown stated, showed that the accounts had been reduced by checks, usually for $100, drawn by Hartman. It was charged also that Hartman had spent heavily at cafés and at a loop hotel, entertaining a blonde, who lives in Evanston and who formerly was employed by the soap company. Her name was withheld.

She told Brown, he said, that Hartman insisted he was divorced. She assumed the money he spent was his salary. Mrs. Irene Hartman, the wife, said her husband saw her only on week-ends, explaining that his work kept him in Chicago at night.

Brown said his investigation disclosed that Hartman, whose salary was $40 a week, spent $636 in a few weeks at his loop hotel headquarters and that his taxicab bills averaged $20 a week.

"Always Ready for Party."

"Mr. Hartman was always ready for a party," Brown quoted the blonde friend as saying. "Anything was an excuse—birthdays, anniversaries, anything."

Hartman, who weighs 218 pounds and is considered good looking, had been employed by Lever Brothers since he was a youth. The two bank accounts of which he had charge were supposed to be used only for paying office expenses and certain other designated bills.

'Abe Lincoln's Honest Face Gives Bogus $5 Bills Away

If Lincoln's features are a trifle foggy and the coloring on the back is too light a green, don't accept that $5 bill! Capt. Thomas J. Callaghan, head of the secret service here, said yesterday that more than $2,000 in spurious fives have been passed in the northern suburbs recently. They can be detected by the thinness of the paper, the absence of silk threads and the fact the numbers on the face usually end in H204, 1204, or L234.

HEAD OF CHURCH IS ASSAILED FOR BISHOP SCANDAL

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 11 [Special].—Sharp criticism of the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, is being voiced here today for his management of affairs of the Episcopal diocese of northern Michigan, after first disclosures of shortages which sent Bishop Hayward S. Ablewhite to prison for embezzlement.

Thomas Chandler, utilities executive who represented members of St. James church here, in a civil suit against diocesan trustees for an accounting, made public a letter to the presiding bishop which, he says, expresses general views held in the church. The suit will be heard in the November term of District court.

Ablewhite in Prison.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Rt. Rev. Hayward Seller Ablewhite, former bishop of the Episcopal diocese of northern Michigan, was in quarantine today at the state prison of southern Michigan, where he will serve a term of one to ten years for embezzlement of diocesan funds. Prison authorities said the clergyman would remain in quarantine 30 days.

SUSPEND NURSE IN OAK FOREST POISONING QUIZ

Frank Venecek, superintendent of the Oak Forest infirmary, said yesterday that a nurse had been suspended as a result of the supposed poisoning of an inmate on Sept. 28. The victim was Mrs. Pearl Brandon, 65 years old, formerly of 1901 North Lawndale avenue. Coroner's Physician S. S. Snider said her death was due to a creosote cleaning compound taken by mistake. Venecek asserted that the compound was kept, contrary to regulations, on a shelf with harmless medicines. The suspended nurse, Susanne Johnson, was in charge of the ward. An inquest into the death of Mrs. Brandon has been continued to Oct. 19.

FATALLY STRICKEN ON STREET CAR. Frank G. Kartowicz, 55 years old, of 2601 Logan boulevard, an architectural draftsman for the board of education, was fatally stricken with a heart attack while he was riding a Clark street car yesterday near Chicago avenue.

GEORGIAN'S WIFE HELD FOR PART IN ESCAPE PLOT

Mrs. Gallogly Surrenders to Texas Officials.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11 [Special].—Two warrants were sworn out in Georgia today charging Mrs. Vera Hunt Gallogly with aiding and abetting in the escape of her husband, Richard Gallogly, wealthy young murderer, from prison guards.

Gallogly surrendered to authorities in Dallas, Tex., yesterday, four days after he had fled from the guards who were transferring him from an Atlanta hospital to a Georgia prison to continue serving a life term on which he has been imprisoned ten years.

State Safety Commissioner Lon Sullivan said he had been informed by Texas officials that Mrs. Gallogly had also surrendered in Dallas late today. She was with her husband when he escaped and fled with him to Texas, but did not accompany him when he surrendered. Mrs. Gallogly was released on $2,500 bond.

Uses Stick as Gun.

One of the two warrants against the woman was sworn out here by State Patrolman O. W. Whiteside. A similar warrant was issued in Chandler county, where Gallogly broke away from the guards after threatening them with what he said was a black stick that looked like a gun.

Guard Robert Matthews, one of three men suspended because of the escape, insisted today that Gallogly had a gun and not a stick. He said the prisoner turned on the dome light in the car which cast enough light for him to distinguish that Gallogly held a revolver and not an automatic pistol.

Gov. E. D. Rivers announced that he would conduct a personal investigation of the escape of the prisoner, whose pampering long has been a subject of criticism in Georgia. The executive said he would sit with the board of penal investigation when it opens its inquiry, probably on Oct. 17.

Three Under Suspension.

The governor said his investigation would be concentrated on the two guards who let Gallogly escape, Matthews and Joe Freeman, and on R. K. Mann, chief inspector of the prison board. All three have been suspended, and Matthew was charged with permitting the escape of his prisoner and aiding and abetting in the escape.

Sullivan said he has been informed that Matthews' release last night on $1,000 bond was arranged by John B. Spivey, president of the Georgia senate. Sullivan said he understood that Spivey was employed by Gallogly's mother, Mrs. Worth E. Yankey, socially prominent Atlantan, who was with the prisoner at the time of his break.

STATE TO PRESS PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST CRABB

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11 (AP).—Attorney General John E. Cassidy today declared the state will continue to prosecute a perjury charge against James W. Crabb, former Delavan banker's son, whose conviction and one to 14 year prison sentence was set aside yesterday by the state Supreme court.

Cassidy said his office will file within 30 days a petition asking a third Supreme court review of the case, which grew out of the fatal shooting of Crabb's bride of 19, Betty Collison Crabb, in the family home at Delavan on March 1, 1938.

The Supreme court first upheld the conviction, then reversed its stand in yesterday's opinion. In the latest ruling the high court remanded the case for a new trial in the Tazewell county Circuit court. Cassidy said if the Supreme court denied the rehearing he will recommend that Tazewell county authorities then ask the lower court to set the case for retrial.

Crabb's indictment charged he made an unsigned statement relating how an old-fashioned revolver was discharged accidentally while he struggled with his young wife after a wedding celebration party. Earlier he had testified at the inquest he was not in the room at the time of the shooting.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike for another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other."—From the Farewell Address.

RED NAZIISM.

The war mobilization in both France and Great Britain brought an almost immediate suspension of many civil rights, personal liberties, and legal immunities. The national unity, the people were told, would require a subordination of the person to the state which would be intolerable in a free country in peace time. The people, understanding that their dangers were great, accepted the new conditions with little protest and with the governmental promise that when the national emergency had passed all rights would be restored.

The governmental argument, in brief, was that to fight a dictatorship a country had to go under one. The people had to be governed by dictators to destroy dictators. The first man to believe that is the man who wants to believe it. The man who wants to believe it is the man who would like to use the power.

The doctrine that national emergency creates dictatorship is accepted not only in London and Paris but in Washington. For more than 20 years grants of dictatorial powers have been creeping into our laws, many of them to remain there. They become operative not only in case of war but some of them may be used if the chief executive finds that war is imminent and so declares. An act of June, 1916, before we entered the world war, when we were in about the present stage of approach to war, allows the federal government to lay its hands upon many branches of industry for many purposes if the President declares that war is imminent.

A declaration of national emergency will permit the government seizure of communications and the control of radio. Before Hitler and Mussolini appeared on the scene, before even Lenin, the theory of the all-powerful state, then little known and little feared, was getting statutory expression. Back of the existing, if dormant, powers there are bills, prepared over a period of years, providing for complete conscription of private enterprise and the creation of the Hitler-Stalin government. In the first moment of war excitement they will be rushed at congress. Then can they be stopped? They were not stopped in Great Britain or in France.

The dictatorial state no longer is represented by opposing factions. The Washington followers of Gauleiter Stalin have no longer any quarrel with Commissar Hitler. So long as they called each other names the opponents of both had a better chance. The quarrel was made up when Hitler and Stalin shook hands in a common cause. The American communists, collectivists, and radicals joined the American Fascists and Nazis. All are for the totalitarian state for which the American blue prints are ready. Part of the framework is up.

The people of America may fare badly if they become so absorbed in the discussion of cash and carry, credits, embargoes, and other people's wars that they ignore what is in train behind these questions. The planned society waits its great opportunity—national emergency. National emergency and then Red Naziism.

THE GOAT REVOLTS.

The goat, it seems, is a much maligned animal and is growing tired, as they say, of being the goat. Affectionate, discriminating, and useful, it deserves a better place in the American heart and has earned a better standing than it has been given in literature.

So said the American Society of Goat Breeders in their recent annual session in Wisconsin where they spent the better part of two days correcting misapprehensions about the animals of their choice and setting them right with the public.

Most everything people know best about goats, it appears, is untrue. A goat does not eat tin cans, but is finicky in its appetite. A true vegetarian, it rejects even select food that has been tainted by too close proximity to other animals. And a goat's odor is not offensive, take the word of Judge William Chappell, Oklahoma City, president of the society. Different from violets, but pleasant if you like it.

Friends of the goat, in fact, are tired of so little being known about so excellent an animal. They demand for it the position in the social scheme and in literature that its qualities warant. It is entitled to a larger place in American agriculture and in the American diet.

A goat creates no marketing problem by giving a brimming pailful twice a day and then demanding a law that every one must buy it at a profit. It yields an average of two quarts a day and there is a good market for it at 35 to 40 cents a quart, still quoting Judge Chappell. Quality, not quantity, is the animal's ideal.

The taste of the milk once acquired, they say is agreeable, the fat content high. The milk is easily digested and suitable for children.

A goat is independent and courageous and can and will take care of itself if offended. It has been too long misunderstood and too little appreciated. It resents most of all the symbolism it has acquired. It is tired of being the goat.

NEW YORK STATE RACKET.

Stocks of the country's leading corporations are widely held. Some companies which have published analyses of their stockholder lists have revealed that there were owners in every state. One becomes a stockholder by buying from some one who is already a stockholder. When a person residing in Iowa desires to sell 100 shares of United States Steel, he asks his broker to telegraph an order in to the New York Stock exchange. The buyer may also be a resident of Iowa. But whether both parties to the transaction live in the state of New York or if they live in other states, the state of New York collects a tax on the sale. On each 100 shares of stock the tax is $5.00.

This tax is a racket. The exchange is a national institution and it is regulated by a national commission. The state incurs no expense in connection with this operation. Actually the location of the exchange in New York is of immense advantage to the people of the state. It affords jobs directly for thousands. It results in juicy fees for the transfer agent. It gives the banks almost a monopoly of brokers' loans.

If the state wants to collect a tax when a New Yorker sells a bunch of stock to a New Yorker, it is all right with us. But it is an outrage for that state to tax the transactions of the people of other states just because the clearing house happens to be in New York. It is common practice under state sales tax laws to exempt sales made by citizens of the taxing state to citizens of other states.

If the government at Albany is not willing to cease exacting tribute from the whole nation the stock exchange ought to move out to Jersey or Connecticut. If the exchange won't take action itself, the Securities and Exchange commission, which likes to tell security exchanges what to do, could bring pressure upon the New York stock market. If the SEC effected a migration of the exchange from New York to escape the racket it could make a valid claim that it was worth five cents a share to the stockholders of America.

Meanwhile, the Chicago Stock exchange has listed the securities of such leading companies as United States Steel corporation, General Motors corporation, American Telephone and Telegraph company, and the Pennsylvania Railroad company—to mention a few. Midwesterners can beat the New York state racket by selling their stocks through the Chicago Stock exchange.

A COMMUNIST RIOTER MEETS AN IOWA JURY.

William Sentner, one of the communist bosses of the C. I. O., has been convicted by an Iowa jury of criminal syndicalism as a result of his actions in the Maytag strike at Newton, Ia.

The crime of which Sentner was convicted has a formidable name. The acts which constituted the violation were simple. They were acts in defiance of law and order. The jury that brought in the conviction had no difficulty in understanding them and in deciding that they were lawless.

The Maytag strike was a sitdown. Sentner was charged with inciting strikers to interfere with the operation of the plant and to bar nonstriking workmen from it. It was shown that he had waved a copy of a court order restraining these lawless acts, advising his audience that it was not worth the paper it was written on; that he had threatened to blow up the town if strikebreakers appeared.

The lawlessness in the Maytag strike followed the pattern of lawlessness in other C. I. O. strikes. The public has had no difficulty in recognizing that lawlessness, and in repudiating it. It has repudiated it from the jury box and repudiated it at the ballot box.

When the communist led auto workers seized the factories of Michigan and defied the courts of the state Frank Murphy prated of the danger of bloodshed. But the people of Michigan recognized that he was protecting lawlessness, through either sympathy or cowardice, and they voted him from office at the first opportunity.

Gov. Earle, the millionaire fellow traveler in Pennsylvania, used the state police as pickets to bolster the fading C. I. O. strike in the steel industry. The people of Pennsylvania recognized him as a promoter of lawlessness and voted him out of office.

The craven Davey in Ohio and the equally wishy-washy Kraschel in Iowa refused for a long time to restore the order that the C. I. O. had destroyed. The people of their states recognized their cowardice and voted them out of office.

Benson of Minnesota turned his office over to communists and the streets of Minneapolis over to gangsters. The people of Minnesota recognized him as an ally of lawbreakers, voted him out of office, and smashed his party.

La Follette of Wisconsin fostered violence by the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. alike in a whole series of strikes. The people of Wisconsin voted him and his radical party out of office.

The political disasters which befell these allies of lawbreakers, the statutes that have been passed to punish such lawlessness more severely, and the acts of juries such as that which convicted Sentner have caused alarm in the ranks of labor. They have been represented as reactions against labor. Much of the alarm is needless. The reaction is not against labor, but against lawlessness. Wherever the people of this country have had an opportunity to speak, they have made it clear that they will not tolerate violence in labor disputes, however highly they regard lawful trade unionism.

MR. OSBORN HAS A BIRTHDAY.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Sault Ste. Marie today, in characteristic fashion, is celebrating the 80th birthday of its most noted citizen, a man who personifies what the rugged north represents. One need hardly mention the name, for Chase S. Osborn comes to mind at the very mention of the Soo.

Mr. Osborn is one of Michigan's scholarly citizens. Though he has made the whole world his crossroads, his home has always been where his heart is—in the woods and fields of Michigan. He is the spiritual embodiment of our famous northland—as lovable and as unpredictable as the storms that sweep over our Great Lakes.

Although Mr. Osborn's birthday anniversary will not actually come until Jan. 22, 1940, it is typical of the Soo to cast aside niceties of detail to have their celebration today.

The old "Iron Hunter" spends his winters in Georgia, so the good neighbors have just tossed away the calendar to pay him tribute while they still have him in their midst.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

KING OF THE SUBURBS.

Speaking of libraries, where shall we deposit for safekeeping through the ages a World's Fair [1893] souvenir booklet devoted almost entirely to the activities of S. E. Gross, who called himself "the world's greatest real estate dealer"?

It should be a tasty item for the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris, for this was the Samuel Eberly Gross who wrote a drama called "The Merchant Prince of Corneville," charged that Edmond Rostand plagiarized it for his "Cyrano de Bergerac," and won his suit in the American courts. The savants and littérateurs of France will tear out their whiskers in rage at the sight of this historical document.

Mr. Gross' specialty was suburban exploitation, and the expanding city was always catching up with his prairie subdivisions, so his customers must have been a large and contented family. He announces in this pamphlet that he had sold over 40,000 lots and 7,000 houses and built up 16 villages. His empire included Dauphin Park, Calumet Heights, Grossdale, Gross Park, Argyle Park, and Humboldt Park. Grossdale, his largest, is now Brookfield and La Grange Park. Gross Park spread northwest of the intersection of Lincoln and Belmont avenues almost to the present Riverview park.

Excursion trains, with free transportation for all comers, figured in his salesmanship, and Sunday family picnics in the bosky dells of Grossdale and Dauphin Park, at the expense of the great subdivider, were popular in the 1890s. [Such a junket is among our own boyhood memories.] This publication, destined to give apoplexy to the French academy and the Société des Auteurs Dramatique and Lyrique, claims that Gross' excursions formed the longest passenger trains that ever pulled out of the Union "depot."

THE PERFECT NEUTRAL.

Guid freens, the placid Swiss behold,
Neither afeared nor over bold.
Upon his native rock he stands,
Indifferent tae ither lands
Whose folk are driven by war's goad,
Bemused, bewildered, buffaloed.
Though bombs may drap an' airplanes crash,
The calm Swiss wull do naething rash.
Though rifles crack an' cannon roar,
He lets grim Mars pass by his door,
An' just as coolly as ye please,

M'Tavish.

Talking Back to the "How Are Yous."

I find nothing more irritating than the Noble Order of Inquirers After the Health. The mere question, "How are you?" arouses in me lawless impulses that would do credit to a Jukes or a Kallikak.

"How are you, my dear?" shrieked Mrs. Entwhistle across the luncheon table. I looked her square in the good eye and said sternly, "I'm having hoof and mouth disease with complications of coronary thrombosis, and I'm probably contagious." The silence which clamped down on the table attested to the success of this parry.

"And how are you?" twittered the prissy Miss Drizzle at a charity tea. "O," I said in an offhand fashion, "except for an occasional twinge in my wooden leg and a few losing rounds with my upper plate, I'm fine. And how have yours been?" Miss Drizzle backed into a potted palm.

I daresay I'm heading for a boycott, but I find that something to look forward to.

Siwasher the Second.

Some of the First "Hamlets."

Maybe you're getting interested in "Hamlet" again, since Maurice Evans is coming to Chicago with his full length production, four hours long. The first performance of "Hamlet" in America was in Philadelphia in 1759. The first in Boston was in 1792; the first in Pittsburgh was in 1817. The reviewer of the latter performance wrote that the Horatio was "completely drunk and dirty."

Elmer Kenyon.

WORLD OF TOMORROW?

(Written after a recent visit to the New York World's Fair.)

The World of Tomorrow? Nay, nay,
Nor even the World of Today.
Time's wheels are revolving so fast:
Already a World of the Past.

There stands a tall, glittering tower,
The symbol of brave Poland's power,
And a hall with a Polish display—
But there is no Poland today.

Above an arched doorway extends
The legend: Completed by Friends,
Where Czecho-Slovakia tried
To do her bit ere she died.

Ah, war-worried World of Tomorrow!
The people in pity and sorrow
View mutely in sunshine and rain
These phantoms of nations slain.

In sunshine and rain, like the gloom
And the glower of a newly made tomb,
Lies a shadow of woe and despair
Over the face of the Fair.

And the glamor is dimmed day by day,
And the revelry not quite so gay
Because of the immanent ghosts

An Observatory for Supertrains.

The Indian Mounds park in St. Paul, Minn., overlooking the Mississippi, is my favorite place for watching supertrains. At 12:50 p. m. the Rocket darts out for Kansas City; at 1 o'clock the Hiawatha scoots for Chicago. At 3 o'clock the Zephyr glides in, and at 4:30 it starts back to Chicago.

PLAIN AND FANCY WARTS.

WARTS are common to all ages and they do not come from handling toads. Some may persist for years while others will disappear as mysteriously as they arrived. There is no more fruitful ground for fake remedies. Regardless of the "charm" employed many a crop will vanish. It was just time for them to go.

The cause is a virus, too small to be seen with the most powerful microscope. The blemishes under discussion can be transferred from person to person or they may extend from a single heaped up pile of cells to many protuberances in the nearby vicinity. A tiny one may be followed by an entire chain—all appearing as minute beads on the surface of the cuticle.

Among the ordinary varieties are those that attack young people as well as their fathers, mothers, or grandparents. They may occur anywhere—for example, on the scalp, the bearded region of the face, or the soles of the feet. Far from dangerous, they are always a nuisance as they are frequently irritated, torn, or cut —resulting in bleeding. One rule we must remember—namely: that these elevations should not be stirred up unnecessarily as spread is likely to take place and instead of one or two we may hatch a score or more. In addition, these excrescences can seed themselves, hence brisk scrubbing is never advised. Occasionally the application of spirits of camphor or washing the parts with a solution of hyposulfite of soda will prove so discouraging that they will give up the struggle for existence and fade away. Fulguration by means of the electric spark is useful in many instances.

Another type—known as senile—is usually flat, tan to brownish or dark gray in shade. Specimens may break out in any portion of the body, especially the back, neck, face, arms, and hands. Sometimes dirt becomes ground into these growths, lending added duskiness to the areas. The members of this particular group are likely to continue enlarging until they become extremely unsightly. Some will reach an inch in diameter and many a person will consult his doctor because he fears cancer. While this is a wise precaution—inasmuch as certain malignant forms may simulate them—if the diagnosis is accurate, assurance may be given that there is no chance whatsoever of trouble.

Almost every physician has seen patients with their backs covered with so-called seborrheic warts—literally hundreds of them. If they are numerous we rely upon some caustic chemical or X-ray. With the latter agent, only one spot at a time should be treated. Great caution must be exercised as overdosage may result in a burn far more disfiguring than the original defect. Here again fulguration is beneficial.

Every little while we will encounter a victim with growths about the finger nails. Unless something is done early every digit may become involved. These are particularly troublesome to women and the most careful cauterization with minute bits of some strong destroying chemical, such as trichloracetic acid, will be required. The surrounding normal skin should be walled off with a ring of vaseline before the drug is applied. This plan is not safe for home use. A solution of hyposulfite of soda [an ounce of the salt to a pint of water] can be made, however, and the fingers soaked for ten minutes morning and evening. This is harmless and is usually effective.

Another annoyer is the plantar wart. These become deeply imbedded on the soles of the feet and are the source of much discomfort. For removal surgery is sometimes advised, although many cases will terminate successfully with the whirlpool bath. The water should be as hot as can be borne and the period of immersion varies from thirty minutes to an hour. Several sessions may be demanded. This procedure will soften and loosen the lesions, causing them to swell so that they may protrude like crab's eyes and come away without the slightest difficulty. Should they prove stubborn, skilled surgery may be resorted to.

Exercise elevates the blood pressure. Temperature and climate influence hypertension indirectly. The more conducive the surroundings are to rest and relaxation, the more nearly normal the blood pressure will become.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Oct. 12, 1914.

LONDON—Germany imposed a fine of $100,000,000 on the citizens of Antwerp as a war indemnity. Gen. Beseler, commander of the German troops that captured Antwerp, told the citizens that their property would be spared if they refrained from hostile acts. Resistance might lead to demolition of the city, he said.

PARIS — Twenty bombs were dropped on Paris by two German aviators, killing four civilians and injuring 20 others. One bomb struck the roof of the cathedral of Notre Dame and set fire to a beam.

ROME—Reliable sources here report that Germany's fighting force consists of 2,200,000 men, including 27 corps of first line troops and 27 corps of reserves. Half a million more men are expected to be fully trained by November.

WASHINGTON — Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, presented to the state department of the United States charges of German atrocities, including killings of wounded soldiers and the massacre of village civilians.

HITLER'S PEACE.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Again Herr Hitler runs true to form. He wages an undeclared war against Poland, which, according to all the rules of international law, is brigandry; he splits the loot with a hijacker, and then just because he is not ready to continue with his murderous plans he asks for a respite in the name of peace.

Some day Europe will know peace. But it will be only when its people have shaken off the bondage of its so-called totalitarian leaders.

THE WOMEN AND NEUTRALITY.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—May I, also a member of the League of Women Voters, reply to Miss Edith Abbott's disapproval of the league's support of repeal of the arms embargo? Ever since 1935 the department of government and foreign policy of the league has been studying "neutrality" in all its aspects. In accordance with league policy the support of any legislative measure depends on a favorable vote of a majority of the department which has studied it for at least two years. Of course, each individual member of the league may have her own opinion on any matter, but the league speaks for the majority.

As for repeal of the arms embargo being a "direct step toward bringing the United States into war" as Miss Abbott says, our study of this matter has convinced us that it is just plain stupid to argue that embargoing just a few things and at the same time selling freely and even delivering everything else to the belligerents as the present act permits, is any insurance against our involvement in war.

Pamela Barry.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Would you please convey to Edith Abbott my hearty indorsement of her letter regarding the stand she takes on the present policy of the League of Women Voters respecting the neutrality question? I voiced my objection to it to my own foreign relations chairman last spring and resigned from the organization last week because of its stand.

Repeal of the embargo will encourage continuance of this war and how we can say to the allies "sic 'em" and then sit back and enjoy our war profits is beyond my sense of decency to understand.

OBJECTS TO THE WORD "BOOB."

For shame for such a statement! A column length editorial dealing with such serious matters as the present European situation presumably is meant to be taken seriously, and you end it on a note like that! The Hitler and Mussolini controlled papers use language like that to describe persons in high places with whose policies they are out of patience or in disagreement.

In these days when statesmen are incessantly under grave compulsion to do their utmost best sarcasm and ridicule from the sidelines are poor substitutes for constructive neutrality.

I am not an Anglophile, and I am not one of the socially ambitious climbers you seem to think abound in such numbers, but neither am I one of the legion of second guessers who can always show the world's foremost statesmen how it should be done.

Just what is your peeve?

Doris W. Pine.

OUR SOCIAL WORKERS.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The present relief crisis in Chicago is to a certain degree of the social workers' own making. In order to insure themselves steady employment they have made relief people think the depression is here to stay; they have done everything to encourage relief as a vocation. Many physical ailments which people who work for a living haven't time to think about are sufficient excuse for some case workers to rate relief clients as totally incapacitated for work.

In this as well as other ways of making employable relief people think the government owes them a living, the social workers here have built up a huge army of professional reliefers, the support of whom threatens the ruin of the taxpayers. If this isn't communism or bolshevism, I want to know what is. The Dies committee would find a fertile field for investigation amongst the professional social workers of Chicago's public relief agency.

THE THIRST FOR BLOOD.

St. Charles, Ill., Oct. 9.—No wonder there is so much talk of war. Boys of 10 to 15 are given guns and are already out maiming and killing small birds. I have lived in these western suburbs for three years and each fall I have seen more tragic sights: Birds left mutilated to die on the roadside just for this lust of cruelty.

Begin by teaching small boys the rights of living creatures and they will not grow up to be men who want to slaughter each other.

ANYWAY, IT WAS SOME FIRE.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—I was a boy of 12 at the time of the fire of '71. I really thought it was some fire until I read your paper today. "Historian Strips Legends from Fire of '71."

Your paper, first published after the fire, which I still have, leads to the belief that it was some fire; but now your historian seems to spoil his own account in saying there was no wind except what the fire produced.

One wonders why the fire did not move westward instead of sweeping for miles north and somewhat eastward, crossing the river and destroying almost a whole city of solid brick buildings in two days. Without a strong southwest wind it would not have traveled so far or so disastrously.

Frederick H. Wood.

ESTATE PROBATE.

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 4 [Legal Friend of the People].—My father died leaving his home mortgaged and little cash to my mother. His will required no bond. My mother just died, leaving no will. I am the only child and I know all will now pass on to me. My father's affairs were in probate for a year.

1. Will my mother's estate have to be probated for a year?

2. Can I be appointed executrix, as I am the only child and heir?

3. Would I have to go under bonds?

4. Can I waive the bonds as everything I handle would be my own? All bills have been paid.

5. If I get a lawyer, would he be the one to waive the bond, or is it really unnecessary?

Mrs. K.

1. If probate was necessary on your father's estate, then it will also be necessary on your mother's.

2. No, in the sense that in absence of a will you would not be called an executrix. Yes, in the sense that you could obtain court appointment as administratrix.

3. Yes.

4. No.

5. He could not waive it.

CITY WINS INITIAL ROUND IN AIRPORT LAND LITIGATION

Court Refuses to Dismiss Condemnation Suit.

One more step in the long process of enlarging Chicago airport was taken yesterday when Circuit Judge Denis J. Normoyle overruled all motions to dismiss the city's and the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad's condemnation suit against 200 property owners.

The suit was instituted to obtain a new right of way for the railroad. When the property is acquired the city will move the tracks that now bisect the airport to the new right of way. Then the two halves of the field will be united and the landing area increased from 360 to 620 acres.

Further Hearings Set.

A number of other motions, filed a month ago when the trial of the suit began, will be heard by Judge Normoyle on Oct. 23. All these motions attack the court's jurisdiction in the case. If they also are denied, the judge said, witnesses will be called immediately and the taking of evidence begun.

In the motions denied yesterday counsel for most of the defendants had contended the railroad had no right to condemn land for the new right of way. Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph F. Grossman, who represents the railroad and the city in the case, replied that the plaintiffs were empowered to condemn the land under an act of the legislature passed at a special session in 1938.

All arguments in the case have been over highly technical points of law. They have continued for three weeks over the protests of Grossman.

Speed Court Action.

"It looks now," he said yesterday, "as if there is no chance for the city to settle any of these suits for the 75 parcels of property involved outside the courts. We're pushing for rapid progress and hoping that we can get title to the property this year."

If the condemnation suit is completed this year, it will be 1941 before the new right of way can be completed and the airport cleared for use, engineers report. The city, under an agreement with the railroad, is paying the costs of the suit, the new right of way, and the laying of the new tracks.

Efforts to enlarge the field have been in progress since 1933, and have been actively pressed for the last two years.

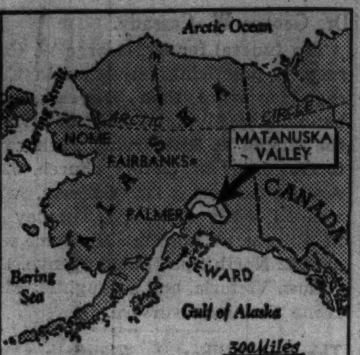
AVERAGE AUTO OWNER'S TAX IS $40.50 PER YEAR

Chicago's 527,183 passenger automobile owners paid $28,467,882 in direct and indirect taxes as part of the cost of operating their automobiles in 1938. The estimate was made yesterday by the National Consumers' Tax commission.

The report showed that the average Chicago owner of a car which was new when he purchased it paid $40.50 in taxes as part of his operating expenses. The tax burden on a used car owner was placed at $34.04. Both classes of owners were reckoned to have paid $18.72 in state and federal gasoline taxes. Both paid an average of $10.50 for a state license. An annual proportionment of the tax on the original purchase price was placed at $11.28 for the new car owner and $6.46 for the used car owner.

This tax commission is a nonpartisan organization seeking to arouse opposition to "consumer penalizing taxes." It is headed in Illinois by Mrs. Franklin M. Miller, wife of a Chicago automobile dealer.

Crops Ruined



A severe snowstorm and a cold wave has inflicted "untold damage" on crops of farmers in the government's Matanuska valley project in Alaska.

ALASKA COLONY'S CROPS RUINED BY SNOW AND COLD

Don Snowshoes and Salvage Remnants.

PALMER, Alaska, Oct. 11 (AP).—Colonists in the government's Matanuska valley project turned to dog teams and snowshoes today to salvage what they could of their crops after a severe snowstorm and cold wave. The weather created the most serious crop situation since the colony was formed more than four years ago.

The midwestern farmers who came here to escape dust and heat were unable to estimate the "untold damage" from the sudden snowfall of 12 to 18 inches on Sunday. The temperature hovered around 10 degrees above zero, and there was no moderation in sight.

Only a small portion of grain had been harvested. About 80 per cent was in shocks in the field or uncut. Acres of market garden produce were caught unharvested. Fields of cabbage were blowing bare and freezing.

Ice Adds to Damage.

Farmers expected at first the snow would melt, but the sharp drop in temperature froze the little that had melted and formed a thin layer of ice.

Mrs. Harry Duff, wife of a colonist, hitched a dog team to a sled and struggled through the snow, digging potatoes that were still unfrozen. One field of cabbage was harvested in part by colonists who went out on snowshoes.

One farmer had 25 acres of hay uncut. Its loss would mean a feed shortage for live stock. Other colonists each had 10 acres of grain flattened by the snow. Even the colony's experimental farm was damaged.

Some Quit and Go Hunting.

Many colonists were depending on money from their crops to meet obligations. Discouraged, some gave up hope and left for the forest to hunt.

The colony, established by the government for rehabilitation of stranded populations, expected to harvest its biggest crop this season. The land is especially suitable to the growth of hay, potatoes, cabbage, carrots, turnips, rutabagas, beets, radishes, onions, parsley lettuce, spinach, and other vegetables. In addition to crops, the colony has a large live stock and dairy business.

Produce is marketed through a farm coöperative association. Originally the colony was sponsored by the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation corporation, but many of its functions have been taken over by the coöperative.

The valley's population is about 800.

MUNDELEIN WILL LEAVES CHURCH $35,000 ESTATE

Probate Discloses Modest Wealth of Cardinal.

George Cardinal Mundelein died a relatively poor man. He left all his estate, estimated at $35,000, to the Catholic church.

This was disclosed yesterday when his will was admitted to probate by Judge John F. O'Connell in Probate court. The will was brief and directed that the little the Cardinal had of material wealth be used by the church for religious education and charitable purposes.

Recalls Source of Wealth.

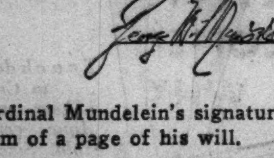
After an introductory paragraph, the will said:

"1. I direct my executor hereinafter named to pay all my just debts and funeral expenses as soon after my death as is practicable.

"2. I give my soul unto the hands of God and commit my body to the tomb I have prepared for it at the Seminary of St. Mary's of the Lake, Mundelein, Ill.

"3. I give and bequeath unto the Catholic Bishop of Chicago, a corporation sole, the sum of $1,000 for the purpose of saying masses for the repose of my soul.

"4. In view of the fact that I had very little personal means when I entered the priesthood, and because all that I have accumulated has come to me by reason of my position in the priesthood and episcopate, I wish that whatever possessions I may have, both real, personal, and mixed, be given to the church whose servant I have been for more than forty years. I therefore do hereby give, devise, and bequeath all of the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, real, personal, and mixed, of every kind and character and wheresoever situated of which I may die seized or possessed, or which I may own an interest in at the time of my death, or over which I may have any power of appointment, or other disposition, unto the Catholic Bishop of Chicago, a corporation sole, to be used for religious education and charitable purposes."



I have been for more than forty years. I, therefore, do hereby give, devise and bequeath all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, of every kind and character and wheresoever situated of which

George W. Mundelein

Executors Take Oath.

In the fifth article of the will the cardinal designated as executors the Most Rev. Edward F. Hoban, bishop of Rockford, and the Very Rev. Msgr. Robert C. Maguire, pastor of St. Catherine of Siena parish in Oak Park. Clerk Frank J. Lyman administered the executors' oath to them.

The will was filed by the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin, and Ellis. It was indicated that the estate is principally in cash.

The cardinal, who died Oct. 2, owned no real estate in Illinois. He owned a home in Florida. Ancillary probate proceedings will be necessary in that state.

Testimony regarding the natural heirs was given by Joseph Eppig of 1017 Columbian avenue, Oak Park, nephew of the cardinal. They are Eppig's mother, Mrs. Margaret Eppig of Wilmette, a sister of the cardinal, and two children of another deceased sister, George and Arthur Hull of Brooklyn, N. Y.

ANN E. BOYNTON'S ESTATE PAYS TAX ON $211,101 VALUE

A state inheritance tax return filed yesterday in the Lake county court at Waukegan showed that the gross estate of Mrs. Ann E. Boynton of 1005 South Sheridan road, Highland Park, was $211,101. Mrs. Boynton, widow of C. T. Boynton, died last December. Debts and administrative costs, including federal inheritance tax, were $32,178, leaving the net estate $178,923. The state tax was $2,518. A son, Donald S. Boynton, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Millard and Mrs. Edith Harmon, are the principal heirs.

Two Donations Received for Camp and Ice Funds

Two gifts were received yesterday by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. Grateful acknowledgement is made of the donation of $25 from the Harriet Sayers Trust fund which brought the Camp Algonquin fund to $929.37, and of a contribution of $1 to the ice fund from Mrs. R. H. Parmly. Mrs. Parmly's gift raised the ice fund to a total of $1,377.66 for the year.

FROSH TRIUMPH AT N. U.; SEAT WARMING ENDS

An emancipation proclamation for abused freshmen was issued yesterday by Northwestern university. For years upper classmen in fraternities and sororities have been sending freshmen to Dyche stadium as much as two hours before the kickoff at football games to snatch the best seats in the student section and warm them until the upper classmen, after a leisurely lunch, should stroll in to take over.

The freshmen would then vacate the seats and often enough, since the number of student seats is limited, pass the rest of the afternoon watching the game from an aisle or some obscure corner.

William Nims, counselor for men, and Ted Payseur, ticket manager, issued an edict terminating this practice. They ruled that in the future no one can get up from a seat in the student section before game time after once taking it.

CHICAGO FIREMEN SHADOW BOX FOR SAKE OF SCIENCE

Pour 500,000 Gallons of Water Into Air.

More than half a million gallons of water were pumped in a steady stream from a fire department high pressure wagon at Adams and Franklin streets last night. But there wasn't any fire.

While the stream arched through the air for eight hours signal guns barked and signal lights flashed. Commands crackled over a portable short wave radio lent by the police department.

Thirty engineers from the fire department, National Board of Underwriters and Armour Institute peered at the stream from windows of adjoining office buildings and made notations about its length and height.

Serves as Experiment.

All the noise and water was serving a scientific experiment. It was an experiment as accurate for its purpose as one conducted within a laboratory.

The purpose was to determine the effective reach of streams pumped through a fixed nozzle on a high pressure wagon. As it progressed the diameter of the nozzles used increased from one and one-half inches to two and one-quarter inches and the pressures from 80 pounds a square inch to 240 pounds.

The experiment was planned by Col. Clarence Goldsmith, assistant chief engineer of the Underwriters' board. The fire department operations were supervised by Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan and Chief Deputy Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney.

Col. Goldsmith explained that firemen today are using hose according to tables computed in 1897 with smaller nozzles. To test modern high pressure equipment and large nozzles, he selected the Chicago department because he said it has the best high pressure equipment in the country.

To carry out the experiment a high pressure wagon was stationed at the street intersection. It was equipped with new nozzles specially honed and ground on the inside to give maximum performance. Two of the newest city pumpers supplied it with eight lines of water.

The stream was shot north in Franklin street between the Adams Franklin building and an office building on the west side of the street. Both buildings were illuminated by a fire department light wagon.

Study Stream's Effectiveness.

An official observing committee including Col. Goldsmith, James Gleason, head of the fire department equipment shop, and Joseph B. Finnegan, professor of fire protection engineering at Armour studied the stream from the east building. They determined its effective distance at the point in the stream where the core begins to break into spray. Their work was checked from both buildings by engineers. The Underwriters' staff will now compute the heights and distances of the stream from those observations.

From the experiment his department will learn the exact point of efficiency for each nozzle, degree of elevation and amount of pressure, Chief Corrigan said.

Fire Prevention Inspection of Stoves, Furnaces Urged

Now is the time for all good men to see that their stoves and furnaces are in good condition for the winter, Fire Commissioner Michael Corrigan announced yesterday. His appeal to landlords and tenants was made in connection with fire prevention week.

The false spring, which brought temperatures of over 80 degrees on six days since the first of the month, has deceived the pear trees in the orchard on James B. Cook's farm at Addison, Du Page county. They're in blossom all over again, for the second time this year. Cook says he doubts he'll have pears at Christmas, for the trees are still too young, but if the weather stays warm for a few more days he expected several more trees to put forth blossoms.

C. I. O. HAMPERS ARMY AND NAVY, HOFFMAN AVERS

Strike Delayed Work on Contracts, He Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] today accused the Congress of Industrial organizations of "criminal conspiracy" in calling a 41 day strike at the Bohn Aluminum and Brass corporation, Detroit, and delaying work on army and navy contracts.

Hoffman introduced resolutions asking full reports of the strike from the secretaries of war and navy. He also submitted a bill making it a criminal offense to prohibit or interfere with the manufacture of necessary government implements or munitions of war.

He charged on the floor of the house that Attorney General Frank Murphy had failed to prosecute Richard T. Frankensteen, C. I. O. official often accused of radical activities, for organizing the strike.

Making Bearings for Planes.

The strike was called at the Bohn plant on Aug. 29 and continued to Oct. 9. It delayed work on contracts for the construction of bearings to be used in motors for military planes.

"When this strike was called," said Hoffman, "the C. I. O. affiliate threw its picket line around those factories and by force prevented the delivery to the navy of parts which are absolutely necessary to make the planes and go into ships to protect our country.

"When the navy of the United States demanded of this union that it withdraw its pickets and that these parts be freed to go into navy planes the union refused. How do you like that? It is not treason because we are not engaged in war, but it is a criminal conspiracy to overthrow or to prevent the activities of this government, and to do it by force.

Charges Frankensteen.

"The man at the head of that strike was Frankensteen. This thing was turned over to the labor department, and the officials of the company were called down here. They were told by a member of the war department that the production and delivery of these parts was necessary and that the strike must be ended. But did the government call down the representative of the union? O, no.

"Frankensteen, sitting in Detroit, calls up the labor department and tells them what the union wants. How do you like that? Who is running this government and what is the sense of sitting here and voting millions of dollars to deliver our planes and manufacture munitions of war when all the time overhanging us is this red hand controlled by Russia?"

Hoffman said he had been informed of the circumstances of the strike by government official, but wished the formal reports from the war and navy departments to verify his statements.

Named to Distribute Relief.

He accused Murphy of overlooking Frankensteen's part in the strike and recalled that Frankensteen had been appointed to distribute relief in Michigan by Murphy, when the latter was governor of the state.

He said that the strike was called to force the corporation to enter into a contract with the C. I. O. for a closed or preferenial shop and not for the purpose of getting shorter hours or higher wages.

Hoffman pointed out that in event of war the draft law would exempt the persons engaged in such essential industries as those dealing with coal, steel, motors, and oil. He charged that it is the purpose of the C. I. O. to gain control of these industries.

"Here you have in America," he declared, "an organization which reaches out its hand and stops the wheels in the factories which are producing those things which are essential to our national defense, and the administration does nothing about it."

It was indicated here that the Dies committee, investigating un-American activities, will probe the whole matter along with investigation of radical activities in industries receiving national defense contracts.

Cable Car Brackets

Brackets which held underground mechanism for cable cars, unearthed at Michigan avenue and Washington street.

Workmen building a sewer connection at Michigan avenue and Washington street yesterday unearthed some old cable car brackets underneath Michigan avenue. The brackets, about four feet below the surface, formerly supported pulleys on which the cables moved in turning the corner at Michigan and Washington. Cable car service was discontinued in 1906, but a number of the underground facilities were never removed. Engineers said excavations for utilities underneath streets uncover cable car equipment every now and then.

The city sewer department is connecting the Michigan avenue sewer with the Washington street sewer so that sewage can be carried westward from Michigan avenue and then south to the Stickney filtration plant.

CHILD, 12, SPEAKS FOR DEAF MUTES IN EVICTION SUIT

Judge Justin F. McCarthy bent a benevolent eye upon Laura Finney, 12 years old, in Renters' court yesterday. Laura was spokesman for her parents, Alva, 65 years old, and Cora, 51, both deaf mutes. The Finney family owed a week's rent on their flat at 2107 Dayton street, for which they had been paying W. M. Vogt, $15 a month. Vogt brought suit for eviction.

Laura was granted her request that the family be given another week in which to continue the search for cheaper rooms. Finney has not had work since last August, when he lost his job under the ruling limiting continuous WPA employment to 18 months. The tearfully happy Finneys left court with a windfall of $29, a collection taken up in the courtroom.

PEACE REQUEST IS SENT TO C. I. O. BY ROOSEVELT

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 11 (AP).—President Roosevelt appealed to the C. I. O. convention today for peace in the labor movement. He said national unity depends upon mutual confidence, goodwill and coöperation.

The appeal, addressed to John L. Lewis, president of the C. I. O., was similar to one he sent to the American Federation of Labor convention.

Lewis indicated a reply to the message would be left in the hands of the convention. Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. director, said there was only a slim possibility of the two labor groups reuniting unless the industrial setup of the C. I. O. could be preserved.

DUBUQUE CIGAR MAKER IS DEAD.

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 11 [Special].—Joseph J. Michel, 74 years old, owner of a cigar factory here for 40 years, died today. Mr. Michel was a bass singer in St. John's Episcopal church choir for 43 years. He was a former state president of the Order of Eagles.

C. I. O. THREATENS CHRYSLER WITH GENERAL STRIKE

50,000 Idle Now Because of Slowdown Tactics.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11 [Special].—A general strike in all plants of the Chrysler corporation was threatened tonight by the United Automobile Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate. The union announced its intention to file a five day notice of a strike, which is required under the new Michigan labor law.

More than 50,000 automobile workers already are idle because of slowdowns which have stopped production lines. It is expected that these tactics will affect a total of 60,000 workers by tomorrow. Six Chrysler plants in or near Detroit virtually had suspended operations tonight. The trouble started in the Dodge plant and spread to others.

The dispute is over the speed of production in Chrysler factories, principally the Dodge plant, a key unit in which the management charges the union instigated a slowing down of work. The union claims that the company speeded up the assembly line and that workmen, unfamilair with new models, were unable to keep up.

Viewed as New Weapon.

Employers charge the slowdown tactics are a new weapon of the C. I. O. in its labor warfare. It offers to disgruntled workmen numerous advantages over a sitdown strike or a walkout.

Under the new Michigan labor law, employés in a struck plant encounter considerable difficulty in qualifying for unemployment benefits. If a slowdown forces the management to close a plant, however, workmen can argue, in seeking unemployment insurance, that it is not their fault that they are idle. It is difficult to establish whether the applicant is a slowdowner or an employé forced out of work because of slowdown tactics on the part of others.

Union leaders vigorously denied the company's charge that a general slowdown has been ordered to build up a case preparatory to new contract negotiations. Dodge employés, however, gathered in groups in restaurants and beer gardens near their plant and joked openly at the havoc caused by the slowdown.

Getting Evidence Is Difficult.

Some workers are so adept in the art of slowing down that their foremen have difficulty in assembling evidence of obstructionist tactics. One Dodge foreman said he has many times watched men he knew were deliberately slowing down, but he was unable to catch them loafing.

"One case was that of a man who screws on moldings," the foreman said. "I watched him when I noticed he wasn't turning out the normal amount of work. When I stopped beside him his screw driver slipped off the head of a screw and gouged the molding so badly he had to replace it. Then he blamed me for making him nervous by watching him."

Can Shut Down Conveyor.

The necessity of replacing parts that fail to stand inspection at the end of the assembly line makes this mild form of sabotage extremely effective. Because of the progressive nature of automobile assembly work, obstructionist tactics on the part of a few men can shut down an entire conveyor line.

Since the efficiency of each man depends on that of his neighbor, one man who does not complete a part of his work can reduce by half the production of several employés farther down the assembly line.

The company charged that men in a spray paint department allowed each fourth body to pass untouched, causing a conveyor line to shut down. A like situation occurred when men allowed every other chassis to pass without completing work on it.

CIO UNION COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN TRUCE OFFERED BY NASH CO.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 11 [Special].—Pledging to continue the 11 day old strike at the Nash plant until their aims are achieved, the executive committee of the United Auto Workers local, a C. I. O. affiliate, this afternoon answered a truce proposal reiterated by the management today.

"We desire a speedy return to work, but we can continue to accept the inconvenience of a strike if necessary," the union statement said. "If the company will agree to accept the recognized principles of collective bargaining, so that our members may protect themselves through union organization, the other differences between the workers and the management can be settled speedily."

The company is insisting on a clause which would forbid the union to intimidate or coerce any employés. The union describes this as a clause that means individual bargaining and the breakdown of collective bargaining, and on that portion of the contract the negotiations have been deadlocked.

CITY WILL HONOR COLUMBUS TODAY AT MANY FETES

The 447th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' arrival in a strange new world will be observed today.

All banks, the Chicago Board of Trade, public offices and public and parochial schools will be closed. Many of the schools yesterday held programs commemorating the discovery of America.

The Columbus monument at Roosevelt road and Columbus drive, will be the setting for two ceremonies today. At 11 a. m. the Italian American Women's alliance will place a wreath at the base of the monument. A longer program will be held at 3 p. m. under the auspices of Christopher Columbus post, No. 1492, of the American Legion.

The Order of Sons of Italy in America will hold its annual commemorative banquet tonight in the Medinah club. Salvatore Vitello, attorney and president of the Justinian Society of Advocates, is chairman.

Rochester, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—Mrs. Amanda Swygert, 85 years old, died today at the home of her son, Irwin. She had been an invalid for ten years.

A. F. L. EXTENDS ITS BOYCOTT TO RUSSIAN GOODS

Votes for Neutrality; Raps Emergency Powers.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—A boycott against Russian goods and services was voted today by the American Federation of Labor. The German boycott, which the federation adopted some four years ago, was reaffirmed, as was the boycott against Japanese goods and services.

Delegates to the 59th annual convention here adopted resolutions that, since the Hitler-Stalin treaty, the federation could not well continue a German boycott without including a boycott against Russia or any other country which might ally itself with Russia and Germany in the European war. The resolutions called for application of the boycott "until Hitler and his totalitarian government cease persecution of the Jewish people and of Catholics and Protestants" and until the right of free trade unions to exist has been recognized.

Votes for Neutrality.

The convention declared officially for neutrality, in a long resolution on keeping the United States out of Europe's war. The declaration said that America went into the world war to make the world safe for democracy, but instead seemingly made Europe safe for dictatorships.

"The only way by which we can avoid being drawn into the present European war," it said, "is to determine definitly that under no circumstances will we enter into any national policy which will include the use of armed force, except should our shores be attacked; that we will not under any circumstances become involved in war except to repel invaders."

It did not take any position on the pending controversy in congress over the neutrality act.

Blasts Emergency Legislation.

The resolution said labor has not been assured adequate representation in such legislation as has been prepared for congressional action, should a national war emergency arise.

"Policies are being advocated which, on the surface, seem to be neutral and fully justified, but which, if approved, would lead our nation to take those first steps which, when taken, would of necessity lead to others which in turn would so commit our national policy as to irresistibly and irretrievably force us into the war," the resolution concluded.

The delegates voted a demand for the dismissal of communists from administrative posts in national and state governments.

RECREATION VIEWED BY M'NUTT AS WAY TO PRESERVE PEACE

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11 (AP).—Defining recreation as "peace insurance," Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security administrator, tonight urged coöperation between federal and local agencies "in keeping the play of children and the leisure of our people in harmony with the Democratic ideal."

Speaking before the Twenty-fourth National Recreation congress, McNutt said recreation leaders must present leisure time activities which the people have demonstrated they want, adding "this element of free choice may be recreation's main contribution to democracy."

The American recreation program, he maintained, must not "be a purely regimented physical program as is true in some foreign countries. Out of leisure time will grow the new culture for America. It must be a culture which provides for the intelligent use of the arts, which provides for socializing experiences in addition to physical development."

REMOTE VILLAGE ENJOYS ITS DAY AS STYLE CENTER

Million in Furs to Change Hands in One Hour.

BY THORNTON SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wausau, Wis., Oct. 11.—Thirty sharp eyed fur experts, mostly from New York and Chicago, are spending this week in Hamburg, a remote village in the Wisconsin woods, scanning 10,000 silver fox furs that will be offered in the retail market during the coming winter.

After each expert has inspected each fur and entered its description in code notations in his private record book, they will meet tomorrow to bid on the last of the 1938-'39 crop of silver fox furs bred and raised by four Fromm brothers who have made Hamburg the silver fox capital of the world.

Including tomorrow's sale a total of 63,000 silver foxes will have been sold this year by the Fromms at a total wholesale price of approximately 3 million dollars.

Third Sale of Season.

This is the third sale this year that has brought fur experts from across the country to the Fromm fur ranch, 20 miles northwest of here. Most of the furs sold have been from animals bred and raised by this group of four Wisconsin farm brothers who as long ago as 1908 were looking for a new product that could be raised profitably on the wooded acres of northern Wisconsin.

Because buyers flock to Hamburg for the Fromm sales, the brothers now sell furs for other Wisconsin ranchers, including a few blue foxes, some red foxes, and some mink pelts. They are selling the 32d generation of silver foxes bred and raised on their ranch.

The Fromm Brothers are the only fur producers in the world who sell their own goods by auction direct to the wholesale market.

$1,000,000 Sale Per Hour.

When the auction gets under way, with Edward Fromm, senior partner, and Al Appelbaum, New York representative, acting as auctioneers, each buyer will have a complete record of each fur, will know what it is worth to his firm, and a million dollars in pelts will be disposed of in an hour or so. Bidding is by signal, no buyer being willing to let his competitors know the price he offers.

The Fromm brothers were among 2,500 Wisconsin farmers who began to breed fur bearers in captivity more than 30 years ago.

While the Fromms' adventure grew to be bigger business than the others, fur raising has been profitable for many Wisconsin farmers. Walter Gruett, manager of the Thiensville plant, said there are 1,500 fox raisers in Wisconsin who combine raising and marketing furs with their ordinary farm operations. They average about 120 pelts each year, contributing a total of 180,000 furs to the wholesale market. Gruett said the small fur ranchers average about $10 net profit on each fox sold.

COUNCIL GROUP ORDERS TRAFIC SAFETY DRIVE

The city council trafic committee, headed by Ald. George D. Kells [28th], voted yesterday to start a campaign on trafic law enforcement. The action was taken after George Fleming, chairman of the Keep Chicago Safe committee, quoted from a report made by him last year which said Chicago policemen not in the trafic division are ignorant of safety laws and not interested in their enforcement.

Purdue Professor Killed When Hit by Motorcycle

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 11 (AP).—Dr. Robert Alexander Craig, 67 years old, head of the Purdue university veterinary science department since 1904, died of a skull fracture late today two hours after he was struck by a motorcycle in West Lafayette. The motorcycle was ridden by Frederick Eade, 26, of Evanston, Ill., a former Purdue student.

LORRAINE GOODALL.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 11 (AP).—The body of Lorraine Rosemarie Goodall, 23, an air lines stewardess, was found in a flaming automobile in the rear of a service station today.

Battalion Chief Frank Kispert of the fire department said Miss Goodall had been burned to death. A gallon can was in the coupe but Kispert said there was no odor of gasoline. Neighbors were awakened by a blowing of an automobile horn and found the machine in flames.

Miss Goodall, who attended the University of California in 1933 and 1934, had been a United Air Lines stewardess on the Oakland-Los Angeles run for six months.

ARMY INSTRUCTS DOCTORS IN EYE TEST FOR FLYERS

Two army medical officials appeared before the annual convention of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology yesterday to explain the severe tests of vision given candidates for the government's aviation services. They are Lieut. Col. Robert K. Simpson and Lieut. Col. Frederic H. Thorne. Accompanying them was Dr. Eldridge Adams of the Civil Aeronautics authority. All stressed the importance of good sight to aviators.

The council of the academy approved a proposal that a Pan-American congress of eye, ear, nose and throat specialists be held in the United States next year. It is to follow the 1940 academy convention.

The convention chose Dr. Frank R. Spencer of Boulder, Colo., as president-elect. On Jan. 1 he is to take over the office, succeeding Dr. Frank E. Brawley of Chicago. Dr. Spencer, a University of Michigan graduate, is president of the Colorado State Medical society.

$313,000 REPAVING JOB ON STATE ST. WINS APPROVAL

The Illinois highway department yesterday approved the city council's plan to spend $313,000 of gasoline tax funds for repaving and widening State street from Division to Kinzie street, a distance of one mile. The present 38 foot street will be widened to 51 feet to take care of extra trafic anticipated because of the construction of the new subway beneath it, according to John B. Hittell, chief engineer of streets for the board of local improvements.

The city intends to repave all streets under which the subways are being dug, Mr. Hittell stated. Application to use gasoline tax funds to repave State street from Lake to 11th street, a distance of 1½ miles, and Dearborn street, from Lake to Van Buren, three-quarters of a mile, will be made shortly. It is expected the two projects will cost $1,500,000.

Drunken Driver Fined $100; $25 Paid by Trolley Passer

Judge Joseph B. Hermes of Safety court yesterday imposed two fines for reckless driving. Mrs. Mildred Hodges, 26 years old, 5504 Dorchester avenue, was fined $25 and costs for passing a street car on the left at 67th street and Cottage Grove avenue. John Protrawski, 29, of 3727 South Wood street, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Protrawski was arrested after his car was wrecked in front of 2455 Archer avenue.

WPA DISREGARDS STATE'S RELIEF RESIDENCE LAW

Orders IERC to Forget Three Year Limit.

The Work Projects administration yesterday ordered the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to disregard the length of time a person has lived in this state in offering him to the WPA for a WPA job. Applicants must have lived in this state three years or more before they can ask for direct relief.

The three year law was passed by the legislature to keep out of state floaters off the direct relief rolls. The WPA makes regulations for admittance to its rolls.

Calls for All Names.

The WPA also directed that needy persons shall be referred to it by the relief agency whether or not jobs are available. The policy of the IERC, as announced in August, was to limit eligibility for WPA jobs when there were no jobs available. Last winter a policy similar to the one now ordered by WPA piled up a list of more than 70,000 persons for whom there were no jobs.

The new WPA directions were contained in what was described as a "joint agreement"—it was written by WPA—and sent to the IERC for approval. The IERC decided yesterday to sign it.

Oscar E. Hewitt, city commissioner of public works, and Harry S. Doyle, chief clerk in the city controler's office, appeared before the relief commission yesterday in an attempt to speed up a special allocation of state relief funds to the city. The city wishes to use the money in sponsoring WPA projects.

"If we can get a man who is costing $25 a month in relief funds on to the WPA rolls by giving the city $10 as its contribution toward the project on which the man is to work, we will save $15," said Leo M. Lyons, IERC executive secretary.

City to Pay Quarter.

After Jan. 1 the city will have to contribute 25 per cent to the cost of WPA projects it sponsors, Hewitt said in a letter read to the IERC. The city will have to supply $23.33 per worker per month to provide supplies and materials. The man's pay will come from WPA.

The program for 1940 calls for employment of 58,430 persons a month at a cost of $49,081,200 to the WPA and of $16,360,400 to the city. The city has prospects of having only $3,010,000, or enough to employ 10,750 persons a month on WPA during 1940.

Hewitt and Doyle also told the commission that the city needs funds at once to carry out its WPA program for the rest of this year. Hewitt is to present project proposals to the IERC staff for study before they are presented to the governor for his approval.

PEDESTRIAN DIES IN AUTO MISHAP, DRIVER IS JAILED

George Karan, 47 years old, of 8929 Green Bay avenue, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by an automobile in front of 8951 Mackinaw avenue. The driver did not stop.

A half hour later, however, he returned to the scene and identified himself as John Nagy, 24 years old, 10643 Bensley avenue. Nagy was held by the South Chicago police.

Edward Pendleton, 71 years old, a retired passenger department employé of the Chicago & Alton railroad, who was run down by an automobile Tuesday night as he crossed the street in front of his home at 3401 South Western boulevard, died yesterday in St. Anthony's hospital. The driver was William Hershman, 6402 South Sangamon street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 651 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 499 were killed in Chicago, where 17,072 were injured in the same period.

SPEED TRAP BAR ON CONSTABLES IS HELD VALID

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—The 1939 state legislature's law against speed traps was upheld today by the Indiana Supreme court. The law specifies that constables cannot make an arrest for a trafic violation except on a warant issued by a justice of the peace for a specific complaint.

The statute was enacted after residents of northern Indiana protested against racketeering of constables and justices in making unreasonable trafic arrests. Herbert Clements, St. Joseph county constable, was arrested for violation of the law. He won in the lower court. The state appealed.

In its opinion, written by Judge George L. Tremain, the Supreme court said the office of constable is not provided in the state constitution. Since the office was created by the legislature, the legislature can curtail or expand jurisdiction of the office at will, the opinion said.

Leaders Plan Roll Call Drive by Red Cross

The American Red Cross faces its greatest test since 1917, chairmen who are to conduct the 1939 membership roll call in Chicago and the suburbs were told yesterday at the annual roll call rally in the Blackstone hotel.

The charter of the Red Cross pledges it to give aid in countries at war, so the society again must expand its services to fill relief needs in Europe.

Three hundred persons were present at the rally, including the 157 chairmen who will supervise enrollment in the city and suburbs and their vice chairmen. James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter and member of the central committee, presided.

A special guest and speaker was Mrs. August Belmont, a director of the New York chapter and also a central committee member. It was Mrs. Belmont who directed coördination of the peacetime volunteer services of the Red Cross.

Roll call will open on Armistice day, Nov. 11, and continue to Nov. 30. Roger Holden, acting manager of the Chicago chapter, estimated that 5,000 volunteers would solicit memberships in this area. Directors of the campaign hope to double the present membership of 140,000.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 11 [Special].—Norman H. Davis, chairman, Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary, and Wayne Chatfield Taylor of Chicago, former treasurer of the American Red Cross, were honored today with Chilean Red Cross decorations in gratitude for the relief given the citizens of Chile after last year's earthquake there.

Davis was awarded the great cross of honor, and Miss Boardman and Taylor the medal of honor, first class. The presentation was made at the Chilean embassy by Señor Don Alberto Cabero, ambassador of Chile.

Sweet Potato Introduced in a Tasty Pie

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Down south where sweet potatoes and "yams" grow so abundantly, southern cooks make them into pies and puddings almost as often as they serve them with ham. Sweet potato pie is much like pumpkin pie. It's made the same way and has a similar flavor. Sweet potatoes are a vegetable, fitted by nature for dessert dishes because of their affinity for sugar and sweetenings.

Almost all sweet potato recipes, exclusive of the plain mashed, baked, and boiled versions, call for brown sugar, maple sirup, or some other sweetener.

Sweet Potato Pie.
[Nine inches.]

Unbaked pie shell
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
1 cup brown sugar
2 cups milk and cream
3 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon cornstarch
4 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine all ingredients. Dissolve cornstarch first in the orange juice. Beat until well blended, pour into the unbaked pie shell and place in a hot oven, 425 degrees, for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and bake half an hour or more longer until custard is firm. Serve topped with sweetened whipped cream.

Casserole of Sweet Potatoes and Apples.
[Six servings.]

4 medium sweet potatoes, boiled
3 tart apples, pared, cored, and sliced
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup butter
¼ cup maple sirup

Peel and slice potatoes. Arrange in bottom of greased casserole and sprinkle lightly with salt. Add a layer of apples, sprinkle with brown sugar, and dot with butter. Repeat until ingredients are used, having a layer of potatoes on top. Pour maple sirup over the mixture. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 minutes or longer, until apples are tender.

Sweet Potato Puffs.
[Serves four or six.]

3 cups mashed sweet potatoes
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
¼ cup milk
1 egg
Halved marshmallows

Combine sweet potatoes, salt, butter, and milk and mix well. Taste and, if necessary, add a little more salt. Beat egg and mix into the potatoes. Drop mixture from a spoon into piles on a greased baking sheet and place a half marshmallow on each puff. Brown lightly in a moderate oven, 350 degrees. This mixture may be piled into a casserole, dotted with marshmallows, and browned as a single dish. Marshmallows may be omitted.

Candied Sweet Potatoes.
[Serves four.]

4 cooked sweet potatoes
3 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup water

Cut potatoes in halves lengthwise and arrange in buttered baking dish. Dot with butter. Cook brown sugar and water to a sirup and pour over the potatoes. Bake in a 375 degree oven for half an hour or so, basting the potatoes frequently with the sirup. Maple sirup may be used for basting instead of the brown sugar sirup. Or orange juice may be used instead of water in the brown sugar sirup.

MAGIC CHOCOLATE PIE

Only five minutes' cooking—and the filling is never too thick, never too thin! The secret? Borden's Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk—made from extra rich milk, blended with sugar. (Evaporated milk won't—can't—work in this recipe.)

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1⅓ cups (1 can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
Baked pie shell (8-inch)

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk, and stir over boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add water and salt. Stir until thoroughly blended. When cool, add vanilla. Pour into baked pie shell. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired. Chill.

Guide a Child, Don't Destroy a Strong Will

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

With scarcely any effort at all I can at the moment call to mind three families in which there was a father or mother whose will was imposed upon their children. In each case the course of the children's lives was changed by the domination of the parents, by their efforts to break the determination of their children either in general, or in a specific direction.

As I look at those lives I can't think that the changed course was for the better, or toward the fulfilment of the personality of any of them. One was denied a career of music and in her rebellion made a hasty marriage to get out from under an iron hand; the desires and opinions of another were disregarded because his mother made all decisions solely from her own angle and to suit her own convenience, producing an unhappy blend of bitterness and insecurity in the young man's life; the third was coerced quite young into a loveless moneyed marriage by an ambitious mother, but broke the bonds when she had matured enough to free herself from domination.

All three of these parents in later years became resentful, bitterly accusing their children of ingratitude.

Will power and spiritedness are wonderful equipment with which to start out in the world. If your children have these attributes we should be only too glad to foster, encourage, develop them.

Yet always there have been parents who have felt it incumbent upon them to break a child's will. They feel their superiority challenged by just the knowledge of strong willpower in their child, even without a display of it. They feel the need of pitting their strength against their child's to break his spirit.

Such contests are a grave mistake. And suppose a parent does win. What of it? Does it do his child any good to lose faith in his own power of will, to have his spirit reduced? Not at all. On the contrary, everything should be done to preserve intact a child's spiritedness, to conserve the iron in him or help temper it into a tensile steel.

So, when specifically a child is unmanageable, or defiant, or stubborn, the way to work out the situation does not lie in a subduing of his will; neither in the feeling nor in the actual announcing of the intention: "Very well, we'll see whose will is the stronger—yours or mine!"

A parent's part is not one of struggle with his children. His function is to direct, to influence, to guide, to lead, with firmness and loving tenderness, with thought only of the child's ultimate good, not "Who is master here?"

Watch! You'll notice the strong-willed, domineering, rigidly determined parents have seldom been the ones who have turned out loving and independent sons and daughters. And when those children do finally fly the flag of freedom and self-reliance it is in spite of such parents, not because of them.

Everett Marshall to See Daughter, 8, for the First Time

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Everett Robert Marshall, opera and radio singer, will be permitted tomorrow to see his 8 year old daughter, Belan, for the first time. Marshall and his first wife, Carolina Segrera Marshall, were separated before the child was born and the mother and daughter have been living in Santiago, Cuba.

The fact that his daughter and her mother were in New York came as a surprise to Marshall, who had appeared in the Supreme court today to move for suspension of the $150 a month payments that he has been making for the child's support so the mother might be forced to bring the child here.

Lewis A. R. Innerarity, attorney for the first Mrs. Marshall, told Justice Aaron J. Levy that Marshall had not waited for the court's permission to stop payments and that contempt action is now pending before Justice Ferdinand Pecora because the singer is three months in arrears.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

Yesterday, I pointed out that many players, proceeding on the theory that "an ace is an ace," and horrified at the thought of losing one of these beautiful cards, invariably cash them in at the first opportunity. I stated that, as a habit, this is just as bad as, or worse than hanging on to an ace until it is extracted by brute force. Today's hand illustrates the danger and waste of "hanging on."

♣ K Q 9 6 5

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's second bid was a shade ambitious. A single raise to two no trump would have been sufficient even though he had two and one-half honor tricks and a five card suit. If his diamond suit had been just a shade stronger, something like A K 10 9 2, his actual choice would have been justified. However, thanks to a timely bit of coöperation from the defense, the game contract was fulfilled.

West opened the spade queen and declarer, more afraid of a heart shift than he was of the spade suit, won with the king in dummy and started his clubs by leading the jack. East, a player who cherishes his aces and hates to part with them, ducked and, of course, the jack held. Now the club seven was led and East had the questionable privilege of winning a trick that contained no honor at all except his own beloved ace. The contract now was home. Declarer won the spade return, ran off three more clubs, then collected the ace and king of diamonds and the heart ace.

Almost all players have learned that they should "cover an honor with an honor." Indeed, they depend too blindly on this not always applicable principle, but unfortunately their training has not been so complete in the matter of killing adverse honors. Technically speaking, when a defender plays an ace on a jack, queen or king, he is not covering, because the word "cover" implies the sacrifice of the covering card. But, as important as it sometimes is to sacrifice an honor by covering, thereby to establish a trick in one's own or partner's hand, it is even more important to kill adverse honors. In this specific case there are many reasons why East should play the club ace on the jack. First and foremost, he should "kill" the jack. Second, by winning the trick, he may preserve a club stopper—entry in his partner's hand which will be valuable in running the spade suit. Third [which is really an extension of the first reason], by capturing the jack, East may promote a card in partner's hand that otherwise would not take a trick. It is this latter fact that works out in the case in point. If East smothers the club jack, South never can take more than three club tricks, but when the jack holds and the ace is put to no better use than capturing low cards, four club tricks inevitably develop. Obviously, in this deal, South cannot get the fulfilling trick in any suit other than clubs.

The Housewife

A number of women have written me, saying that they'd like to try cleaning their living room rugs at home, and asking if there is a good product for doing the work. There are several rug cleaners on the market. The one I have in mind today is made by a firm well known for reliable furniture polishes, floor waxes and cleaners. It is a liquid which comes ready mixed and does not require the addition of soap.

Its makers claim it will remove dirt and grease from rugs with hardly more effort than it takes to sweep them. And you apply it by means of a long handled brush, so there is no bending over and resultant backache. It's guaranteed harmless to any fabric or color that soap and water alone will not injure because it contains no harmful chemicals, ether or ammonia.

Fiancee Loses Ring in Heat of a Quarrel

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

An unusual situation, this. We'll let the young woman tell her own story:

"On a recent Sunday evening my fiancé and I had a bitter quarrel. It resulted in my taking off my engagement ring with the intention of returning it to him. Through the intervention of a dear friend, things were smoothed out. But I, still being in a huff, thrust the ring into my purse. Then we took a walk and somewhere I dropped the ring. I can assure you that the loss of it has increased my difficulties.

"You cannot realize how I feel over the loss of it. Since I am unemployed, I cannot afford to advertise for it.

"Believe me, it has been a great lesson to me. The remorse that has been eating me has doubly punished me for my childish behavior. My fiancé has forgiven me, but my mind is not at rest, as the ring was an heirloom in his family and impossible to duplicate. The sentiment attached to it makes its loss doubly felt!

M. K."

Whether M. K.'s ring turns up again or not, her experience is presented here just as a reminder to other possible quarreling couples and future warring couples. Time and again women have gone dramatic and done things with the ring they regretted bitterly later. Better keep it for days, at least until one has cooled off, before making the momentous decision to hand it back forever.

There is something deep-rooted in the man in connection with that ring with which he endows his loved one. He takes its return to him with a deplorable dent in his affections. We suspect that the man has a more deeply rooted sentiment about the engagement ring than even the woman has.

Woolen Robes Stay Cozy, Yet Achieve Swank

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Having withheld [for humane reasons] important information regarding warm woolen robes during the last unexpected heat wave, we now hopefully report. We will describe the latest excitements for a crisp and chilly morning—the padded house coats and the newest Shetland wool dressing gowns. Designers are tossing off these cozy units with all the verve and dash usually saved for velvets and slinky crêpes. See the new arrivals for proof.

The long princess lines of soft, cuddly Shetland wool robes are medieval swank personified. There is a band of gold braiding all the way down each side of the inevitable front zipper [concealed], around the collarless neckline and the narrow cuffs of the long fitted sleeves.

If such a model doesn't satisfy any "Lady Gwendolyn" urge you may have, the season's best idea is a flop! These romantic and practical models come in three shades—a luscious shell pink, a Dresden china blue, and a dull white. Picture perfect and not expensive enough to frighten any one.

For a very modest sum you can slide your streamline into a padded cotton house coat that is the last word in snap and color contrast achieved by dots. It's a turn coat affair of bonfire red and bright navy blue, peppered most effectively with tiny white dots . . . blue on the outside, blazing red for the lining. The skirt has a slick flare, the bodice fits snugly, and the sleeves are semifitted, long and smart.

A little more money and you can own the delectable comfort of pale pink padded robe with pin dots of white, or a gleaming heart breaker of white satin handsomely quilted in diamond pattern, with all edges bound in lipstick red. It looks like a Russian ceremonial robe for hot tea pouring, but can be domesticated for the aroma of the morning coffee drinking as well as used as a house coat for stay-at-home lounging.

And there are the "tea cozy" robes back again, the outside lovely Paisley prints, the inside of daring jade green or Chinese vermilion taffeta. The sleeves are puffed in the Elizabethan manner, the skirts a mad swirling circle, and the bodice top fitted as snugly as the cinched-in belt.

Ozark Wash Day.

Down here in the Ozarks the farmer's daughter still wears lingerie made from flour sacks. And in this land of homemade "light bread" and hot biscuits, rapidly accumulating flour sacks are also turned into sheets, pillow cases, aprons, nightgowns, and baby clothes. I'm in a position to know, for today the drouth sent a half dozen hill families to the grassy banks of Jack's Forks to do their laundry. Here in the rocky hills most homes have cisterns for their water supply, and many of them are wholly inadequate for the demands of household and stock during a long dry spell. For weeks many families near us have been tediously hauling water from town or river. At our farm the Big Pond and one deep well have furnished water for animals, cooking, and scanty bathing, but not one drop could be spared for washing clothes. When at last there were no more clean towels and pajamas something had to be done.

At daybreak this morning we loaded soap, washboard, washtubs, boiler, wringer, and a mountain of laundry into the two wheeled trailer, hitched it to the back of the car, and went down to the river to wash. By the time the sheets and pillow cases were bubbling in a boiler of soapsuds over a fire kindled between two stones, other families began to arrive, each with its soiled laundry and washing epuipment. The Sophus Dubwigs came in their strange family carry-all, a wagon box mounted on an antique Ford chassis, with the rubber tires stuffed with hay. The Bert McDowells were in their wood wagon, driving their big, rawboned mule, named [heaven knows why] Jackson Banner. The Clyde Thomases were resplendent in a new 1935 car. The Barn Holler folks rode standing in a big wagon with sideboards.

Washday became a glorified picnic. As we worked, we laughed, joked, and sang. The cliffs along the river bend resounded with the old hymn:

Yes, we'll ga-ther at the ri-ver-r-r-r-r.
The be-yew-tiful, the be-yew-ti-
fu-u-ul river.
Gather with the sa-aints at the ri-ver . . .
That flows by the throne o-o-of God!

When the clothes had been well scrubbed on washboards we pinned our dresses high and waded knee deep into the crystal clear waters of spring fed Jack's Forks to do the rinsing! The hot golden sun beat on our aching backs and the icy water numbed our feet and legs; but here in the Ozarks we take life as it comes, and there were no complaints. We watched keenly for snakes, turtles, and crawdaddies; we made way for free range stock coming down for long, sipping drinks, and we splashed to the rescue when the youngest Thomas fell into the river and made the hills echo with his yells.

At long last the washings were done and hung in revealing candor on lines stretched between the oaks and sycamores along the river bank. While they dried in the noonday sun, we brought out the lunches which all mountaineer families carry; the Jedge perked a big pot of coffee on the embers of the washing fire, and we ate our fill.

Then, as we lounged, relaxed and weary, on the dry, brown grass, we heard a sound that we had almost forgotten. THUNDER! An instant later a great, black cloud darkened the sky. Lines of clothes were quickly yanked down! Children and dogs were hastily thrust into cars and wagons. Fires were extinguished [in case the rain failed to come]. And away we went to close open doors and windows, calling gay goodbys in high excitement.

Tonight the outside world may be in chaos, but here in the hills all is well. Our stock and fowls, well-fed and well-watered, are snug in their various barns. Within the farmhouse there is the blissful consciousness of clothes clean and fragrant once more. In the far corner of the room the tall Victorian lamp with the chrysanthemums on the shade sheds its mellow glow. Two dogs, a cat, and the Jedge blink drowsily before the crackling fire in the big white stone fireplace. The radio is still. Far sweeter than any mortal music is the beat of precious, welcome rain on the roof, and that metallic murmur of water racing down eave troughs to fall with a hollow gurgle into the cistern by the kitchen door.

Wells and cisterns everywhere in the hills are filling tonight. Parched pastures are being revived. Ponds are catching gallons of clear cold water for thirsty animals. There IS a God, and He is very good!

School Crowd Gives Approval to Smart Togs

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Individuality is scorned in the school age crowd . . . reefers, jackets, skirts, shirts and even slickers have to be just like the rest of the crowd to please exacting youngsters. What the "gang" accepts and wears is the unbreakable rule. The first few weeks of school jell the fashions for both little sister and brother. Here are some of the results.

Leather jackets in bonfire red, in emerald green and brown are the foundation coats around which any school wardrobe is assembled. Kilted skirts, sunburst pleated skirts, skirts that are flared, gored or cut in true circles are classic buys in dark plain colors or in breezy Scotch plaids in precise checks and stripes.

White blouses and sweater sets, made exactly like those that were packed in college baggage earlier in the year, top these brief skirts for the school ages of six to 14. Sweater sets are cherished with equal fervor, this collecting yen starts early! Red still rates first choice, with navy blue and brown coming along.

"Teddy bear" cloth is a brand new fabric destined for much wear and no tear for the youngsters. This soft, fleecy looking stuff is used for separate jackets and comes in cheery red, bright blue, green and dark colors. These coats top the same short skirts as those teamed with the leather jackets. Most of them reach almost to the knee line, some are shorter.

Camel's hair topcoats are also officially O. K.-ed by the crowd. Classics with raglan shoulders, leather buttons, welt seams and plenty of snap come in all sizes from the fascinating small affairs to the distinctive looking larger models for the teen ages. Navy blue chinchillas are dateless and ageless . . . 1939 models have detachable hoods and the red flannel linings plus glittering rows of brass buttons down the front.

Little girls like the simple thin wool frocks fashioned after the smart thin wools of big sisters. The tiny shirtwaist tops with chest pockets, cuffs, button links are worn with belted skirts. Wine red, navy, beige, green, and vivid shades are marked with extremely moderate prices.

Velveteen frocks in one and two piece models are also copied after the grownup creations, the two piece complete with metal buttons and a fitted streamline. The one piece dresses, either in belted or in princess silhouettes, have crisp white collars and cuffs for daytime and lace collars and cuffs for party wear.

No school wardrobe is complete without the important slickers or rain outfits. You'll find all sorts of intriguing outfits for a wet day. Brilliant colors are not only decorative but eye catching . . . a safety precaution for busy corners on the way to and from school. Startling white slickers and matching hats for boys are tremendously successful, they can be seen for blocks. Little sister wears slickers or coats of bright green, red, or white, with small umbrellas to match and these, too, are perfect copies of the swanky outfits made for grownups.

All the shops are featuring matched accessory showings for the youngest set. Everything from gloves to costume jewelry is scaled down in size for small shoppers. Scarf and mitten sets, gloves, mittens, socks, matching caps, hats, belts, separate blouses, bags for school or party or dress parade, and hair ribbons. The rage for hair ribbons, the new hair dos that feature pigtails, is something that might be labeled a significant trend.

Pinafores are another "new" rage. . . . Microscopic white aprons with tiny bibs outlined with eyelet embroidery will cause a nostalgic twinge for some grownups for the days of pinafores and pigtails long since past.

Young Scholars Like Leather Jackets

A young scholar goes to school in a snug leather jacket with plenty of pockets and a snappy belt cinched in at the waistline. There's a hat to match, and the costume is completed with a pleated Scotch plaid skirt or one of solid color cut with a gored flare. The leather jacket comes in bonfire red, Kelly green, and brown, ready for contrast with skirts and sweater sets.

Washington Is Made Seat of Archdiocese of Catholic Church

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12, Thursday [Special].—The designation of Washington as the see city of a new archdiocese of the Catholic church was announced here today at the apostolic delegation.

The Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, archbishop of Baltimore, will have jurisdiction over the new archdiocese, which will be joined to that of Baltimore and have equal rank with it. His title will be archbishop of Baltimore and Washington. The archdiocese will include all of the District of Columbia.

Washington has been one of the few major capitals of the world which has not been the seat of a Catholic diocese.

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt 55; Her Cake Has 21 Candles

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was 55 years old today. Two of her four sons, James and Elliott, who were in town on business, Mrs. Roosevelt explained, saw her cut a birthday cake with 21 candles—the maximum at family parties. Otherwise there was nothing in the way of celebration.

Carlans Make a Superb Show of 'Rigoletto'

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The San Carlo Opera company offered a superb "Rigoletto" last night as the second item of a 13 day Auditorium theater engagement.

What made this presentation of the Verdi classic so good was the combined ability and willingness of singers and conductor to take full advantage of the score's numberless opportunities for rich musical detail. The performance was truly Italian in its exquisite flexibility and its soft, changeable colorings—although the principals happened to be a Bulgarian, an American, and a Rumanian. The conductor—tireless Carlo Peroni—is, of course, an Italian.

Especially in the work of Lucille Meusel as Gilda and Dimitri Onofrei as Mantua did the audience have countless chances to revel in such things as subtle differences of coloring in balancing phrases and intoxicating changes of pace at climactic points.

The performance was Italian not only in the voluptuous beauty of its line but also in its broad, unashamed drama. Ivan Petroff as Rigoletto more than matched the other two principals in his ability to pour huge emotional power into his voice colorings. Often there were those phenomenally expressive split second pauses which give the period that follows them all the power of a pronouncement dragged from the very core of the ego.

Other important parts went to Harold Kravitt [Sparafucile], Charlotte Bruno [Maddalena], Richard Wentworth [Monterone], and Myra Manning [Giovanna].

AUDITION FINALS TONIGHT

The Chicago City Opera company's public auditions, which have been going on since mid-September, and which have attracted nearly 1,000 contestants, reached their semifinals yesterday when 18 young singers performed in the Civic Opera house. From these, 6 were chosen to participate in tonight's finals, which will be broadcast by W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system at 9:30. The public will be invited to send in its opinions of the singers. One man and one woman will be given contracts by the opera company.

The six in the finals tonight are Friedel Schlippert, Edna Thompson, Helen Diane Bartush, Thelma von Eisenhauer, Robert C. Topping, and Serafim Strelkoff.

The general quality of the 18 singers heard yesterday was amazingly high. The project as a whole has been a success, and the credit goes to Mrs. William Cowen, the audition chairman, on whom the bulk of the responsibilities have fallen.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra under Frederick Stock's direction will

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

The Western Front.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 11.—For some years now 16 year old Judy Gumm of Grand Rapids, Minn., has been held up as one of Hollywood's horrible examples. . . . Judy Gumm, of course, is the screen's Judy Garland. . . . People would point her out and say smugly that M-G-M had held onto her and fired Deanna Durbin.

I imagine that Miss Gumm became quite sick and tired of being used as the horrible example in the case because actually she had nothing to do with the boner of Leo the Lion. . . . She was just an innocent bystander. . . . But she became a convenient peg on which to hang the story of Miss Durbin.

More recently, however, Miss Gumm has busted out in a rash of fine performances. . . . Her work in "Wizard of Oz" was excellent, and in "Babes in Arms," previewed last night, the youthful Minnesotan pretty nearly held her own with that youthful indestructible, Mickey Rooney. . . . That is more than anybody else has accomplished when forced to share the screen with Joe Yule's astonishing lad.

I have a suspicion that from this point on Hollywood won't identify Judy as a horrible example of an M-G-M million dollar blunder. . . . They may designate her as the other youngster who appeared in the short, "Every Sunday," with Deanna Durbin and in all probability they'll conclude that it was an amazing coincidence that one little M-G-M short served as a celluloid incubator for two bright young stars.

These Minnesotans have been doing very handsomely for themselves out here in recent months. . . . Judy is one. . . . Still another is Ann Sothern, who's been going places in a large way. . . . Just the other night I caught up with "Here I Am a Stranger" and in it Minnesotan Richard Dix gives one of the most satisfying performances of the year.

Had this performance been framed in a big flicker it would have excited the bravos of the colony, but unfortunately it was buried in a flicker that fell somewhere between A and B classification. . . . Dix has done a lot of fine things on the screen since he left Northwestern university but I doubt if he ever turned in a grander performance than this gem.

The sun was beating down hotly on the ranch when we arrived. . . . Under a spreading chestnut tree stood not the village blacksmith but that national heartache, Clark Gable. . . . In fact, he wasn't standing; he was crouching at the roots of the tree with a hose attached to a bottle that had a syphon arrangement.

"This stuff is like a shot in the arm to the trees," explained Farmer Gable. . . . "You dip a toothpick into the powder, this stuff here, and drop it into this bottle of water, only a few grams. You shake it up and spray it on the trees."

In Tyrone Power's dressing room I found another national cardiac disturbance. . . . Tyrone, unlike Farmer Gable, was not spraying a hypo. . . . He was reading "Johnny Got His Gun," as hair-raising an argument against war as you are apt to find on any library shelf.

It is almost a diary of a young soldier, whose legs and arms and face were blown off by a shell in the world war. . . . Cut off from the world because he can't speak or hear or write or see, the youngster finally is able to communicate with the outside world by tapping out Morse code messages, his head beating out dots and dashes on the bedsprings. . . . The final furious message he taps out is the most scorching indictment of war that you've ever read.

After seeing the magazine spreads on Marlene Dietrich in "Destry Rides Again," a Dietrich with water soaked hair, torn stockings and ripped dress, you hope that she hasn't gone overboard in an attempt to get too far away from her glamor days. . . . After all, she wasn't hard to take in "Desire."

On another glamor front Hedy Lamarr is still holding out for a revision of her M-G-M contract, postponing all action on "Guns and Fiddles," which was to have been prepared as her next picture.

"She may not work for us," says a studio spokesman, "but by the same token she won't work for anybody else."

Hollywood, always quick to choose up sides in other persons' business, has jumped into the controversy with both feet.

There are those who say that M-G-M is correct in its attitude, because that studio signed her to a contract when "Ecstasy" had made her too hot to handle. . . . In other words, that because of their daring, Hedy is obligated deeply.

"There are others who say that inasmuch as Miss Lamarr became a star overnight in a Walter Wanger picture, on a loanout to him, that she owes little or nothing to M-G-M, and that although $550 a week for 52 weeks is big pay, judged by ordinary standards, in comparison to other M-G-M salaries, she is entitled to a substantial raise.

If a mediator could come along to suggest a face-saving device for both sides the row could be ironed out quickly.

City's Musical Season Swings Into Top Speed

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO swings into its musical season today at a fast tempo, for not only does tonight bring the first concert of the 49th season of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, but there are several other meetings of musical importance being held today.

At noon the woman's board of the Chicago City Opera company will meet for luncheon at the Casino as the guests of Robert Hall McCormick. At the same time there will be a luncheon in the Pump room for the young girls who will distribute programs at the Woman's Symphony orchestra concerts this year. And tonight members of the Italy-America society and their guests will hear Maestro Silvio Insana, assistant conductor of the Chicago Opera company, speak about "The History and Interpretation of Italian Song." Lillian Padorr, mezzo-soprano of the company, will illustrate the talk.

After tonight's concert in Orchestra hall Edward L. Ryerson Jr., president of the Orchestral association, and Mrs. Ryerson will give a supper party at their home in Astor street for Dr. Frederick Stock, who is starting his 35th season as conductor of the orchestra. Among the 80 guests will be some younger people, friends of the Ryersons' daughter, Mrs. George A. Ranney Jr. The Ranneys just recently have returned to Chicago to live following his completion of law studies at Yale.

Woman's Symphony Gives Concert Monday.

Debutante Caroline Floto is in charge of the program girls for the Woman's Symphony concerts, the first of which will be given next Monday night in Orchestra hall. The Misses Lela Ellis, Barbara White, Elizabeth Stenson, Katherine Lawrence, Evelyn Lawrence, Madeline Hedly, and Virginia Skinner are in Miss Floto's group.

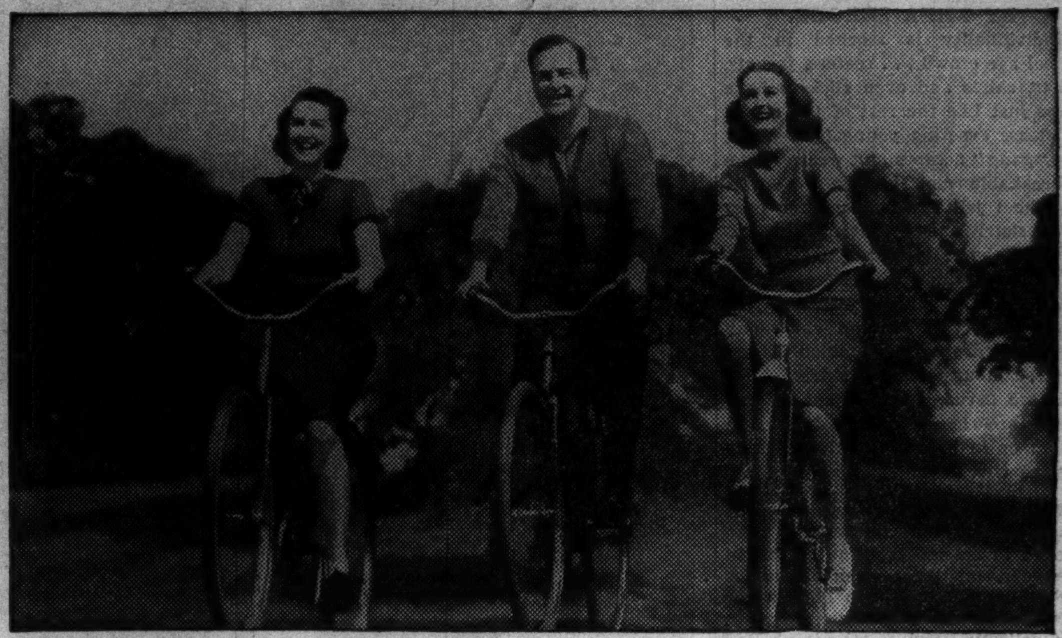
MILLIONS HAVE JOINED THE "REGULARS"!



They've enrolled in a campaign to help free America of one of its greatest burdens — constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. In every corner of the country you'll find men and women who've joined the "regulars" by eating a crisp, delicious breakfast cereal — KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Surprising? Not when you know the story behind this national swing to ALL-BRAN.

Many years ago the researches started that have since piled up monumental evidence of All-Bran's ability to solve this common problem. W. K. Kellogg has retained not only food chemists and eminent nutritionists, but even prominent members of the medical staffs of great universities, to check and re-check every fact and discovery. And the verdict of these scientists is the same as that of the millions who used ALL-BRAN over the last 19 years: here is a tried and proven way to correct constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet.

Ask your grocer. If you, or others in your family, suffer from this distressing trouble (common constipation), don't let it drag you down any more. Ask your grocer tomorrow for delicious ready-to-eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Eat it regularly with milk or cream, and drink plenty of water. But be sure you get the original and genuine ALL-BRAN. Look for the red Kellogg signature on the package. ALL-BRAN is made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Parties Crowd Calendars of 2 Brides-to-Be

Miss Jane Hoover is giving the spinster dinner tonight for Miss June Wilson, daughter of the Alan F. Wilsons of Evanston, who is to be married to George Woodland on Saturday. Preceding the dinner Miss Marjorie and Miss Dorothy Meeker will entertain at cocktails.

The last of a whirl of parties for Miss Wilson and the son of the LeRoy Woodlands of Kenilworth will be a luncheon Miss Evelyn Shuman is giving on the day of the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are giving the bridal dinner tomorrow night at the Georgian hotel in Evanston. Robert T. Wheeler, who is to be the best man, and Mrs. Wheeler entertained at cocktails last Sunday and Mrs. Frank Mueller gave a luncheon at the Pump room on Tuesday.

Mr. Woodland and his fiancée have given up plans for a honeymoon in Havana, where they were to have had the house belonging to his sister, Mrs. William Heagney, and her husband. They are going to Sea Island, Ga., instead. They will live in Milwaukee.

Mr. Heagney was not able to get away from Havana for the wedding, but Mrs. Heagney and her three daughters are here with the Woodlands. Frederick White of New Haven, Conn., and Dwight Thomson of Cincinnati are coming to share ushering duties with Gerard McKinley, Alexander Newton, Alan Wilson Jr., Robert Bowse, and Donald Kimball. The wedding will take place in the evening in St. Luke's pro-cathedral.

Prenuptial Parties for Miss Mann

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Crane II. are entertaining at cocktails this afternoon in their apartment at the Churchill hotel for her brother, William H. Baker Jr. of New York, and his fiancée, Miss Mariana Mann of Richmond, Ind. Miss Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Mann, and Mr. Baker will be married on Oct. 21 in the West Richmond Friends church, with a reception following at the Forest Hills Country club.

There will be a number of parties for them here this week-end, and more next week in Richmond. Mr. Baker is giving his bachelor dinner tomorrow night. The Edward Hoelschers of Geneva and the Clark Buswells of Evanston will entertain at cocktails at the Buswells' on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Plamondon Jr. are giving a luncheon on Sunday.

Miss Harriet Rush and Mrs. Isaac L. Elwood II., who are to be among Miss Mann's bridesmaids, and several ushers, John L. Porter Jr., Mr. Elwood, Edward Coleman of Milwaukee, Leonard Draper, and the bride's brother, Stuart Mann, also will attent the week-end's whirl of parties.

The Cranes wil go to Richmond for a party next Thursday night and for the bridal dinner on the eve of the wedding. Among the many Chicagoans who will drive down for the wedding, which is to take place at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, are the Edwin and the Eugene Fords, the Plamondons, the Otto Lehmanns, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buss.

Robert B. Crane, who is a student at the University of Virginia, will fly to Richmond to be his uncle's best man. Mr. Baker and his bride have taken a small penthouse on 44th street in New York in which they will be at home following a wedding trip.

Mainbocher Returns to America; Calls War Styles Hideous

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Mainbocher, the Chicago boy who became a world famous dress designer, has arrived here from Paris, having closed his French establishment because of the war.

He expressed a whole hearted dislike for war inspired fashions, pointing out that the idea was neither sound nor in good taste.

"What is happening in Europe," he said, "is far too tremendous to be mixed up with anything you wear."

Born in Chicago, the designer has lived in Europe for the last 12 years. He opened his dressmaking establishment in Paris nine years ago and since then has designed clothes for some of the most famous women in the world, including the duchess of Windsor.

"The corset was not a stunt with me," he said. "It was done for a definite reason and to achieve a line that I wanted. Maybe I was tired of the slouch that women were developing, but the corset was not intended to be a trick; neither should it be uncomfortable. I do not believe in imposed fashions and, what is more, the imposed fashion will never take."

MISS' TWO-PIECE ENSEMBLE.

No one has to remind you that the most practical frock you can have in your wardrobe is the two-piece one. So without further ado we're presenting a brand new version of the mode. One of the "different" features is a skirt that is not plaited, but is flared in such a way that it seems to be shirred, while it is not. It lends a dressy line not usually found in a tailored dress. The jacket is a cardigan with new pointed hemline. Wool and silk may be mixed and matched for this ensemble.

Style No. 2998 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for the blouse, 2⅛ yards of 39 inch fabric for the skirt.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. WEDDING

Several Chicagoans will go to Detroit this week-end for the marriage on Saturday of Miss Marjorie Henrietta Gilbert to Irving L. Strader Jr. Among those who will witness the ceremony at 8 o'clock in the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church are the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Strader, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Floto, Miss Caroline Floto, Miss Patsy Floto, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Floto, Walter Floto, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lehmpuhl, Mr. and Mrs. William Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Carberry, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gunderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence V. Johnson. Three Chicagoans will be in the bridal party. Miss Mary Lee Brown and Miss Irene Floto will be bridesmaids, and Robert Lehmpuhl will serve as best man. Miss Gilbert is the daughter of Mrs. Allen A. Wales and of the late Commodore LeRoy J. Gilbert.

Pen Women to Meet.

The Chicago branch of the National League of American Pen Women will open its season with a luncheon at noon today at the Woman's University club, 410 South Michigan avenue. Greta Milos, singer, and Mae Doeiling Schmidt, composer and pianist, will give a program.

Desire Cameo Face? Model Advises How

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The "cameo look," to which Victorian beauties aspired again is the fashion, along with the hourglass figure and the plumelike coiffure of the '80s.

But how to make our faces look like the cleanly chiseled profile in a pink medallion? We know no better tips than those coming from a girl whose face is engraved on modern cameos. She is Alice Frost, actress, whose likeness has been carved on stone for modern jewelry pieces by Nicholas Barbieri, famous cameo cutter.

For a makeup which puts your face in the pink, as clean, delicately tinted and matlike as the cameo, use a waterproof foundation cream in any one of the delectable looking ice cream shades, suggests Alice. These can be gone over with a pad of cotton, wrung out in water to remove powdery residue. Use a cream rouge for a more subtle and lasting color on your cheeks, and touch up your cream rouge with a light dusting of powder rouge to bring up the color tones, subdued by your application of powder.

See that your eyebrows are cleanly outlined. Alice achieves a smoother, glossier arch with a clean mascara brush dipped in soapy water, which holds her brows in a higher, more inquiring arc until it's washed off.

Put your lip rouge on with a brush, drawing your supply of color off your lipstick, as she does, for a clean, crisp oval. The advantage is a fine, hairlike outline for the initial tracing and a smooth, enamel finish when you stroke your color in. If you will powder over your rouge, then apply a second coating of color, the effect will be a more matlike finish, and there will be fewer smears and less frequent repairs.

Then there's the silhouette. It needs "cameo profile" definition, too, and you can't place all the responsibility upon your corset. Holding your head up and pulling your neck out of your shoulders and your torso out of your hips are needed to clean up blurred outlines. It's the best trick there is to take the sag out from under the chin, show the bust off more advantageously and draw in a protruding abdomen. Carry on from that point with a good girdle, and whether it's Victorian whalebones or a few ounces of chiffon elastic, it should be fitted to the figure with an eye to molding and defining the silhouette.

October 12, 1939.

Those born on this date, or Jan. 12, should enjoy increased power and greater financial returns this year. You may have some small evidence of it today. The month calls for caution in spending, for the urge to spend freely comes at the end of this harvest year for them. Since the universal month is one of reckless spending those who are in an eight year will need to use judgment in finances this month.

Waukegan's New Armory to Be Dedicated Tonight

Waukegan's new National Guard armory at New York street and Glen Flora avenue will be dedicated tonight. The principal address will be made by State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis as representative of Gov. Horner. The armory, which cost $299,687, was built principally with WPA funds. It is used by two companies of the 129th infantry regiment.

They Hunted a Fox

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1939: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

Alison Young and her fiancé. Dr. Colin Ladbroke, are guests at Chenerys, the English country estate of Tom Boldre, to attend a fox hunt and ball. Wynn Marchmont, sister of Tom's wife, Pat is engaged to Tom's brother, Derek, a veterinarian. Alison overhears a love scene between Pat and Arthur Kingsclere. Chenerys is mortgaged to the hilt. Gregg, Tom's agent, urges him to accept an offer made for the estate, but Tom refuses to sell. At the hunt, from a far off hill, Alison and Colin see Tom thrown and a man bending over him. When they reach the accident they find Derek stooping over Tom's prostrate form. A farmer, Glover, happens along and helps them. Tom, revived, is surprised that Derek, rather than his neighbor, Maj. Fitts, found him. Three weeks later Tom is again thrown and dies soon after. Alison visits Wynn at Chenerys. Riding near the scene of Tom's first accident they find the dead body of Glover. Official verdict is that Glover was killed by a shot from a passing car. Kingsclere, Derek, and Maj. Fitts all drove that way. Inspector Headcorn from Scotland Yard investigates. He finds the murder weapon. It belongs to Maj. Fitts, but was stolen the afternoon of the day Glover was shot—after Kingsclere and Derek had called. Dr. Blount, who'd attended Tom and pronounced his death due to a heart attack, suffers an apparent stroke while the inspector questions him. His colleague, Dr. Cox, says he can't be disturbed for three weeks. The inspector sends for Dr. Colin Ladbroke, who knew Tom's heart was sound. Colin exposes Dr. Blount's illness as a fake and gets him to admit he gave Tom an anti-tetanus injection, which caused his death, as he had not been desensitized after a previous injection. The first injection must have been given Tom after his first fall when he was unconscious—whoever gave it must have murdered Glover because he was a witness—and Derek was seen bending over Tom. The post mortem on Tom proves murder. Derek admits having anti-tetanus serum which was taken from his room. Derek goes out for a walk in the night—that same night Mrs. Glover is beaten up. Her assailant was evidently seeking to destroy evidence in the farmhouse.

INSTALMENT XXVIII.

EVIDENCE SOUGHT.

That was Mrs. Glover's story. Not one item was to be added or altered.

"Except about the tongs," said Headcorn to the superintendent. "You heard, though, what she said about them? That it was only a general nervousness about being here all alone. That there wasn't, of course, anything worth stealing." He looked dryly round.

"Well, it's all damned odd."

Odder than Mitcham supposed. Headcorn knew, if the others didn't, that Meg Glover was frightened within an inch of her young life. Still terrified. He had seen the glint of it in her eye. And yet that eye was intrepid. If she had held out on him before, she was doing it now all the more determinedly.

"See here," he began, but closed down. Some one was arriving. The officer with the finger-print outfit?

Maj. Fitts clumped into the kitchen.

"What's all this nonsense?" he barked. "What's Sompton coming to? Murders, burglaries . . ." His tone changed. "What I really mean is, how's that poor woman? Alive, is she?"

The sight of the major was a sore trial. Obviously he was on hand to pick up information apt to be withheld from the public, and Headcorn answered tersely, feeling that till this member of a home idle gentry could be removed work would be held up.

"Hah! Blasted queer . . ." Fitts' nose twitched like a terrier's. One hand whipped an eyeglass into place. "Burnt paper, what?" He made a pounce on the huge iron pot.

"If you don't mind, major. Finger-prints, you know."

"Eh? Good God, I'd forgotten! You don't want me fouling your trail. Any harm my looking in on Mrs. Glover?" he ventured, shamefaced.

"Not at all, sir, only, hands off!"

The major guffawed over the jest and stumped into the bedroom. Those behind heard him delivering a few kindly abrupt questions, to which there were soft-voiced replies, and presently a protest.

"Stiff pull of whisky, my girl," advised the visitor. "Nonsense! Just you hang on to that. You'll want it."

Want it? Want what? As Headcorn turned a listening ear the superintendent whispered, "See how he went for that burnt paper? Knows something. Didn't I say so?"

The finger-print man arrived. "Pot first," directed Headcorn, and watched while the major's five clear prints received their coating of thick powder. He was thinking that the victim of assault probably realized last night's search had been futile, and that this accounted for her irritating composure.

The major bustled back. "See here, you chaps! Is it a fact only those few trinkets were taken?"

"We can't yet say for certain, sir," answered the inspector. "Before you go, would you mind letting us take your prints?"

"What?" The man's expression was vaguely startled. "O, yes, yes, to be sure! My infernal meddling just now. Of course, how's it done?"

He submitted to the operation with absorbed interest. As he washed his inky fingers at the sink fresh moisture broke out on his rubicund forehead. The group of policemen waited pointedly. He took the hint.

"Er—most extraordinary! More mystery for you, what? Sorry to be using up so much of your valuable time. I'll just buzz along."

"On his rounds," added the sergeant softly. "Chenerys for a start? Then there'll be Sompton Hall. O, he'll manage quite a number of calls before lunch!"

The superintendent grinned. "They know about this at Chenerys. Gregg got word somehow. He was here at 7."

"Who informed Maj. Fitts? It's still quite early."

"O, that's easy, inspector! Dawkins rooms with Mrs. Hargrave's married sister. She's ill, and Mrs. Hargrave is sleeping there this last night or so, eh, Dawkins?"

"That's so, sir, and she was just getting off to Yew lodge when young Len knocked me up with the news."

Headcorn reëntered the bedroom and closed the door behind him. On the quilt lay a new, crackling five-pound note. The widow fingered it, pouting.

"Very kind, I'm sure," she murmured. "But would you like taking it when all that's wanted is a good story to pass on to his friends?"

"What sort of story?" asked the inspector keenly.

She sent him an odd little glance. "You heard him. He doesn't believe this was just an ordinary burglary. That's what he'll say. It might give wrong ideas."

Taking a chair by the bed the inspector leaned forward, resting heavy fists on his knees.

"See here, Mrs. Glover: If wrong ideas get about, whose fault will it be but yours? Of course last night's affair was no ordinary burglary. No one is better aware of that than you. Now, then, what did that unseen person hope to find?"

Tears welled into her eyes. "How should I know, inspector? I—I've come over a bit faint."

"I'm warning you, that's all." His jaw squared ominously. "Get this into your head: Another time you may not be let off so lightly. What about being trussed up, burnt with a red-hot poker, forced to speak? And then finished off, to prevent further squealing?"

She went a sicklier drab. And then her expression subtly altered. Her pale lips twitched.

"Auntie'll be here. Wait till you've seen her," she gibed.

Bested, Headcorn withdrew. If he had stayed longer he might have shaken her.

"What's that?"

Budworth dumped a dripping ball of cotton material on the table. It fell with a chink. "Raked out of the duckpond in the yard, sir. Lying right in the edge."

Inside a handkerchief marked G. G. was the entire contents of the rifled box. Headcorn sorted the articles with disgust—charm bangle, hair-brooch, every item he remembered.

"Same tactics we had with the revolver." The superintendent pinched his lower lip. "Are we dealing with a lunatic?"

Budworth said, "Either he doesn't bother a rap or else he's dead set on advertising the nature of his visit. Think he examined this lot outside and just chucked it away?" He trailed his chief into the yard. "No car, sir, as you see. We'd have got good tracks in this mud. Other marks, though. What do you make of them?"

Parallel tracks, long shapeless slitherings. They began at the road and skirting the pond led up to the kitchen door, as though made by snowshoes.

GAS FOUND BY WASHINGTON.

The first natural gas discovered in this country was probably a "burning spring" mentioned by George Washington on his visit to Kanawha valley, West Virginia.

BRIDGES OFTEN SLIPPERY.

Motor car safety experts say that bridges often are much more slippery than the roads connecting them. The cause is the lightweight paving on bridges.

fer to make rather than to hear music will meet at the home of the Albert Farwells in Lake Forest tonight for the first of this year's series of rehearsals. David Dushkin directs the group, which includes the Farwells, the Richard Bentleys, the Keith Carpenters, the Corson Ellises, the Henry Porters, Mrs. Hermon D. Smith, Mrs. Louise Bovingdon, Mrs. Franz Lipp, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Welles, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welles.

A Winnetka group meets on Monday nights. It is a larger group than the Lake Forest one.

Members of the board of the Children's Memorial hospital who are on the committees in charge of a benefit concert in November will meet at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Casino to complete plans for the event. The concert will be given on Nov. 26 by the New York Philharmonic orchestra, John Barbirolli conducting. Mrs. Frederic W. Upham and Mrs. William B. Greenlee are cochairmen of the benefit.

Clubs Entertain at After-Concert Teas.

A pleasant climax to the Tuesday and Friday afternoon symphony concerts are teas at various clubs that entertain in this manner all winter. The Cliff Dwellers and the Cordon are two popular after-concert gathering places, and the Chicago College club will be this year, too.

The last named club will be especially crowded tomorrow afternoon, for it will be the formal opening of the club's new quarters at 30 North Michigan avenue, a short walk from Orchestra hall. The new lounge, dining room, and private dining room are smaller than the club's former home in East Delaware place was, but they are particularly appealing.

Miss Ellen Holt was in charge of the decorating. The woodwork in the lounge is of pickled pine; the walls and carpet are beige, and the draperies are of Bryce canyon rose and beige with a figure. One whole wall is lined with books. A gray and yellow pictorial paper is used in the main dining room which has stunning yellow draperies and a gray floor with white stars. The private dining room, which also is the board room, has been done in amethyst, silver, and white. It has a false window, lighted from the back.

Miss Holt and Miss Nettie Baumann, who is head of the ex-presidents of the club, and the president, Mrs. Charles E. Peace, and the directors will receive tomorrow. There will be music. Guests at the opening tea have been limited to members.

Mrs. Hambleton Heads Cliff Dwellers' Teas.

Mrs. Chalkley J. Hambleton is chairman of the Cliff Dwellers' teas for this year. Dr. and Mrs. Stock will be the especial guests at tomorrow's party, the first of the season. Pouring will be Mrs. Stock, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. Elmer A. Forsberg, Mrs. Henry E. Voegeli, Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr., Mrs. Hans Lange, and Mrs. Hambleton.

New members of the Cordon and exhibiting artists whose paintings are on view in the galleries this month will be the especial guests at the Cordon's opening tea tomorrow. John Macdonald, baritone with the Chicago City Opera company, accompanied by Martha McCormick at the piano, will give the musical program. Members of the executive board will receive.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall G. Sampsell are entertaining at cocktails today for Tony and Renee DeMarco who are to dance Saturday night at the Chicago Junior league's open house at the Drake hotel. The Sampsells have not seen the DeMarcos since Mr. and Mrs. Sampsell had a house in London one spring and the dancers were appearing at Grosvenor house.

Mr. and Mrs. DeMarco will be guests of the Peter G. Moons, also friends of that London season, at the dance cavalcade during the cocktail hour at the open house.

Selim McArthurs at Sea Island

Dr. and Mrs. Selim W. McArthur and their elder daughter, Miss Joan, are at Sea Island, Ga., for the autumn season. They spent the late summer at their home on Mackinac Island. Betty McArthur is at the Shipley school this winter.

Mrs. Wyndham Hasler, Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney and the William N. Pelouzes are among the Chicagoans vacationing at the Virginia Hot Springs this week.

The Preston Boydens, who were remarried in New York recently, have taken the Graham Aldis house at 1429 Astor street for the winter. The Boydens' children all are in the east. Their elder daughter is in New York, the younger one is at the Edgewood school, and Archie is at Middlesex.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldis will remain in their Lake Forest home this winter. Mrs. Aldis is going to New York today for ten days.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Gloves, bag, veiling, jewelry, and even nail enamel are perfectly matched—all in one subtle, smart shade of brown with rosy undertones. The nail enamel tint is very new, very beautiful, and was created especially for wear with the brown costume colors.

Not one but four new, marvelous nail polish shades—each tied in as closely as can be with the fashionable fabric colors—hit the town recently.

Of course it isn't much of a trick to bring out a new polish shade. But it is a trick of coördination and fashion wisdom to blend shades for actual costume colors that are on the market or about to be there.

One of these shades, probably the most important from the fashion standpoint, is a brown tinged rosy shade that is echoed exactly by some of the smartest accessories of the season—some of those rich brown hats, bags, gloves and even globs of jewelry.

This shade is strikingly different than any enamel shade you've seen before. But it's not so much of a shocker that it takes all your courage to wear it. It's got such beauty and subtlety that even the conservatives like it immensely—which is much more than can be said of many "off" shades. It's stunning with browns and greens. And brown and black have a newly discovered fashion value this year—so you can even wear it with black if it suits you!

The second of the new shades is a fiery patriotic red. Right in style with the blazing scarlets so many well dressed women are breaking out in this year.

The third is a red too, but with overtones of cerise, that can be a beautiful hand accent for wear with navies, purply tones and the always-beloved blacks.

Last of the quartet is a misty, old fashioned pink, faintly mauve tinged. The conservatives will be crazy about it—and even those with a flair for the dramatic will find it a harmonious accompaniment for the strictly romantic clothes.

These polishes are marvelous in quality. And as one who has suffered a lot because of brushes that shed bristles we take great pleasure in telling you that the little brush that comes in each bottle is a really good one!

open its 49th season in Orchestra hall tonight. The previously announced program has been changed by the insertion of Michel Brusselmans' Suite after the Caprices by Paganini in place of Debussy's "Iberia." Brusselmans is a living Belgian composer.

William Lester will give a lecture on the symphony program each Friday, beginning tomorrow, in the South Ivory room on Mandel Brothers' ninth floor. He will illustrate his talks by means of piano excerpts and phonograph records. The time is 11:30 to 12:30. Admission is free. Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, chairman of the woman's board of the Orchestral association, will speak at the opening lecture tomorrow.

The Illinois Opera guild will present "The Brownings Go to Italy," a one act opera by Eleanor Everest Freer, at the Arts club at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Oct. 11.—The coiffure question—as it affects both winter hats and hairdos—is being settled by Paris specialists. Several leading milliners have reopened their Paris houses; others never closed their doors. All are now preparing small but significant midseason collections.

Hats seem due to execute a complete right about face. Instead of covering a tiny section of the forehead, as they did last summer, many of the new models will cover virtually all the hair. These will be a godsend to Parisiennes engaged in active war work. On their afternoons off—however regulation their hairdo—such hats will transform them at a moment's notice from "hard working girls" into fashionables. American girls will like these headlines, too, because they are both comfortable and extremely flattering.

The handful of Paris hair stylists who are not yet mobilized and their smart clients cannot seem to agree on the subject of wartime hairdos. Most women say they simply cannot cope with long hair these days. Hairdressers say that now is just the time to take a stand for "womanly grace"; that when the boys come home on leave, they'll want to find pretty, attractive girls, not tomboys; that many long haired hairdos are easier to keep well groomed than shingled head, and so on.

Both sides are busy inventing novel hair dresses to back up their arguments. Rene Rambaud of the Maison Emile is a partisan of long hair and formal head silhouettes. He created the Edwardian hairdress especially for America, where the gracious, leisurely fashions of that epoch, banished by the war from Paris, undoubtedly will fulfill their normal style cycle.

The back hair is smoothed and twisted into a tight roll a little to one side and fastened with old fashioned transparent shell hairpins. The modernized version of the Alexandra pompadour bursts into artful foamy curls over the forehead.

Our new kitchens are showing every evidence of developing an extreme cabinet-consciousness. . . . Which is quite as it should be for the comfort and convenience of women who live in the modern small kitchens and must have every square foot of space accounted for, if work is to be made easy and congestion avoided. No end of different combinations can be worked out with the various wall, drawer and cupboard bases, all drawer bases, storage, broom, linen, dish warming and towel drying cabinets. Units are so designed that they fit together in ideal arrangements—for kitchens which may or may not be ideal in shape.

A couple of years back we walked and were willing to walk endless steps to assemble our food and our tools. . . . Now we count our steps—and wise planning of experts, plus cabinets and cupboards galore, have changed the whole kitchen picture.

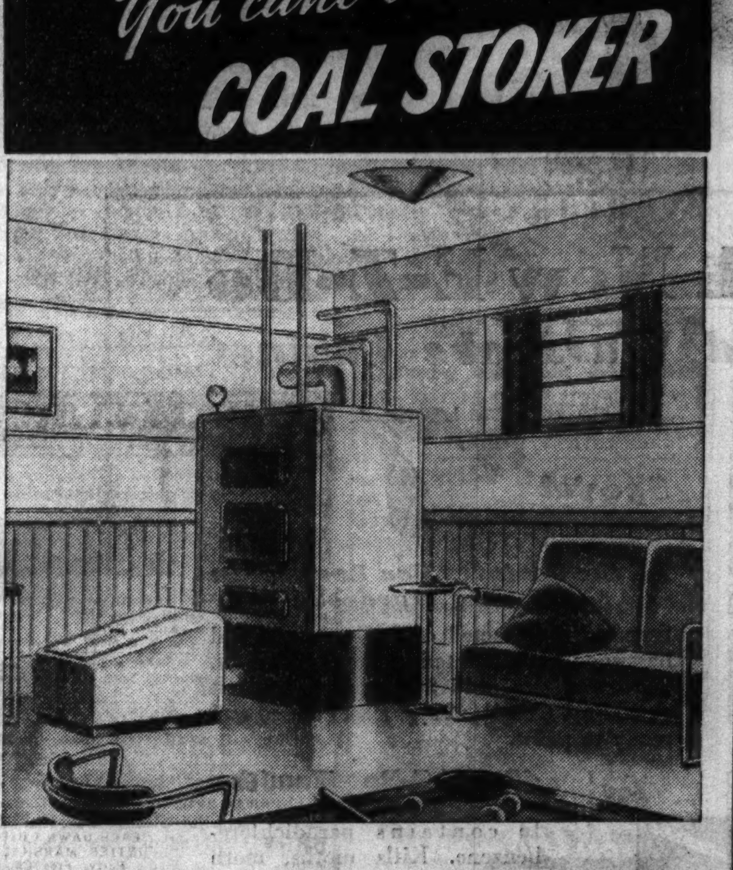
For automatic heat You can't beat a COAL STOKER



Thrifty . . . Safe . . . Dependable

If you are thinking of adopting automatic heat, be sure you get the best. Stokers are becoming more and more popular, not only because they are thrifty, safe and dependable but also because they provide the most satisfactory heat. Before deciding, consider carefully this popular form of automatic heat.

Coal is better because it gives you an even flow of heat. With other fuels, your furnace starts and stops and you get "layer-cake" heat in your home. Glance at the diagram below and see what this means—cold air around your feet, warm air around your chest, hot air around your head.

Let an Association dealer advise you about your heating problems. He has an engineering service available to you at no cost. He will tell you how much you can save with coal. Actually, the next fuel costs you at least 40% more. But be sure you buy a good quality coal for most economical results.

Phone your local merchant and order coal or coke today. If you are not sure he's a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, call STAte 9723.

COAL HEAT IS BEST —COSTS LESS

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

In this day and age every little week has a meaning all its own. The coming period of October 16 to 21 will be observed as the annual National Retail Grocers' Week. The retail grocer is an essential link between farm, field and factory, and your own festal board.

May I suggest that you cast a canny eye over the special sales which your friend, the retail grocer, is offering next week in order to call your attention to the fact that he is on the job to serve you fifty-two weeks of the year?

HAVE YOU TRIED W. C. T. M. H.?

By now, the merest child should know that we have passed out of the machine age into the alphabetical age. Certain combinations of letters have become as familiar to us as the words for which they stand. As, for example, W. C. T. M. H.—Wilson's Certified Tender Made Ham. I am frank to say I have never tasted such ham both for flavor and tenderness.

The next time you buy a whole Tender Made Ham with the Bone-In, try cooking it this interesting way in America's own native tree-juice—pure maple syrup.

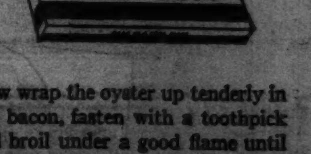
Tender Made Ham in Maple Syrup

Since Tender Made Ham is already cooked and so tender it can be cut with a fork, a baked ham requires only a short trip to the oven for heating and glazing. Have the ham at room temperature. Place it in an open roaster, add one cup of water or fruit juice and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 5 minutes to the pound. Add extra liquid if needed. When heating time is up, remove from oven, take off skin, score fat and stud with large, fat cloves. Pour 1 cup pure maple syrup over the surface and return to oven. Baste frequently until it is a rich brown all over the top.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT

Any Sunday afternoon stroll will reveal such widely assorted couples that you wonder how the two ever came together. The same situation can also be found in the culinary world.

For instance, take a nice long strip of Wilson's Certified Bacon—the kind that is perfectly cured and always of uniform quality and place on it a jolly plump little oyster.



Now wrap the oyster up tenderly in the bacon, fasten with a toothpick and broil under a good flame until the bacon is crisp and the oyster has signified its approval by curling slightly at the edges. Place in an hors d'oeuvres holder and serve immediately. Be sure to make plenty of them.

GOPHERS PERIL PURDUE 10 YEAR BIG TEN LEAD

Percentage Title at Stake Saturday.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

One of the proud boasts of Purdue's alumni and friends is that the Boilermakers' football teams lead the Western conference in Big Ten games won in the last decade. This record is the stake in the game in Minneapolis Saturday, for Minnesota, defending Big Ten champion and also title holder in 1934, 1935, and 1937, only needs to whip Purdue to take the 10 year leadership.

Purdue's remarkable record, while based on the championship won in 1929 and the share in the 1931 title when Purdue, Michigan, and Northwestern tied, is backed by an average of three victories in every four games for the decade. At the start of this year's Big Ten competition, Purdue holds the narrow lead of 11 percentage points over Minnesota. Ohio State, in third place, trails Minnesota by five points but cannot take first place in the 10 year standings even if victorious over Northwestern in Saturday's inaugural.

Ohio State Up There, Too.

The present standing of these teams follows:

	*W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Purdue	36	12	5	.750
Minnesota	34	12	4	.739
Ohio State	36	13	5	.734

*W—Games won. L—Lost. T—Tied. Pct.—Percentage.

In this decade Minnesota and Purdue having met five times. Purdue won, 7 to 0 in 1932, tied the Gophers, 7 to 7, the following year, and was defeated in 1935, 1936 and 1938. Last year Minnesota won, 7 to 0, giving Purdue its sole defeat, although the Boilermakers were tied by Fordham and Iowa. Purdue's all time record with Minnesota beginning in 1894 is three victories, six defeats, and the 1933 tie game.

Each in Comeback Mood.

Purdue has had two weeks in which to recover from the hard fought game lost to Notre Dame, 3 to 0. In this time Coach Mal Elward has concentrated on getting his squad into physical and mental condition for the start of the conference campaign. The psychological advantage his team might have had was dissipated when Minnesota was upset by Nebraska. Now the Gophers have the same stimulus Purdue acquired by its defeat at Notre Dame.

The conference season may produce a record number of upsets. An unusual start was made last Saturday when Wisconsin, Northwestern, and Minnesota were beaten. Last spring if Purdue had been asked to name the Big Ten team most likely to be beaten by the Boilermakers, the answer probably would have been Iowa. But Iowa now is the only undefeated team remaining on the Purdue schedule.

Brown, Brock Are Ready.

The Purdue squad of 36 players will arrive in Chicago at 8:15 o'clock this evening at the Illinois Central station and continue its journey at 11 o'clock tonight over the Burlington. The team will stop at the St. Paul hotel in St. Paul.

Except for brief line scrimmage, contact work has been kept at a minimum. Most cheering news for Purdue is that Jack Brown and Lou Brock probably will be able to pair at the half backs against Minnesota, with John Galvin and Mike Bycene relieving them. While Brock appeared in the Notre Dame game, he had not fully recovered from an ankle injury. Now he not only is able to run but he has started punting.

John Petty, second team full back who could not play against Notre Dame because of a foot injury, probably will be able to relieve Leon DeWitte Saturday. Paul Liebrecht, who appeared briefly for DeWitte in the first game, now is bothered by a bruised muscle.

Timperman's Loss Felt.

Purdue's most serious loss is Herman Timperman, junior tackle, who played more minutes last year than any tackle except Co-Capt. Joe Mihal. Recurrence of injury to his leg, fractured in spring training, and discovered only after he had played ten minutes against Notre Dame, will keep him out of all subsequent games. Stanley Thursby, senior end, who hurt his back last summer, already had withdrawn from the squad before the opening game.

Rochester Ball Club Keeps Southworth as Manager

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Rochester club of the International league announced tonight that Manager Billy Southworth, who led this year's team to victory in the league play offs, had wired from his Columbus, O., home that he had signed his 1940 contract. It was indicated Southworth had received a substantial raise.

Villanova Team Departs to Oppose Texas Aggies

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Villanova college football squad, undefeated in 21 consecutive games, entrained tonight for Tyler, Tex., where it will meet Texas A. and M. Saturday. The team plans a practice session at St. Louis where the train pauses en route.

Lighter, Faster, Better—That's Fenger's Don Griffin

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Donald Griffin.

He's a bit lighter, rival teams say he is faster, and his supporters on Chicago's far south side are convinced that he'll bring another city prep football championship trophy to Fenger's athletic department come December.

Donald [Flash] Griffin, fast stepping, shifty quarter back of the undefeated Fenger eleven, is loose again and headed for the individual scoring record established by Bill De Correvont. Weighing 178 pounds, about five less than a year ago when he scored 22 touchdowns in eight Public High school league games, Donald has participated in three games this season and already is credited with eight touchdowns.

Whew! All in Seven Minutes.

With Griffin leading the way, the defending champions have rolled up 113 points to opponents' 13. Fenger began its 1939 season with a practice game against Marshall in Mills stadium. Griffin remained in the game only seven minutes, but he scored touchdowns on ten and forty yard runs and threw a twenty yard pass for another as the south siders triumphed, 25 to 0.

Griffin added three more touchdowns to his record when Fenger opened its south section schedule by overwhelming Bowen, 53 to 13. In that game he played only 22 minutes. Against Parker last Friday night Griffin played 25 minutes and scored three times, once on a ninety yard run off tackle.

Harper's Next in Line.

Griffin and the team have a date with Harper on Pullman Tech field Saturday afternoon, but there is another important event on Griffin's calendar. A senior and one of the outstanding students at Fenger, he will celebrate his seventeenth birthday Sunday.

Football and his classes haven't proved to be too much for Griffin. Donald also finds time to work three nights in a roller skating rink in Roseland. He's sold a $10 model T Ford, purchased shortly before Fenger defeated Mount Carmel 13 to 0, in Mayor Kelly's game last year.

His College? He's Undecided.

Despite newspaper headlines, Griffin remains a quiet, modest youngster. He credits his touchdown runs to his teammates and blushes when his record is compared with the 35 touchdown mark in 10 games set by De Correvont. Griffin was among the spectators in Dyche stadium last Saturday when DeCorrevont made his debut in collegiate competition.

Griffin has not yet decided where he will receive his college education. Two of his teammates on last year's championship squad, Dean Preston, center, and Rune Johnson, guard, have enrolled at Boston university. Dick Dudzik, end, matriculated at the University of Montana; Tom Howes, end, at Knox; Tony Zilius, half back, at Centenary and John Chiappori, half back, at Miami university in Ohio.

Coaches Boost Him.

Among the Griffin boosters is his coach, Chuck Palmer, former Northwestern half back, and Bob Dougherty, veteran football coach at Harrison Tech, whose team lost to Fenger in the final game for the Chicago Public High School league championship last fall. Says Palmer:

"Donald is greater than he was a year ago. This is his last year and I believe he'll be one of the best ball carriers the public school league has ever produced."

Says Dougherty:

"I watched Griffin in two games this season and he shows a lot of improvement. I don't see how any team can stop him."

Bear, Cardinal Players Lead Pro Statistics

The Bears and Cardinals, who open their annual two game city series in Wrigley field Sunday, lead in four of the five branches of offensive play in the National Football league, official statistics released yesterday reveal.

A bumper crop of individual records are imminent, the statistics indicate. One record already has been broken, another has been tied, and three others are in danger. They are:

1. Don Hutson, Green Bay Packers end, has caught 11 passes for the season, bringing his lifetime total to 136 to supplant John Blood's 135 in this department.
2. Ace Parker, Brooklyn Dodgers quarter back, completed 15 passes against Washington to tie the individual mark for completions in a league game set by Pat Coffee, Chicago Cardinals, against the Bears in 1937.
3. Jack Manders, Chicago Bears, scored 16 points to take second place in lifetime scoring from Dutch Clark, present Cleveland coach. Manders now has 320 points to Clark's 305, and needs only five more to break Ken Strong's mark of 324 points.
4. Ace Gutowsky, Brooklyn Dodgers, has gained 21 yards to come within seven yards of Cliff Battles' lifetime total of 3,398 yards.
5. Parker Hall, Cleveland Rams rookie from Mississippi, has completed 41 passes in four games, an average of three passes a game better than Sammy Baugh's pace in 1937 when Baugh set the league mark of 81 completions.

Joe Maniaci and Bill Osmanski, both of the Bears, are first and second in ground gaining with 316 and 213 yards, respectively. Bill Smith, Cardi-

CUBS' COLLAPSE NO UPSET TO THE BASEBALL FANS

BY EDWARD BURNS.

A survey of the saloons, smokeshops, tearooms, beauty and pool parlors and other centers of sports controversy yesterday revealed that not many were surprised at the extent the Cubs folded in the last three games with the White Sox. Speculation on the effect the series' outcome will have on the winter flesh marts, however, was extensive.

There was certainty that the Cubs, having finished lower in the National league than in any year since 1927, and having folded worse in the city series than they did in series which the Sox took in four straight, would do something to get a team deserving of the adoration the Wrigley team enjoys year after year. Just what can be done, of course, is one of those problems easier to propound than solve.

Sox Should Reflect, Too.

Then there was the old menace of White Sox smugness over the latest outbreak of their old, old habit of trimming the Cubs. Around the Sox camp there have always been many who consider victory in the city series as a whole season. The Sox scoff at Cub talent, then go for the paradox that to beat them is an accomplishment justifying their employment for the season.

Many hold that the Sox will forget the manner in which they bowled over the Cubs and reflect that they lost nine of the last ten American games they played with teams other than the tail-end St. Louis Browns, the worst team statistically the Browns ever had, and that they lost two of the three games in their closing series with the Browns.

Some Sox on Way Out.

The last few weeks of the season revealed that there are grumblers on the Sox who are dissatisfied with the methods and integrity of their employers. Some of these will be weeded out, it is said, but the weeding should not stop there. The Sox need better players in every department, though each department includes some top flight performers. Beating the Cubs is one thing. Beating the Yankees et al is entirely something else again.

The Cubs' program is much greater because they need more players, especially pitchers and fellows who can hit. The Cubs have an assortment of former stars who have a chance to stage comebacks, and this makes ax work a gamble.

Cub Fans Demand Winner.

Cub fans, too, have no appetite for a fourth place team. The Cubs must be pennant contenders all season or their constituents grow cold and critical.

Sox fans, many of them, anyhow, are a little bit on the sappy side. They ask no more than that their heroes finish in the first division, and they don't get very sore when the lads drop into the second division. However, the first year the Sox develop a pennant challenger, they will be a cinch to draw more than a million customers, what with the fine lighting plant in Comiskey park and the proven popularity of night baseball.

And speaking of our survey of saloons, etc., we ran against the recurrent suspicion which attends a series that goes the limit. Not impressed with the honesty of baseball as indicated by the fact the Yankees, at the cost of several hundred thousands of dollars to the proprietors, take the world series in the minimum number of games, the whispering ilk bears down on a limit series.

A Safeguard of Honesty.

Such suspicions are the ravings of not only an ornery mind but an ignorant one as well. These suspicious gents apparently never learn that the players share in only the first four games, the minimum number in which a post-season series can be decided.

Furthermore, if any proprietor were so careless to offer one player a bonus for work in a prolonged series, he could be blackmailed the rest of his life, for Commissioner K. M. Landis promptly would have such a proprietor boiled in oil.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

IT is reported from a reliable source that the Cubs favor a move to break up both the Yankees and White Sox. . . . The attendance at this year's city series, 128,818, was far short of the record, 174,832, established in 1928. . . . The second highest total was 162,918 in 1930. . . . Its game against Chicago Saturday will mark Harvard's second invasion of Big Ten territory. . . . Michigan defeated the Crimson, 14 to 12, before more than 85,000 at Ann Arbor in 1929. . . . A football fan, inquiring about tickets at Northwestern's athletic office the other day wanted to know if the 50 yard line was on the Northwestern or Notre Dame side. . . . Coach Eddie Anderson has promised the Iowa squad it can remain in Chicago for the Bears-Cardinal game Sunday if it beats Michigan Saturday. . . . Otherwise, reports Eddie, the boys will be back in Iowa City about milking time Sunday morning. . . . Only three members of the Cleveland Rams, Tackle Ted Livingston of Indiana, Full Back John Drake of Purdue, and Center Chuck Cherundolo of Penn State, were with the club when it was organized three years ago. . . . Sid Mercer, newly elected president of the Baseball Writers' association, is from Paxton, Ill. . . .

The best records submitted during the summer tournament golf schedule are the 72 hole total of 270 by Dick Metz in the St. Paul open and the 51 under par record of Billy Burke and Ed Dudley in the Walter Hagen anniversary tournament. . . . Bill Fleming, 190 pound right handed pitcher sold by Hollywood to the Detroit Tigers for 1940 delivery, is a nephew of Dave Fleming, vice president of the Los Angeles club. . . . He once had a trial with the Angels. . . . The Green Bay Packers have lost more games than they have won only one season in their 19 years of play in the National Professional league. . . . Bob O'Neill, junior from Ottawa, is seeing the country with Illinois athletic teams. . . . He traveled to the Atlantic coast last winter with the basketball team and he is now with Bob Zuppke's football team in California. . . . Even Bill Terry admits that night baseball is here to stay.

[Friday night.]

I'm a ninth string sub on the varsity club.
My number is old '93.
And I realize that just ninety-two guys
Are quite a bit better than me.
But my gal thinks I'm the best back of all time.
Another Red Grange more or less.
And if she's her way, she'll be there Saturday,
So, brother, I'm sure in a mess.
The first thing she'll miss is my name on the list,
Of players who MIGHT get to play,
Guess I went too far, when I said I would star,
That's why I'm unhappy today.
The head coach don't know if I'm Tom, Dick or Joe,
He spoke to me once—saying "Hi."
Tho I did infer in my letter to her,
That I kinda apple'd his eye.
Well, alack-alas, I'll be there on the grass,
At gametime—with chin on my knee.
For substitute—old '93.

[Saturday night.]

Well, I guess my name made the gallery of fame,
That drop kick of mine saved the day.
I'm the fair haired lad—just a kid Gallahad,
The king of the campus—they say.
My gal has my pin, I've her rouge on my chin,
The head coach is calling me "Son."
My "ninety-three" has been taken from me,
The new one they gave me is "one."
If you keep it mum, I will tell you how come,
I happened to get such a chance.
When "Butchy" O'Brien tore a hole thru the line,
He tore a big hole in his pants.
Says the coach, says he, "Hey there—YOU—ninety-three,"
"Get out there, give Butchy your pants,"
But I thought he said—tho I may be misled,

OWNER UPSET BY LOSS TO SOX, PLAYER DEALS

Successor Would Be an Outsider.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Gabby Hartnett.

P. K. Wrigley.

As manager of the Cubs for 1940 Charles Leo [Gabby] Hartnett is just about as secure as a gentleman with both feet on banana peels. He is likely to tumble any moment. Then again he might survive his present predicament.

If the attitude of P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, means anything Gabby is going to be the victim of the banana peels. But the Cub president, admitting he was greatly distressed by the fourth place finish of the team in the pennant race and the subsequent flop in the city series with the White Sox, yesterday conceded there were factors in favor of the incumbent.

One is that Wrigley's present slant is that of a disgruntled fan and that with a little time he might change his mind. The other item is that the kind of a man the owner wants for the job isn't available at this time.

Successor Must Be Outsider.

There are various candidates for the job within Cub circles, but apparently they will not be considered.

"I once declared that if it became necessary to fire Charley Grimm I would go outside for his successor," said Wrigley yesterday. "Grimm, who had come to me with the admission that he feared he wasn't getting the best out of the 1938 team, argued in behalf of Hartnett, so I abandoned my preference for an outsider and made the change in midseason.

"My reasons," Wrigley continued, "for believing an outsider is a logical choice are twofold. He'll bring in new ideas or attempt to operate differently than a man who has played with the team. And by picking one of your own players you sooner or later find he's a bench manager. Managing a team in the field and from the bench involve different setups. You don't know after a man has succeeded as a player manager whether he can get the same results when not in the lineup. So you're just experimenting."

Hartnett Aloof to Owner.

While not exactly outspoken on this particular angle, Wrigley apparently was and is slightly miffed by Hartnett's aloof attitude during the season. Gabby, as is known, didn't contact his employer from prior to the training trip until after mid-season.

Wrigley touched on this by stating, "I would like to have a manager who would work with me at least to the extent that if he thought he needed help he would ask for it."

The Cub president also gave evidence of dissatisfaction with deals made by the club.

"They say we need a farm club," he declared. "That's what we have now. A lot of our players have gone elsewhere and done surprisingly well."

It was rumored during the world series games in New York and Cincinnati that Clarence Rowland, Cub ambassador without portfolio, was on the job mainly because of managerial complications. Rowland talked at length with dozens of baseball men and supposedly brought back reports that the kind of a manager the Cubs sought hadn't been located.

Dean Near Trail's End.

As for Mr. Diz Dean, the Cub owner is as uncertain as in the Hartnett case. In two years Diz has drawn a reported total of $40,000 in salary. He cost the club $185,000 and three players. He never has been able to pitch except at long intervals.

If Dean doesn't voluntarily retire or isn't released he may not find anything like a $20,000 contract awaiting him next spring. Granted that he's still around at that time [and a new manager probably would not retain him], he'll be told to first prove he can pitch. Having proved he can, he would be tendered a regular contract, but there is ample reason to believe Diz, unless he has been stalling, is about through.

GEHRIG TO LEAVE YANKEES FOR JOB ON PAROLE BOARD

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Lou Gehrig, who played in 2,130 consecutive games at first base for the New York Yankees until a spinal malady ended his playing days forever last May, has entered on a new career. He will be sworn in Monday as one of the five members of New York City's parole board and will begin a full 10 year term on Jan. 1.

Gehrig will receive $6,000 a year, minus a voluntary 5 per cent cut. That is only a few dollars more than he earned by watching the Yankees beat the Cincinnati Reds in four straight world series games. He was voted a full share of the players' winnings—$5,614. His salary for the season was $35,000.

Plans Public Service Career.

Gehrig said he intends to devote the rest of his life to public service. He said he had turned down offers of jobs paying much more money. The Yankees offered him a nonplaying job, but he was reluctant to take an office job in baseball.

Paying high tribute to the famous first baseman, Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia expressed the opinion that he not only would be an able, intelligent commissioner but an inspiration and a hope to many of the younger boys who have gotten into trouble.

"Surely the misfortune of some of the young men will compare as trivial with what Mr. Gehrig has so cheerfully and courageously faced," the mayor observed.

May Visit at Joliet.

Gehrig said he is proud to have been offered the job. He said he has been studying the subject since Mayor La Guardia first suggested the appointment several months ago. He believes the appointment will give him an opportunity to do constructive work and said he is a believer in parole if properly conducted.

In order to learn more about his new job the former Yankee star plans to visit several penal institutions. He expects to visit the Illinois prisons at Stateville and Joliet. He said he has several ideas for improving parole work, but that it is too early to discuss them. The city board often has been criticized.

Gehrig said he expects to devote his entire time to the job, but it is assumed by many that he may add to his income by radio work and advertising indorsements.

Because Gehrig lives in New Rochelle his appointment as a New York City nonresident must be approved by the city council and the board of estimate.

MICHELOBS TAKE SECOND PLACE IN CLASSIC LEAGUE

The Michelobs took second place in the Wednesday division of the Classic Bowling league when they won three games from the Koenigs in the Forest Park Recreation last night.

The Pabsts bowled 1,036, 959, and 1,108 for a 3,103 total, which was high series, and took three from the Pragers. The Pabsts now lead by four games, having won 14 and lost only 4. The Monarchs defeated the Ambrosias twice, and the Schlitz swept their series with Power House.

STARTING GATE KILLS OFFICIAL AT LAUREL TRACK

Laurel, Md., Oct. 11 (AP).—Ceilhus F. Dusak, an assistant starter, fell under a starting gate just after the fourth race today, and was crushed to death in view of thousands of fans.

Dusak, whose home was in Brooklyn, died while being taken to a hospital. Track officials said it was the first accident of its kind they could recall since the gates were introduced on Maryland tracks several

REPORT MOVE TO OUST BARNES, BROWNS' CHIEF

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Sporting News, national baseball publication, says there is an inclination among some members of the board of directors of the St. Louis Browns to demand the resignation of Don Barnes, president of the club, at the board's annual meeting this month.

This faction, the newspaper says, feels that Barnes should retire after being on the job three years without getting better results.

The Browns finished in last place in the American league race twice and in seventh place once since Barnes and associates took over the organization from the heirs of the Phil Ball estate in 1936.

"The chief complaint of the discontented faction," says the Sporting News, "seems to be that they are not taken into consultation when important moves are made. Criticism has been leveled against Bill De Witt, business manager, as well as Barnes."

Chicago Rugby Team to Schedule November Game

The Chicago rugby football team has obtained sanction from the Illinois Rugby football union to match a game with a sanctioned club in Chicago some time next month. Efforts are being made to bring a strong eastern or Canadian team here. Walter Kimball, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in the 13 to 11 loss to Hollywood Sunday night, will be out for the season.

Reserve Ends Tried at Guard in Iowa Camp

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11 [Special].—Although without a starting guard temporarily, the University of Iowa football squad today dug into its preparations for Michigan, convinced that some member of the Hawkeyes would fit into the position before game time at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Henry Luebcke of Chicago, regular right guard, who underwent a hernia operation yesterday, was reported to be resting comfortably in University hospital today. He will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Coach Eddie Anderson tried John Maher and Ken Pettit, a pair of 195 pound reserve ends, at the guard positions and it appeared they would remain there. Others given opportunities to fill the openings caused by injuries to three guards were Joe Moore, reserve end, and Bruno Andruska, reserve center.

ZIMMERMAN MOVES UP.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11 [Special].—Sophomore Bob Zimmerman of Chicago, who performed creditably at full back against Michigan State Saturday, today was moved to quarter back as Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan sought to provide adequate relief for Forest Evashevski.

Although the shift was announced as only tentative, it is expected the former Roosevelt High school star will remain at the quarter back post for two reasons. First, his outstanding defensive play will fit in with the line backing assignment, and second, his signal calling at least will equal that of reserve quarter backs against Michigan State. Zimmerman also was drilled on punting today along with Half Backs Fred Trosko and Dave Strong, and Tackle Bill Smith.

Keller Returns Home Amid Roar, Food, and Posies

Frederick, Md., Oct. 11 (AP).—Charley Keller came home today. Home received him with a roar. Charley is the Maryland boy who went to the big leagues and hit three home runs for the Yankees in the world series.

The boys got out the hero labels and told the high school band to get ready. But Keller's modesty choked up there.

"No parades," he said, and one of the best processions ever planned in this town went by the boards.

But the banquet was all a homecoming hero could ask. Burton Shipley, University of Maryland baseball coach who taught Keller a few tricks in college was there, and so was Bill Hauver, Charley's high school coach from Middletown, along with H. C. [Curley] Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, and Mayor Lloyd C. Culler of Frederick.

Frederick county admirers gave Charley a new automatic shotgun and Mrs. Keller a de luxe toasting set plus enough flowers to start a florist shop.

LANE'S SOCCER TEAM DEFEATS SCHURZ, 3 TO 0

Lane Tech's soccer team held first place in the Chicago Public High School Soccer league yesterday by defeating Schurz, 3 to 0, in California park. Stanley Zdebski and Hector Manjarrez scored goals and the other point was made when a Schurz full back kicked into his goal in attempting to clear a shot.

Kelly remained in second place, outscoring Amundsen, 3 to 0, in Gage park. Ted Kossowski, John Pietrazlek, and Bud Wilcop scored for Kelly.

Two first half goals by Quentin Kelso gave Tilden a 2 to 0 decision over Hyde Park in Jackson park. Manley scored a 2 to 0 triumph over Von Steuben in Sparta field. Capt. Ruben Klasert scored twice for Manley.

INDIANA PASSES WORRY BADGERS; STRESS DEFENSE

Madison, Wis., Oct. 11 [Special].—Wisconsin concentrated on pass defense today as it began tapering off for the Indiana game, first Big Ten test of the season, here Saturday.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher called the Badgers' attention to the fact that Indiana's passing attack netted 237 yards against Iowa. Meanwhile, Stuhldreher gave the varsity several new pass plays which worked effectively against the freshmen.

With Full Back George Paskvan and John Doyle, senior center, ready for the first time in several weeks, Wisconsin will be at full strength with the exception of Ralph Clapp, sophomore guard from Oak Park, Ill.

INDIANA POLISHES ATTACK.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—After two days of concentration on fundamentals, the Indiana university football squad began polishing some of the finer points of its attack today.

Plays which the Hoosiers hope will strike vulnerable points in the Wisconsin defense Saturday were executed in scrimmage. Kenny Smith and Mickey McGuire, sophomores who made their debut against Iowa last week, were used in the reserve back field, along with Tuffy Brooks, another sophomore, and Bill Tipmore.

Indiana's starting back field Saturday is expected to be Eddie Herbert, quarter back; Harold Hursh, and Red Zimmer, half backs, and Joe Tifil, full back.

THOMSEN NAMED CAPTAIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 11 [Special].—As a result of his outstanding play in the Wisconsin and Kansas State games, Gilbert Thomsen of Kenosha, Wis., rugged junior right end, today was named captain of the Marquette football team for Saturday's game with Michigan State at East Lansing.

Marquette's running attack has been revised and blocking assignments were stressed in today's workout. Coaches were impressed yesterday and today with the running and blocking of Warren Hall, a 200 pound sophomore right half back from Chicago. Hall also is a promising punter and passer.

Maroons Wind Up Harvard Drill with Scrimmage

The University of Chicago's football team today engages in its final scrimmage for the Harvard game Saturday. Stress again will be placed on blocking and tackling.

Wallace Ottomeyer, minor letter winner, has been practicing at full back and apparently is the choice to replace the injured Bob Howard as starter against Harvard.

The addition of 185 pound Jim Atkins, Maroon tennis regular who reported yesterday as a tackle candidate, increases the squad to 37 men.

Harvard's traveling squad of 35, headed by Capt. Torbert MacDonald, will arrive at the Englewood station about noon tomorrow and will practice on Stagg field late in the afternoon.

HARVARD HAS A KELLY.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 11 (AP).—There'll be a Kelly in Harvard's lineup against Chicago Saturday—and that'll ring a familiar note to followers of the Crimson. This Kelly, named Dart, is a brother of Shaun Kelly, captain of the 1935 eleven. He'll play right end.

The squad today went through a 40 minute dummy scrimmage against the "C" squad as Coach Dick Harlow completed his serious preparations for the invasion of the midwest.

Does Your Scalp Have Its 121,630 HAIRS
Or are YOU Getting Bald?

AMERICA'S LEADING HAIR & SCALP EXPERTS FORTY-FIVE OFFICES

BLONDES with healthy scalps have 140,000 hairs; red-heads only 90,000; brunettes 120,000—and the average healthy head has 121,630 hairs. Most scalps need help, though, in maintaining their hair quota, because dandruff, scalp itch, and other abnormal local conditions keep hair from growing naturally. Baldness comes when your scalp sheds more hair than it is able to re-grow.

Thomas can help you keep those 121,630 hairs by ridding your scalp of any of the 14 local conditions which cause 90% of all baldness. For 20 years Thomas treatment has been overcoming dandruff, stopping abnormal hair-fall, and promoting hair growth on thin and bald spots. This precise, reliable method can help you too, to retain or regain a good head of hair. Call today for free consultation and a free scalp examination.

WHY SHOULD WE FEAR IRISH? IS CHANT OF S. M. U.

Texas Team Outgained Oklahoma in 7-7 Tie.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 11 (AP).—Southern Methodist university's young football team which meets Notre Dame in South Bend Saturday is incredibly calm in the face of such a difficult assignment, but for good reasons.

No football team, reason the Texans, could come much tougher than the Oklahoma Sooners—and didn't they outgain Oklahoma in a 7-7 tie a couple of weeks ago? Didn't the Oklahomans turn right around and slay Northwestern, 23-0?

The Methodists gained 227 yards to Oklahoma's 97. Not even four sophomores, possibly more, in the starting lineup against Notre Dame's perennial senior eleven, worries Coach Matty Bell.

Blocking Back Hurt.

"Notre Dame, as usual, has a great ball club," says Bell. "They have better talent than S. M. U. Seniors play on their starting team every year—no sophomores. First year men happen to be our key men. But my boys are not afraid of Notre Dame—or anybody else. I look for them to play a smart ball game."

Bell fears Will Mullenweg, star blocking back and line backer may not be able to play. He has a badly bruised hip.

Presto Johnson S. M. U.'s Big Threat.

Presto Johnson, a half back, is outstanding among the sophomore stars. He averaged 44 yards per kick against Oklahoma. Already they are saying he is the best Methodist back since little Bobby Wilson of the 1935 Rose Bowl team. He's carried the ball 19 times for a 6.11 average.

Against Little North Texas Teachers last week, nine S. M. U. passes were intercepted. But Coach Bell is a sly strategist. He had terrible combinations in there trying to complete passes — first, third, and fourth stringers . Only about five plays were used in the easy 16 to 0 triumph.

IRISH RESERVES PROMOTED.

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—Notre Dame's defense for Southern Methodist plays anticipated in Saturday's game was tested in scrimmage today by Coach Elmer Layden, and it was found wanting in spots.

Reserves were used in five varsity positions. Bob Hargrave alternated with Steve Sitko at quarter back, Harry Stevenson took over Bob Saggau's left half back post, Charles Juzwik, sophomore, spelled Lou Zontini at right half back, Capt. John F. Kelly was benched in favor of Sophomore John Kovatch at right end, and another sophomore, Jim Brutz, replaced Tom Gallagher at left tackle.

Each of the first four teams worked half an hour on offense and half an hour on defense, so there was no accurate scoring yardstick. S. M. U. passes, however, worked for several gains.

TUSKEGEE TEAM ARRIVES; HOLDS SHORT WORKOUT

The Tuskegee institute football team arrived in Chicago yesterday and went through limbering up exercises in Washington park in preparation for the 10th annual game with Wilberforce university in Soldiers' field tomorrow night.

Members of the Tuskegee team came by bus from Alabama and established headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. at 3763 South Wabash avenue. Coach Cleve L. Abbott stated that a final practice session will be held in Washington park this afternoon.

The Wilberforce team, also traveling by bus, is expected to arrive from Ohio at 7 o'clock tonight. Both squads will be entertained tomorrow noon at dinner at 410 East 47th street.

DE CORREVONT WINS STARTING BACK FIELD JOB

Bill De Correvont, sophomore half back, will be in Northwestern's starting lineup against Ohio State in Columbus Saturday. That was indicated yesterday when the former Austin High school star took over the left half back position on the first team.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said he hadn't decided who would start for the Wildcats Saturday, but it seems likely that the back field will consist of De Correvont and Ike Kepford, half backs; Don Clawson, full back, and Jack Ryan, quarter back. All are sophomores except Ryan who is a senior.

Work on Blocking, Pass Defense.

That quartet played behind the first string line yesterday as the team went through a stiff drill in which blocking and forward pass defense received the most attention. This is the same back field combination which was labeled No. 3 prior to the Oklahoma game.

De Correvont turned in the best ball carrying performance of any of the Wildcat backs in the Oklahoma game. He had a net yardage of 33 yards from scrimmage in six attempts besides returning a kick off 35 yards. Kepford did not play against Oklahoma because of a leg injury.

Don Kruger Makes Headway.

Another sophomore who may see action against the Buckeyes is Don Kruger, former Fenwick High school player, whose improved blocking has impressed the coaches. Kruger is stationed at right half back along with Kepford and Floyd Chambers. Chambers is also a sophomore.

The task of setting up a defense for the tricky Ohio State attack is one of the principal problems. The Buckeyes have a large assortment of formations from which they run a myriad of plays. Northwestern's fourth team has been putting on Ohio State's offense in place of the freshmen. This departure from the usual custom is because of the limited number of players on the yearling squad.

OHIO DEFENSE SPARKLES.

Columbus, O., Oct. 11 [Special].—Ohio State's regulars had little trouble with the Northwestern plays as demonstrated by a reserve eleven today in their preparation for Saturday's game.

Occasionally a sizeable gain would be made through the line, but the pas offense was stopped.

Following the long defensive drill, the regulars went on offense. If the practice is an indication, passes will fill the air Saturday. Coach Francis Schmidt, in commenting on the passing in the Missouri game last Saturday, told quarter backs his only criticism was that they didn't throw enough. The Buckeyes threw the ball 25 times. Nine passes were completed and two were intercepted.

Purdue Ready for Minnesota; Plans Defense

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 11 [Special].—Purdue's preparations for its Big Ten opener with Minnesota at Minneapolis on Saturday virtually were completed this afternoon with an intensive drill session devoted principally to building up a defense against the Gopher power attack.

Purdue's line candidates, who turned back Notre Dame's best running threats, were given a brief scrimmage session on defense as Coach Mal Elward polished details of the defensive tactics.

In a brisk signal drill, the perfection of timing on forward pass plays was emphasized, with the half back pairs, Brock and Brown, and Byelene and Galvin, all taking their turns in passing.

It was apparent that Elward intends to stand pat on the lineup that opened against Notre Dame with the exception of Whitey Johnson, who will take the place of Pete Timperman, injured veteran, at right tackle, and Lou Brock, who is expected to resume his work at right half back.

The varsity will wind up with a brief drill here tomorrow afternoon before entraining for St. Paul, Minn., where pregame headquarters will be established.

With the varsity out of town, home fans will be entertained Friday night with a game between the Boilermaker reserves and the St. Joseph college reserves on the West Lafayette High school field.

GOPHER SHIFTS STAND.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 11 [Special].—Convinced that Minnesota has the offensive weapons, if used with better generalship than that against Nebraska Saturday, Coach Bernie Bierman turned his full attention to defensive measures today in preparation for the Purdue game Saturday.

SENATORS KEEP BUCKY HARRIS AS 1940 MANAGER

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—Bucky Harris will be back at the same job next year—directing the Washington Senators. Harris, who piloted the Senators to their only world's championship in 1924, signed a one year contract today.

Harris' salary was not announced, but it is understood to be in the neighborhood of $12,000 for the year.

Bucky said he will propose several trades which he hopes will elevate Washington to the first division. The team finished sixth this year.

ILLINI, IN TUCSON, HEAR SCOUTING REPORT ON U. S. C.

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 11 [Special].—Wendell Wilson, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, who scouted Southern California in its first two games, met the Illini football team on its arrival here this morning and with Head Coach Bob Zuppke mapped plans for Saturday's game in Los Angeles.

"The Trojans are not unbeatable," Wilson told Zuppke and the Illinois players as they gathered on the practice field at the University of Arizona. "Their material runs much deeper than ours, but we may have a surprise or two for them," he added.

Judging from the activities in two practice drills today the Illini may rely principally on an aerial attack. It was sensational passing by the Illini in 1935 which brought forth from coast writers the label of "flea circus" as the Orange and Blue won a 19 to 0 victory in its first invasion of the Pacific coast.

Eleven Native Sons.

Eleven sons of Illinois, including five sophomores, were in the first team lineup which Zuppke assembled today. The sophomores were Joe Turek of Chicago, right guard; Nate Johnson of Benton, right tackle; Paul Milosevich of Zeigler, right end; Laverne Astroth of Roxana, right half; and Jimmy Smith of Murphysboro, left half. Seniors in the proposed starting lineup are Bill Lenich of Joliet, center; Capt. Mel Brewer of Carbondale, right guard; and Jim Reeder of Tuscola, left tackle. Juniors are Ralph Ehni of Pekin, quarter back; Cliff Peterson of Moline, full back; and Bob O'Neill of Ottawa, right end.

The Illini found pleasant weather here. It was 46 degrees when they arrived at 7 a. m. and 86 as they worked out in the afternoon.

TROJANS USE SCHINDLER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 12 (AP).—Adding another running threat to Southern California's array of back field talent, Ambrose Schindler returned to form in practice today. The Trojan quarter back bruised his foot 10 days ago and stayed out of last week's game, but will be back in action against Illinois Saturday. Full Back Bob Peoples, bothered by a similar injury, was listed as a doubtful participant.

Joe Beinor Signs to Play with St. Louis Pro Team

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11 (AP).—The Gunners of the American Professional Football league have signed Joe Beinor of Harvey, Ill., tackle on the 1938 Notre Dame eleven. He will report Friday and play in his first game with the St. Louis team in an exhibition against the Green Bay Packers of the National league.

NESTELL SIGNS TO OPPOSE MAX BAER ON NOV. 3

Bob Nestell of Los Angeles, knockout conqueror of Tom Kenneally, yesterday was signed to meet Max Baer, former champion in a ten round heavyweight bout in Chicago stadium, Nov. 3. Promoter Bill Rand will leave for Kansas City, Mo., this morning to sign Baer. Buddy Baer, brother of Max, meets Ed [Tipperary] Murray of Cleveland in an exhibition there tomorrow. Max wants a $10,000 guarantee to meet Nestell, but Rand knows the fighter isn't worth that much money.

Chino Lopez, Kansas City, Mo., lightweight, has been substituted for Earl Gibbs in an eight round contest against Young Kid McCoy of Detroit in Marigold Gardens Monday. In an eight round co-feature Johnny Barbara, South Bend welterweight, has supplanted Verle Davis against Tommy Pallatin, also of South Bend. Lee Oma, Detroit light heavyweight, will meet Al Globe in a third match of eight rounds. Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont., lightweight, and Frankie Agnes clash in a return encounter of four rounds. Agnes upset Seward in their previous meeting.

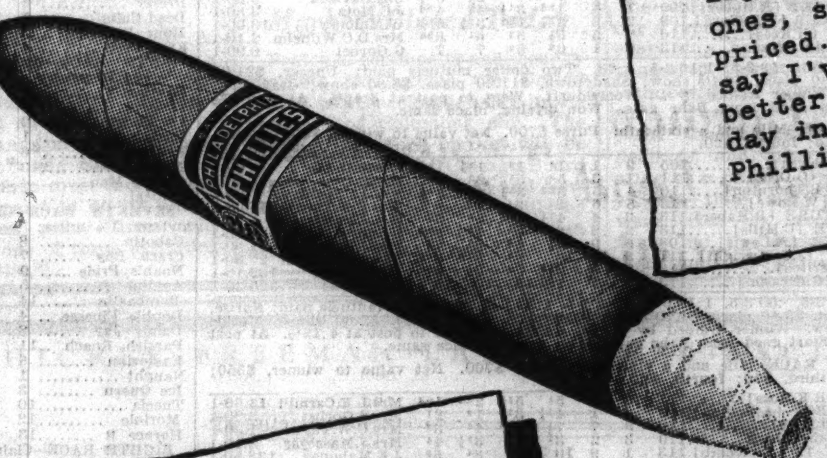
"Dear Sirs:— I've smoked a lot of cigars in my time --5 cent ones, 10 cent ones, some even higher priced. I can honestly say I've never smoked a better, milder cigar--day in and day out--than Phillies".



"That guarantee on the lid of the Phillies box ought to convince any smoker he's getting more for his money than any other cigar can offer"

HERE'S THE PHILLIES GUARANTEE:
The same cigar today, for only 5¢, that was good enough to become the biggest-selling brand at 10¢. Same Imported wrapper—same ripe Domestic—same quantity and quality of fine Havana tobacco.

"As a cigar dealer, I watch what people smoke. Experienced smokers usually reach for the Phillies box. You can bet I keep it on top of the case. I don't wonder it's America's Number 1 cigar. I sell more Phillies than any other two brands combined."

UNEASY WINS IN PALATINE PURSE; EBONY BOY LAST

Favorite Fails to Land in the Money.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Mrs. Emil Denemark's Uneasy, which had been showing good speed recently in morning workouts, proved yesterday that he could run just as well in the afternoon. He beat a field of six rivals in the Palatine purse which headed the Sportsman's park program.

Under Al Richard's good handling, Uneasy came in half a length ahead of Shadytown, Gray Jack being third. Among Uneasy's other victims was Ebony Boy, which had won five of his last six starts. He hadn't been out of the money in eight successive attempts. Yesterday, however, he was in no mood for running. After dropping back in the early stages of this six and a half furlong dash he never was able to reach a contending position and eventually occupied last place.

Revenge for Last Defeat.

Ebony Boy was the 2 to 1 favorite, Uneasy being held at 9 to 1. The Denemark horse had been running well at Hawthorne but had been beaten eight lengths by Ebony Boy in his only previous start at Sportsman's Park. Uneasy had a good workout to recommend him to the bettors, having covered three-eights in :36, which is pretty fast time when the sharp curves are taken into consideration.

In the Palatine purse, Marching Feet and Shadytown went out to set the pace while Uneasy was running in fourth place. After three eighths Marching Feet gave way but Shadytown still had quite a bit left. He weakened in the last furlong when Uneasy came alongside. The Denemark horse was ready to begin drawing away as they crossed the finish line.

Pays $145.60 to Place.

A 90 to 1 shot, Grecian King, ran second to Royal Countess in the second race, paying one of the biggest place prices of the season—$145.60. Show tickets were worth $30.60.

This long shot didn't threaten to win at any stage of the seven furlong dash. After a slow beginning he improved his position gradually and finished with good speed but he was still four lengths behind Royal Countess as they went under the wire. The winner returned $11.20, $6.40, and $3.20, completing a $57 daily double for those who combined him with Corvus, which led the way home in the first at 3 to 1 odds.

Buttons B. Finally Wins.

I. C. Mishler's Buttons B., a 3 year old filly which had been trying to win for months with nothing but a disqualification to show for her efforts, finally succeeded yesterday, beating a field of nine other sprinters at 6½ furlongs. After going wide on the first turn, she recovered quickly. Jockey Ernest Hanke kept her close to the pace set by Bena Bane and brought her up in the stretch to wear down the leader and outfinish The Spotter by a head. Bena Bane saved third place.

PRATTLER WINS ROLLING ROCK HUNT CLUB CUP

Ligonier, Pa., Oct. 11 (AP).—Prattler, owned by Thomas T. Mott and trained by a woman, Judy Johnson, galloped to a four length victory today to take the Rolling Rock Hunt club cup. Carrying the 150 pound load of T. Roby, the seven year old veteran got away with a smart break and never was headed for the two and one half miles over brush. His time was 5:14 2-5, which equaled the mark of Ambrose Clark's Torturer, the 1938 winner. Little Cottage, Masked Knight, and Our Manager trailed in that order.

The race was the feature event of the opening day of the club's two day meet. About 3,000 attended the charity affair. The international gold cup steeplechase classic will be held Saturday to wind up the sixth annual meet.

Hold Holiday Tourneys at 3 Golf Clubs Today

Three golf tournaments are on today's holiday program in the Chicago district. Butterfield and Glen Oak will both hold their annual Columbus day events, and the Harvest Home tournament is on the calendar at Bob O' Link.

DICK TRACY—To the Country

PAT, IS THERE A ROAD LEAVING THE CITY CALLED THE GANEVILLE ROAD?
YES, THERE IS.
GOOD! CALL THE ACME FUR FARMS AT DALTON AND TELL THEM NOT TO LET THEIR TRUCK DRIVER USE THAT ROAD.
IT'S FIFTY GALLONS OF OLD CRANKCASE OIL! LOAD IT IN YOUR "MILK" TRUCK AND MEET US AT MIDNIGHT AT THE CURVE!

Landis Orders Chattanooga Club to Pay Player $517

Philip Weinert, former Southern association player, was declared a free agent yesterday by Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball. The ruling involved a financial loan advanced Weinert by the Chattanooga club in 1937 and his transfer the following year by Chattanooga to Knoxville, which team Weinert refused to join. The commissioner also ruled Chattanooga must pay Weinert $517.

LAWYERS SHAPE BATTLE LINES IN MOTORS TRIAL

A Crusade, Federal Battery Admits.

BY BRUCE DENNIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 11.—A dozen attorneys for General Motors corporation and nine representing the government plunged in earnest today into a legal battle that is expected to last until Dec. 1—the trial of the suit in which General Motors is accused of violating the Sherman antitrust act.

An exodus of the 17 individual defendants—executives of General Motors and three subsidiary corporations—was under way. Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors, and William S .Knudsen, president, led the delegation to New York, where on Friday General Motors will open its 1940 automobile show.

To the lawyers was left the center of the stage. Battle lines shaped up immediately.

Admit It's a Crusade.

Government attorneys admitted privately that before snow flies they will seek to turn the suit against General Motors into a general crusade in behalf of all small business men as opposed to large corporations.

General Motors and the other defendants were indicted on charges of conspiracy to control financing of General Motors cars through alleged forcing of dealers to use General Motors' wholly owned financing company, the General Motors Acceptance corporation.

The government charged that the General Motors policy was unfair to independent finance companies and small banks, and that it amounted to conspiracy in restraint of trade and interstate commerce in General Motors cars. The government legal staff holds that the rights of some 18,000 General Motors dealers are being infringed upon.

Counsel to Oppose "Noise Making."

As Ernest S. Ballard, General Motors attorney, indicated in his opening statement, the company will demand that the government stick to charges in the indictment and refrain from any extraneous noise making staged for the benefit of the jury in Judge Walter C. Lindley's court.

The government attorneys include several young men in their 20s who joined the attorney general's antitrust division in 1938 when the division was expanded by 100 men. Somewhat older is Holmes Baldridge of Oklahoma City, 38, chief of the trial section of the bureau. He is a graduate of the Nebraska law school and was general counsel of the corporation commission of Oklahoma from 1932 to 1935. His next was in charge of the telephone investigation conducted for the federal communications commission, and became special assistant to the attorney general in 1938.

Ex-Professor Dean of Staff.

Edmond Ford, Lawrence, Mass., gray haired former Boston college law professor and author of a number of books on practice and procedure, is the dean of the staff. He was graduated from Harvard law school in 1907, and went to the department of justice in 1934. He has been working on automobile antitrust investigations for more than two years.

Thorold J. Deyrup [Columbia, 1935] is 27 and lives in New York. He formerly was with the New York state mortgage commission and has been with the department since August, 1938. Warren P. Cunningham [Texas university, 1937] is 24 and joined the department last summer after getting a master's degree at Harvard.

Marvin J. Coles of New York also is 24, a graduate of Yale law school. He joined the department of justice in 1938.

Victor O. Waters, 31, is one of the special assistants to the attorney general. His home is in Mangum, Okla., where he was Greer county attorney for two terms, 1934-'38. He was graduated from the University of Oklahoma.

Ex-State Senator a Prosecutor.

The northern Indiana district attorney is James R. Fleming of Fort Wayne, former Democratic state senator, who has been in office six years. One of his assistants is Alex Campbell, 33, who at 27 was Democratic county chairman in Allen county [Fort Wayne], the youngest county chairman in the state.

The other assistant is Luther M. Swygert of Hammond, a Notre Dame graduate, former Lake county deputy

Big Purchases Are Planned by More Rails

The railroads yesterday disclosed additional substantial equipment purchases and improvement programs. One of the largest programs was that of the Northern Pacific railway which has ordered 35,600 tons of rail to cost $1,400,000 and $860,000 of fastenings. Bids were also asked for 1,800 new freight cars which are expected to cost more than 5 million dollars.

Of the rail orders, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation will supply 23,000 tons, the Bethlehem Steel company, 10,000, Inland Steel company, 2,000 tons, and the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, 600 tons.

Federal Judge L. B. May, sitting in Norfolk, Va., authorized the Seaboard Air Line railway to buy $2,500,000 of new freight equipment. This includes 700 freight cars, 150 flat cars, 100 hopper cars, and other equipment.

Seeks Aid of RFC.

The Florida East Coast Line requested the assistance of the Reconstruction Finance corporation in the purchase of two new lightweight streamlined trains for use between New York and Florida. Details were announced a few weeks ago. The trains are to cost about $1,370,000.

At New Haven, Conn., Federal Judge Carroll C. Hincks authorized the New Haven railroad to spend about $2,800,000 on equipment in 1940. This will include 15,000 tons of rail, 250 steel cars, 25 steel cabooses, 10 Diesel switch engines and other equipment.

Federal Judge Charles B. Davis in St. Louis set Oct. 20 for a hearing on a petition of the trustee of the St. Louis Southwestern railway [the Cotton Belt] for authority to purchase $350,627 of new rail and track equipment and $501,658 for the purchase of materials necessary in the construction of 100 coal cars, six flat cars, the steel underframes for rebuilding 50 flat cars, for the rebuilding of 12 steel underframe cabooses and 50 automobile cars.

Will Build Hopper Cars.

E. W. Scheer, president of the Reading railroad, said that the Reading company and the Central Railroad company of New Jersey, will each construct 50 70-ton hopper cars soon.

Among the other evidences of industrial expansion yesterday was an announcement that the Baldwin-Southwark corporation, a subsidiary of the Baldwin Locomotive works, has been awarded a contract by the Safe Harbor Water Power corporation, Baltimore, Md., to complete a 42,500 horse power turbine. Certain parts of the turbine were furnished under a previous contract. The total value of the order is $305,000.

STEEL PLANTS' OPERATING RATE RISES TO 90 PCT.

Steel operations this week reached 90 per cent of theoretical capacity, Iron Age estimated yesterday. At the peak of the 1937 boom, operations were at 92 per cent of capacity, highest since 1929. Last week's operations were at 87½ per cent.

The survey said it was unlikely that a truce in the European war would cause any substantial letdown in steel mill activity. The railroad buying program, prospects of large automobile sales, and the government's preparedness program would continue to stimulate general business and keep the mills busy, it said.

The possibility of peace hit the steel scrap markets, however, and prices were down 50 cents a ton at Chicago, Cleveland, Youngstown, and Detroit. Pittsburgh prices dropped 75 cents a ton, but 40,000 tons were sold 50 cents higher than last week at Buffalo.

Tin plate mills are operating at 93 per cent of capacity in order to meet the heaviest demand ever experienced at this time of year.

INT. HARVESTER'S ROCK FALLS, ILL., WORK SHIFTED

Transfer of some operations from its Rock Falls, Ill., works to the McCormick works in Chicago and the plant at East Moline, Ill., was announced yesterday by the International Harvester company. Officials said the change was being made because much of the plant at Rock Falls, near Sterling, was antiquated for present manufacturing purposes. Several of the buildings were constructed in 1867.

Implement lines manufactured at Rock Falls will be shifted to the McCormick works. A parts department will be transferred to East Moline. Coil spring production, now carried on at Springfield, O., will be moved to Rock Falls.

Because the spring production will not absorb all workers at Rock Falls, adjustments will be made to retire eligible employés on pension, retain those with 10 years or more service, and shift others to East Moline or other plants.

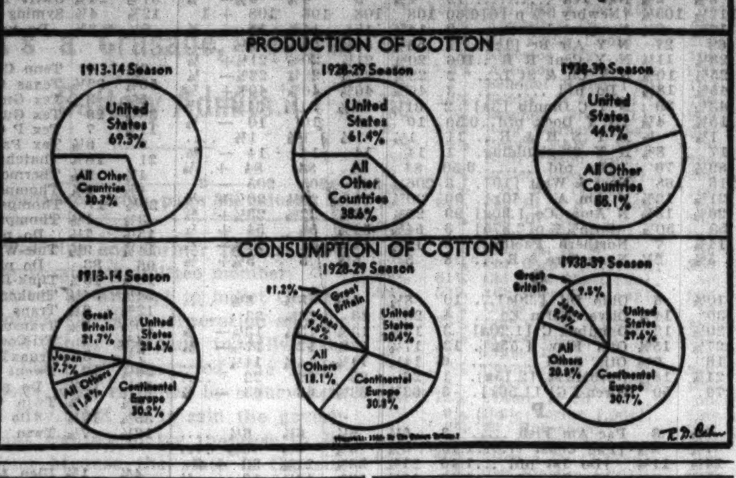
CANADA'S RULES EASED; AMERICAN FIRMS AFFECTED

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 11 [Special].—The 4,000 Canadian subsidiaries of United States and British companies will be allowed to carry on business as they have in the past as the result of a modification of Canada's strict foreign exchange regulations announced by the exchange control board today.

It was agreed by the control board and representatives of companies affected to allow intercompany accounts to be operated in the same way as in the past. The companies will account to the board for the foreign exchange acquired as a result of exports to foreign countries.

All companies which have been making use of foreign currency bank accounts in connection with their export or import business will be allowed to continue to operate them.

World Production and Consumption of Cotton in Three Seasons Compared



J. R. Thompson 36 Week Loss Is $273,743

Glenn L. Martin reports smaller profits.

Because of a change in accounting periods early in the year, no comparable figures are available. The company previously reported net loss of $147,856 and sales of $5,108,362 in the 24 weeks ended June 16 this year.

Glenn L. Martin company, aircraft manufacturer, reported substantially lower earnings in the third quarter and nine months of the current year than in the corresponding periods of 1938. Net income in the latest quarter totaled $546,154, compared with $768,393 in the three months ended Sept. 30 last year. Net sales amounted to $3,267,728, against $4,486,456.

During the nine months net income declined to $1,513,778 from $2,140,994 in the similar period of 1938. Total net sales of $8,566,387 were $3,161,394 below the sales of $11,727,781 during the first nine months last year.

Production Is Satisfactory.

President Martin said production was being maintained satisfactorily and the rate of output slightly exceeded the rate guaranteed to customers. Operations had been on a seven days a week basis but on Oct. 1, Martin said, the work week was reduced to six days with a reduced force on the sixth day. Employés working more than forty hours in any one week are paid time and a half.

Martin said the company's backlog of undelivered orders on Oct. 1 totaled $66,439,617.

Electric Bond and Share company announced earnings for the September quarter were $2,631,462, equal to 5 cents a share, compared with $2,339,936, or 4 cents a share, in the three months ended Sept. 30, 1938. Earnings for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 totaled $9,721,480, or 24 cents a share after preferred dividend requirements, compared with $9,882,200, or 27 cents a share, in the year.

Reports Business Gain.

At a Denver meeting of stockholders of Colorado Fuel and Iron company Arthur Roeder said the company's business was showing an increase this year. Roeder, chairman of the board, asserted orders were being received as customers were replenishing depleted inventories. More railroad buying should develop later and sales of miscellaneous steel products are rising, he said. The company had received no war orders, he said.

Profits of Procter & Gamble company's English and Canadian subsidiaries, except those which may be available in this country in United States funds, will be excluded from consolidated earnings of the company for the duration of the war, Richard R. Deupree told stockholders at their annual meeting in Cincinnati, O. He is president of the company.

"The amount of our net assets in England and Canada is about $12,000,000," Deupree said. "Of this amount, more than $8,000,000 represents undistributed earnings of subsidiaries."

LEADERS INDORSE DRIVE TO REDUCE BUILDING COSTS

Realty Board Told of Federal Aims.

Leaders of the building industry in Chicago yesterday indorsed the antitrust drive being conducted by the department of justice. Grand juries here and in seven other cities will hear the evidence.

Corwin D. Edwards, economist in charge of the investigation, yesterday repeated before the Chicago Real Estate board his charge that building costs are much too high because of collusion to keep prices up and prevent the use of improved methods and materials. On Tuesday he made the accusations before the Chicago Building congress.

Aim to Cut Costs 25 Pct.

Cost reductions of from 10 to 50 per cent in some building operations, with an average cut of 25 per cent, is the aim of the prosecutions, Edwards declared. He said he would not tell which of the detailed charges apply to Chicago, since this would be forecasting the findings of the grand jury.

Comments of leaders follow:

Paul C. Loeber, president of the real estate board—Many members of our association told me Mr. Edwards is absolutely right and hope drastic action will be taken. A surgeon sometimes has to wound in order to heal. We want buildings built, especially homes, and costs are so high that there is virtually no activity in Chicago.

Elmer Jensen, architect and president of Chicago Building congress—I agree heartily with everything Edwards said. There is no doubt that his conclusion costs can be reduced by eliminating abuses is correct.

Gerhardt F. Meyne, contractor—The charges are absolutely true, and if the government can substantiate them it should result in a real house cleaning by the industry. If the charges are disproved, the industry will be freed from the rumors which have been in the air for years. Nearly all of the charges apply to Chicago.

Indict or Stop Campaign.

George H. Dovenmuehle, head of real estate loan company—It is quite evident that Edwards knows what he is talking about.

Oscar W. Rosenthal, chairman of Illinois Housing authority—The industry stands indicted right now in the public mind, and the charges must be proved or thrown out as soon as possible. The government has no right to dirty the industry—it should indict or stop the campaign.

Fritz Wagner Jr., American Terra Cotta corporation—There may be monopolistic tendencies but these usually iron themselves out. Some things aren't quite right, but they do not affect costs very much.

Martin J. Durkin, director of state department of labor—If there is racketeering in the labor field I don't know about it.

TWO AIR LINES REPORT RISE IN AUTUMN TRAFIC

United Air Lines yesterday reported that its September trafic in Chicago was the largest for that month in the company's history. R. F. Ahrens, regional trafic manager, said United carried 6,352 passengers out of the city during the month, or 488 more than in August and 35 per cent more than in September, 1938. Ahrens said the upturn extended through the first 10 days of October.

Croll Hunter, president of Northwest Airlines, announced his company carried 81.2 per cent more passengers in September than in the 1938 month. Passenger revenues gained 63.1 per cent and mail and express also increased, he said. Hunter predicted trafic would continue heavy through the winter.

FIGHT TO EASE CAPITAL GAINS TAX ADVOCATED

I. B. A. Committee Calls for Action.

Del Monte, Cal., Oct. 11 [Special].—The Investment Bankers' association was urged today to demand modification of the capital gains tax. The recommendation was made in a report of the association's federal taxation committee at the organization's annual convention.

The committee, of which C. Prevost Boyce of Baltimore is chairman, said removal of what it termed tax deterrents would be beneficial to business and contribute greatly to ultimate prosperity of the country.

Asserts Levy Has Cut Revenue.

The committee resolution said in part:

"It is the opinion of the Investment Bankers' association that the practical application of excessive surtaxes has resulted in a loss of [government] revenue. We believe that such taxes should be drastically reduced so as to obtain greater returns with less injury to business."

The resolution, if adopted when it reaches the convention for a vote, will reaffirm the association's belief that the tax on capital gains is uneconomic and will assert that as a revenue measure it has failed of its objective.

A plan for segregating the brokerage and underwriting functions of stock exchange firms was criticized severely by convention leaders at a forum on stock exchange relations. The plan was first advanced by the Securities and Exchange commission when William O. Douglas, now a Supreme court justice, was chairman. Recently it was approved by the New York Stock exchange's public examining board on customer relations.

Move Termed Unnecessary.

Forum speakers characterized the plan as unnecessary for protection of the public and detrimental to the investment banking business.

John K. Starkweather of Starkweather & Co., New York; John A. Prescott of Prescott & Snider, Kansas City, Mo., and Alexander C. Yarnall of Yarnall & Co., Philadelphia attacked the segregation plan.

"Unless members of the I. B. A. prevent segregation it will be only a question of time until nonmember firms will be subjected to the same pushing around as member firms of the stock exchange are now increasingly receiving," said Starkweather. "If a member firm must incorporate a separate company to do its underwriting business many firms will have to forego one of these activities for lack of capital."

America's Entry Into War Fought by Midwest Industry

Opposition of middle western manufacturers to any involvement in the European war will be expressed forcibly today at a regional meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers at the Stevens hotel, F. N. Bard, who will preside at the opening session, disclosed yesterday. Bard is a member of the board of directors of the association and is president of the Barco Manufacturing company of Chicago.

F. N. Bard.

Bard will report on a comprehensive survey of the middle western attitude at an executive session at 4 p. m. C. S. Smith, vice president of the association and president of Borg-Warner corporation, Chicago, will preside at an evening session.

Bard said that the middle western industrialists heartily concur in the statement of Howard Coonley, president of the national association, that "industry hates war."

Middle West Wants Peace.

"In not a single instance have I found a responsible manufacturer who placed profits above peace for our nation," Bard said.

"We have told our congressmen that the middle west wants a neutrality that is sound and workable and not subject to the whims of any one man or coterie of men. We are largely small manufacturers, the leaders of our companies, the owners and proprietors to a large extent of the properties we manage, and we are close to our problems, workers, and communities. My survey shows that all these elements insist on keeping this country out of war entanglements.

"There is no profit in war for anybody. In the final analysis the eventual result is widespread loss and misery."

Among the speakers at the executive session will be Maj. George F. Unmacht, chief of the procurement division, chemical warfare service; H. L. Coe, Washington, consultant of the association on national defense, and John C. Gall, counsel for the association.

Coonley to Speak.

Speakers at the night session include Coonley, who is chairman of the Walworth company, New York; H. W. Prentis Jr., vice president of the association and president of the Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster, Pa., and Walter E. Weisenburger, executive vice president of the association.

At another meeting the Illinois Chamber of Commerce will discuss efforts to regiment business and will outline methods to oppose this movement. The chamber will open its 21st annual meeting at the Hotel Sherman. Speakers will include J. L. Beven, president of the Illinois Central, and O. J. Arnold, president of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

LOCKHEED GETS FIRST ORDER FOR LODESTAR SHIPS

The first sale of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation's new Lodestar 17 place commercial transport was announced yesterday by Thomas F. Ryan III., executive vice president of Mid-Continent Airlines, Inc., and Carl B. Squier, vice president in charge of sales for Lockheed.

The Mid-Continent lines ordered three of the air liners at a total cost of approximately $250,000. They will be delivered next March and placed in service on the Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Tulsa route. The planes have a normal cruising speed of 220 miles per hour.

Commodity, Securities Markets Closed Today

Principal commodity and security markets throughout the United States will be closed today in observance of Columbus day. The Chicago live stock market will be open, but banks, the Chicago Board of Trade, and the Chicago and New York Stock exchanges will be closed. European and Canadian markets will remain open.

SERVICE FEES VOTED BY BROKERS; UNLIKELY TO EXERCISE RIGHT

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—Members of the New York Stock exchange by a vote of 570 to 150, have approved an amendment to the constitution giving the board of governors power to prescribe minimum charges for miscellaneous brokerage house services, the exchange announced today. The amendment gives the board power to prescribe minimum fees on inactive accounts, for safe-keeping of securities, etc. No minimum charges have yet been ordered.

It was reported in informed brokerage circles that even though the governors have power to create service fees, the power will not be exercised. The amendment was planned following a report by the exchange's public examining board last summer that suggested "service fees" might help lean brokerage house income. Since then, however, the heavy September "war" trading has stepped up stock dealings, and most firms are operating at a profit.

Some time ago, service charges were tried by exchange member firms, but the customers didn't like them, and they were abandoned.

CHICAGOANS TRY TO WIN TRADE IN LATIN AMERICA

Strive to Overcome Money Handicap.

Chicago manufacturers and business men will make a determined effort to get foreign trade in South America that formerly went to the warring European nations, the Chicago Association of Commerce disclosed yesterday. The association recently asked its members who are interested in trying to get a larger share of the available Latin American business to reply to a short questionnaire. Replies indicate a broad interest in the southern markets.

C. M. Wynne.

C. M. Wynne, vice president of the association in charge of foreign trade, said that as a further indication of the growing interest of Chicago in the Latin American market, the association for the first time in its history will print a Spanish language edition of its foreign trade directory, the Chicago International Market.

Try to Overcome Handicaps.

Leading Chicago foreign trade authorities are studying means for overcoming the handicaps which stand in the way of trade expansion in Latin America. One of the most acute problems results from the foreign exchange situation in most of the South American nations in which these countries lack the exchange to purchase products from the United States.

Although the war is expected to be a favorable factor in the expansion of United States trade in South America, it is too early to say to what extent American business will win markets formerly held by Europeans, it was said. Department of commerce figures for August show a moderate gain in the amount of United States sales compared with August, 1938, and the figures for September are not yet available. The South American nations bought $21,867,000 of goods in August, compared with $20,189,000 in August, 1938, and the United States bought from them $22,394,000, compared with $20,704,000.

Field for Progress.

Examples of how the United States may increase its sales is found in the department of commerce records covering rubber product sales to Chile and Peru. Although the rec-

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 11.—Stocks closed mostly higher in slack trading today. Many operators moved to the sidelines because of the Columbus day holiday tomorrow and to await the promised speech of Prime Minister Chamberlain, who is expected to give the British reply to Chancellor Hitler's "peace" speech.

Shares moved in a narrow range throughout the session.

Steel shares gave a relatively good account of themselves. United States Steel and Bethlehem gained substantial fractions. General Motors stood out, rising 1⅛ points. Chrysler was weighted by the labor troubles and slipped ⅛ point. Greyhound corporation worked higher on fair support.

Aviations were uniformly higher with Douglas and Glenn Martin adding 1¼ and 1 point respectively. North American Aviation was active. In the oils Texas corporation rose 1¼ and Socony Vacuum and Standard Oil [N. J.] ½ point each. Active copper shares worked fractionally higher. Merchandising issues steadied around previous finals.

An attempt was made to bring power and light shares forward for a time, but it did not get very far. Chemicals closed firm to higher. Heavy machinery and building issues were mostly higher.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 11 (AP).—United States government issues rose strongly in the bond market today on the basis of active over the counter buying.

Their rise was followed, hesitatingly, by many corporate issues although, in general, the market for the latter was uneven.

Gains in the government loans averaged about ½ point. Traders said the swiftness of their rise was accelerated by the "thin" supply available.

The European war and the present westward movement of Russian troops in northern Europe were reflected in the market by a swift downturn of 1 to more than 3 points in quotations for the dollar bonds of Norway and Helsingfors, although the bonds of Finland, the most seriously threatened neutral, remained unchanged.

Chicago Stocks.

Commonwealth Edison continued volume leader yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. It closed ⅜ point lower at 29⅞ on a turnover of 3,850 shares. General trading was light. Gains and losses throughout the list were about evenly balanced.

Among other volume leaders, Great Lakes Dredge, Middle West, Jarvis, Hall Printing, and United States Steel closed fractionally higher. Independent Pneumatic Tool lost 1⅛. Borg-Warner, Pines Winterfront, and Manhattan Dearborn finished unchanged.

Executive committee members of the exchange approved the listing of 71,400 additional shares of Abbott Laboratories common stock. The stock will be admitted to trading on notice of issuance and registration with the Securities and Exchange commission.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois bank stock was bid ½ point higher yesterday. Other issues were unchanged. Prices follow:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Broader demand for pork and comparatively small receipts for this season bolstered the market for hogs at the stock yards yesterday. Prices reached the highest level in two weeks. There has been a rise of 18 to 26 per cent in wholesale markets for fresh pork loins since the middle of last week.

Advances of 10 to 15 cents were general in the trade for hogs, although some of the heaviest of the butchers and some sows showed gains of 20 to 25 cents.

Advances of 10 to 15 cents were registered in fat lambs. Best light steers and yearlings were steady. Others sold steady to 25 cents lower.

BENTON HARBOR FRUIT PRICES.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 11 [Special].—Today's Benton Harbor fruit market prices were: Grapes, Concords, 12 quarts, No. 1, 25 cents; No. 2, 18 to 20 cents; four quarts, 13 to 15 cents. Apples, bu, Jonathans, 2½ inch, 65 to 70 cents; 2¼ inch, 60 to 70 cents; delicious, 2½ inch, 75 to 90 cents; Grimes golden, 2¼ inch, 40 to 55 cents; Hubbardstons, 2½ inch, 50 cents; winesaps, 2¼ inch, 50 cents. Pears, bu, Kieffers, 2¼-2½ inch, 55 to 60 cents.

Commodities

Commodity futures at New York continued to move higher yesterday, although with less vigor than on Tuesday. Principal news of the day came from London, where the international tin committee lifted export quotas on tin for the third time since the war began in Europe. The new quota rate of 120 per cent of standard tonnages will be retroactive.

Early in September the quotas were boosted from 60 per cent to 80, and on Sept. 18 they were raised to 100 per cent. Fourth quarter quotas, previously set at 60 per cent, were established at 70 per cent yesterday.

New York tin traders were not discouraged by the prospect of larger supplies, since the market had already taken the quota increase into account in recent trading. Futures closed unchanged to 1 cent a pound higher, and cash tin held steady at 55 cents.

Rubber futures were firm, closing 0.32 to 0.47 cent a pound higher. Cash rubber advanced 0.45 cent to 19.85 cents. Hides climbed 0.30 to 0.40 cent a pound.

Other commodities scoring less spectacular gains were cottonseed oil, cocoa, zinc, world sugar futures, silks, and Santos coffee.

Copper, domestic sugar, and wool top futures closed irregular. Cash raw wool declined 1 cent to $1.23 a pound. Rio coffee finished unchanged and lead futures weakened slightly.

Yesterday's prices:

RADICAL DRIFT AWFUL AS WAR, SAYS GRIFFITH

Small Business Men Hear Attack on 'Soft Boys.'

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11 (AP).—John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner for the western conference, asserted in a speech here tonight that "if the soft boys remain in the ascendancy" in the United States, "world supremacy will not long remain with this country."

Maj. John L. Griffith.

Griffith, addressing the convention of the National Small Business Men's association, urged the organization to use its influence to keep America out of war, but said there was another problem "fully as terrifying." This he called "our constant drift toward state socialism."

"The radicals," Griffith declared, "believe that there is an easy way of life. They prefer collectivism to individualism, supervision to independence, and regimentation to competition.

Sees Efforts to Shift Risks.

"If there are more Americans today who are willing to fight for life's rewards than there are those who want to be conducted through life, with all the risks taken by some one else, then we will not go the whole way into state socialism."

Griffith said that every country which has tried "to reach Utopia without any effort on the part of the people, and to make life safe, easy and foolproof by handicapping thrift and industry," has failed to achieve its purpose.

D. M. Emery, president of the association, said "our group, in concert with others, would greatly prefer no war."

Debate Bargaining Issue.

Lively debate over the principle of collective bargaining marked activities of the convention resolutions committee. A preliminary draft contained the phrase "we approve the principle of collective bargaining" but went on to criticize the closed shop idea and certain ramifications of the subject.

A dozen delegates sprang to their feet and one shouted, "what is the use of lying. You know we don't favor collective bargaining."

Another declared, "if we must mention it, why not say we just tolerate collective bargaining."

The resolution was referred back for revision.

MARINE LEADERS FIGHT PROPOSED SHIPPING CURBS

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Delegates to the annual convention of the Propeller club of the United States at their closing session here today adopted a resolution protesting against restrictions on American shipping contained in the administration's proposed neutrality legislation. The protest directed to President Roosevelt and congress, was adopted after a minority demand for a more forcible attack had been rejected. The club is a national organization of marine leaders.

The resolution said that the proposed act would destroy the American merchant marine as an instrument for the promotion of foreign trade, jeopardize its functioning as a vital arm of the national defense, result in loss of employment to several hundred thousand individuals in the maritime and other industries and imperil several hundred millions of dollars of investments.

Judge Warns Radio-Keith Case Must Be Cleared Soon

New York, Oct. 11 [Special].—Federal Judge William Bondy today warned parties to the reorganization of Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation that the proceeding had been before the court so long that it would have to be cleared up soon. He granted a three weeks' adjournment for further study of plans for a stock issue of $1,500,000, but said that progress would have to be made by the end of that time.

Business Bits

Nash dealers from the Chicago area will meet at the Congress hotel today, H. T. Hollingshead, president of Nash Sales, Inc., Chicago distributor, announced yesterday. The Nash organization is holding series of such councils throughout the nation.

Lawrence Ryan, head of Larry Ryan & Co., Inc., and an associate of Lamson Brothers & Co., was elected a governor of the Chicago Mercantile exchange to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Oscar W. Olson. Olson recently became educational director and assistant business manager of the exchange.

John A. Logan of Washington, D. C., was reëlected president of the National Association of Food Chains at the closing meeting of the organization's annual convention at the Drake hotel. Other officers chosen were: Vice presidents, Frank Jeffrey of Seattle, Elwood Fisher of Cleveland, and W. E. Penick of New Orleans; secretary, L. E. Fisher, Springfield, Ill.; treasurer, T. P. Cauley, Buffalo.

A. E. Lawler of the Illinois Central railroad will address the Office Appliance Managers' Association of Chicago at a meeting tomorrow at the Medinah Athletic club.

EXPORT OF STRATEGIC WAR SUPPLIES CUTS INTO DEFENSE STOCKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—The war and navy departments asserted today that exports of some strategic war materials from the United States since the outbreak of the war have hampered the government in its effort to build up a strong supply of such defensive essentials.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, and Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, issued a joint statement in which they said that activities of foreign buyers had resulted in removal from the market of 10,000 tons of rubber and an appreciable amount of tin. Attempts have been made, they said, to obtain ferro-manganese and other strategic materials, either in raw or semifinished form.

Johnson and Edison are members of the army and navy munitions board, which has undertaken a $100,000,000 program to build up stores of essential materials produced chiefly abroad.

NLRB MEMBERS SPLIT ON PRIOR CONTRACT ISSUE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—National Labor Relations board members split today on two decisions involving the issue of whether the fact that one union already has a contract affects the petition of another union for collective bargaining rights.

William M. Leiserson gave a dissenting opinion in one case. In the other, while voting on the majority side, he disagreed with the other majority member on the issue of a previous contract.

The board dismissed the petition of an American Federation of Labor pressmen's union for recognition as bargaining agent for employés in one department of the Milton Bradley company of Springfield, Mass. A C. I. O. union, in a consent election held in June, 1937, had won an exclusive bargaining contract.

In the second case, the board ordered an election to determine the collective bargaining representative for general ship and maintenance and repair workers of the Clyde Mallory Lines, of New York City. The employés will choose between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L., or reject both.

TERMINAL FIRM'S CREDITORS SEEK MILLIONS IN SUIT

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11 (AP).—Eleven general creditors of the Cleveland Terminals Building company today brought suit in federal court to obtain the difference between the purchase price of the company's collateral and the profits which accrued to later owners.

Defendants in the action, involving millions of dollars, are the George and Frances Ball Foundation; George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., industrialist and former Republican national committeeman, and F. B. Bernard, Muncie banker and associate of Ball.

The defendants ask a judgment in their favor for all profits from sale of collateral after deduction of the $318,000 purchase price and for appointment of a receiver for properties of the trust estate.

POWER OUTPUT DIPS SLIGHTLY; AHEAD OF 1938

Electricity output of the United States in the week ended Oct. 7 dropped .2 per cent from the all-time peak of 2,469,689,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

Production was 14.4 per cent ahead Output was 14.4 per cent ahead of the 2,154,449,000 kilowatt hours produced in the corresponding 1938 week. The drop to 2,465,230,000 kilowatt hours last week was contrary to seasonal expectations.

Electricity output of the Commonwealth Edison company group [Chicago], with inter-company sales deducted, totaled 155,485,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 16.3 per cent over the 1938 week. In the preceding week the system's output was 18.4 per cent larger than a year ago.

LAWYERS SHAPE BATTLE LINES IN MOTORS TRIAL

It's a Crusade, Federal Battery Admits.

After an attempt to indict General Motors, Chrysler corporation and the Ford Motor company in Milwaukee in 1937 had miscarried, the indictments were returned by a jury here in May, 1938. It is said the government wanted to try the case in Indiana because the state is the site of a large number of independent finance companies, including the country's largest independent, the Associates Investment company of South Bend. The head of this company, Ernest M. Morris, has been in daily attendance at the trial.

Charges Against Ford Dropped.

Charges against Chrysler and Ford and their affiliated finance companies were dropped when the companies abandoned alleged coercive practices toward dealers and consent decrees were signed. The government agreed these decrees will become void if the case against General Motors is unsuccessful.

Ira G. McCreery, executive vice president of General Motors Acceptance corporation, was on the witness stand during most of today's session. He was asked to explain details of the workings of the corporation, its arrangements with dealers and the so-called "6 per cent plan" of financing time purchases of automobiles.

According to McCreery's testimony, United States auto buyers, as represented by General Motors Acceptance customers, are improving their record for making payments.

Repossession Rate Drops.

In 1935, he said, repossessions of new cars amounted to 2.4 per cent of those financed; in 1936, 2 per cent; in 1937, 2.3 per cent, and in 1938, 1 per cent.

Net income of General Motors Acceptance corporation in the last few years was stated as follows in the course of McCreery's testimony: 1935, $14,682,895; 1936, $14,674,849; 1937, $14,592,238, and 1938, $11,656,800.

The volume of business handled in each of these years, McCreery said, amounted to between a billion and a billion and a half dollars. He said the profit was thus between 1 and 1½ cents on every dollar.

On cross examination, Attorney Baldridge referred McCreery to the same reports, but stressed the profits according to capital funds invested. These profits amounted to 15.1 per cent in 1935, 16.64 per cent in 1936, 16.56 per cent in 1937, and 12.93 per cent in 1938.

Insurance Firm Organized.

McCreery told also of the organization in 1923 of General Insurance Exchange corporation, to handle insurance of automobiles purchased through G. M. A. C. Savings of 25 per cent were effected for car buyers, he said, through eliminations of commissions and other charges of outside companies.

The government attacked the so-called dealer's reserve system in which 20 per cent of the annual financing charge levied on the customer by G. M. A. C. is returned to the dealer to protect him against possible losses on repossessed cars.

Baldridge charged this was a "pack," an added cost to the buyer which was not known to the latter. McCreery and General Motors attorneys disputed this stand. McCreery then was asked by Baldridge to read from an instruction book prepared by G. M. A. C. for dealers in which dealers were advised to "refuse to divulge to customers the nature of responsibility assumed by G. M. A. C."

"Does the customer, then, know of the reserve?" asked Baldridge.

"No," said McCreery.

The example used in court was this: A new car purchaser has an unpaid balance of $500 on a one year contract handled by G. M. A. C. The finance company charges him 6 per cent on this balance, making a total of $530 plus insurance charges that he must pay in 12 monthly installments.

Of the $30 G. M. A. C. charge, 20 per cent, or $6—the dealer ' reserve—is given to the dealer. On used car contracts the reserve is 30 per cent.

Witness Tells of Losing Job.

A former General Motors zone manager, Lewis I. Stewart of Pittsburgh, was one of the government's afternoon witnesses. His description of his dismissal in 1933 caused the jurors to sit up.

Stewart said he was called to Detroit by W. E. Holler, Chevrolet sales manager, who is one of those indicted.

"You don't fit into the picture," Stewart quoted Holler as saying. "You're a softy. You've got to have ice in your veins if you're going to work for this corporation."

Another witness was L. C. Gale, formerly employed in the St. Louis office of G. M. A. C. Gale is now St. Louis branch manager of the Associates Discount corporation, also an Ernest Morris institution. Gale spent most of his two hours on the stand tilting with Albert Levert, General Motors counsel, over inability to remember names, dates, and places.

Department Store Sales Gain Is More Than Normal

Department store sales last month increased more than seasonally, the board of governors of the federal reserve system reported yesterday. On the basis of reports from 520 stores in 242 cities, the board's seasonally adjusted index advanced to 92 per cent of the 1923-1925 average from 89 per cent in August. In July the index stood at 86 per cent, as it did in September, 1938.

SUIT ATTACKING FEDERAL BUTTER RULE IS DROPPED

Report Government Ends Price Program.

A suit charging the Dairy Products Marketing association and several other dairy coöperatives with illegal price control and monopoly of the butter market was withdrawn yesterday in United States District court. Counsel for the plaintif announced after a hearing before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan that he had been advised "on reasonable authority" that the federal government would lend no more money to stabilize butter prices.

Lewis F. Mason, representing Frank P. Girard, who brought the suit, said he had been assured the commercial exchange of butter would hereafter be based on the law of supply and demand and not by agreement. An advance in butter prices in recent weeks, Mason said, had accomplished the purpose of the litigation. Girard, an accountant who lives at 1033 Loyola avenue, filed the suit last April as a consumer.

Can Reinstate Suit Later.

The suit, originally filed in Circuit court and subsequently transferred to federal court, was withdrawn without prejudice to its reinstatement later. Yesterday's hearing was to have been on a motion by the Dairy Products Marketing association to dismiss the suit and a plea on behalf of Girard to make Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the Commodity Credit corporation parties to the suit.

"We have been advised there is an interior feeling among government officials that their butter buying program was not the proper way of handling the price situation," Mason asserted. "They have let it be known they are sick and tired of the matter from all angles and of pitting one group against the other. They have held up their program for the most part in recent months Now, if they fall down on their assurances, Girard can reinstate the suit."

Financed by Government.

The Dairy Products Marketing association, one of four associations named in the suit, is a Chicago coöperative financed with federal funds.

John Brandt, one of four individuals named defendants in Girard's suit, was listed in a double capacity as president of the Dairy Products association and head of the Land o' Lakes Creameries, Inc. The latter association was also named in the suit.

The D. M. P. A. made its last purchase on Sept. 7, according to officials of the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

Since early in September butter prices have generally been higher than the 23½ cent "pegged" price of the DPMA.

CORN PRICES DIP ON ESTIMATE OF LARGE SUPPLIES

The government's estimate on supplies of corn available for the 1939-'40 season totaling 3,093,000,000 bushels, was construed by the grain trade as excessive, and led to rather general selling of futures yesterday. Prices declined about 1 cent at one time. Short covering in the way of evening up trades for the holiday today brought about a moderate reaction from the low prices. Closing trades were at losses of ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel.

Wheat moved within a range of about 1½ cents, breaking early on scattered selling only to rally later on reports from abroad indicating that there was little possibility of peace in Europe. The close was ¼ to ½ cent higher. Cash interests bought December and sold May.

All unsold stocks of soy beans in storage and afloat for the United Kingdom were requisitioned yesterday by the English government, it was announced. The unsettled political situation between Russia and some of the northern European countries was said to be a factor in curtailing the demand for American soy beans at present. Bean futures closed unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

It's great to get out Monday afternoons

"That washer makes quick work of our laundry."

WHEN good used washers, ironers and other work-savers are priced so reasonably, you owe yourself the extra leisure they can give you.

Read the Household Appliances offers in the Tribune want ad section. See for yourself how little it would cost to take advantage of the values in good used appliances which you can find in this column.

"Next year we'll have our own flowers"
"I've always loved flowers, and since we bought this place through a Tribune want ad I can hardly wait to see our garden in full bloom!"

• Houses with spacious lawns and formal gardens—cottages with old-fashioned flowers clustering around the doorways—charming Dutch, Cape Cod and Southern colonials, English brick—these and many other types of homes are offered through the Real Estate columns in the Tribune want ad section.

Because the Tribune prints more real estate want advertising than all other Chicago newspapers combined, you choose from the largest selection of properties available when you consult the Real Estate offers in the Tribune want ad section.

It's fun to ride a bike

• Whole families are rediscovering the pleasures of biking. It's sporty. It's lots of fun. It's a grand health builder. And, it all costs very little money.

For offers of bicycles at attractively low prices, watch the Motorcycles and Bicycles column in the Tribune want ad section.

Because they get better results, want ad users place more total want advertising in the Tribune than they place in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

SERVING CHICAGO FOR 92 YEARS

Seek Ways to Overcome Exchange Handicap.

ords are for 1937, they give an indication of the possibilities. In 1937 the United States supplied 48 per cent of Peru's rubber products needs, including automobile tires, and the belligerent nations, 45 per cent. Of Chile's rubber imports, the warring nations supplied about 45 per cent and the United States nearly all the rest.

That Latin America offers worthwhile trade possibilities is indicated by trade statistics covering the 12 months ended June 30 as compiled by the statistical division of the Pan American Union, which has headquarters in New York.

RESISTANCE POINTS.

What is meant by resistance points when referring to a stock or to the stock market as a whole?—G. J.

Answer: The phrase "resistance point" is a part of the jargon of professional market followers. The meaning is best explained by illustration.

Assume stock market averages have declined to 150. From this level they rise, say to 170, and then go into another decline. The resistance point to this second decline is said to be 150—the point at which the previous downturn was halted. It is here, presumably, that buyers outnumber sellers and the market's sell-off should be stopped. Breaking of resistance points is usually interpreted as a signal for an extension of the downward movement.

A resistance point for an individual stock is determined in similar fashion. The reverse of the illustration given will produce a resistance point to an advance. Penetration of the upper resistance point indicates to traders that the market will extend its advance.

COOPER-BESSEMER.

I would appreciate information on Cooper-Bessemer corporation—H. I.

Answer: Cooper-Bessemer corporation is engaged principally in the manufacture of gas and Diesel engines for marine, industrial and utility uses.

Earnings of the company fell off sharply last year, a net loss of $292,242 being reported. Losses have been reported in two of the last five years. Net income and earnings a common share in recent years:

Year.	Net income.	Earned.
1934	$*147,803	$*2.07
1935	16,415	*1.18
1936	502.616	1.65
1937	270.096	0.10
1938	*298.242	*2.05

*Net loss.

In the first six months of this year the company had a net income of $13,533 against a net loss of $208,063 in the same period last year.

There are 77,286 shares of $3 cumulative no par prior preference, 1,373 shares of $3 cumulative no par series A preferred, and 263,289 shares of no par common stock outstanding. Cooper-Bessemer has no funded debt.

The series A preferred is exchangeable for the prior preference on a share for share basis plus 6-10ths of a common share and a 50 cents a share dividend. The outstanding shares of the series A preferred are those which remain unexchanged under this plan, which was adopted in 1936.

Cooper-Bessemer paid small common stock dividends on the preference stock in 1937 and 1938. The company has paid a cash dividend of 75 cents a share this year. No dividends have been paid on the common since 1931. There were current assets of $4,436,804 and current liabilities of $192,363 at June 30, 1939.

COTTON

Cotton prices held within very narrow limits yesterday. Speculators were inclined to go slow on either side as the result of the coming holiday. Mills were moderate buyers of the nearby deliveries and foreigners bought the deferred. Closing trades were unchanged to .06 cent a pound higher.

Consumption of cotton by American mills in September was estimated at 620,000 bales, compared with 628,000 bales in August and 534,000 bales in September last year.

Spot cotton closed .04 cent higher with New York, 9.18 cents; New Orleans, 9.07 cents; Galveston, 8.67 cents and Houston at 8.64 cents a pound. Prices follow:

DAY by DAY on the FARM by HOMER NEISZ

Rains Help Fields.

Oct. 11, 1939.

THE first good rains in nearly two months fell at the Du Page county farm Monday and Tuesday of this week, adding badly needed moisture to parched lawns and pastures, fall gardens, and fields of winter wheat. Although the rainfall was not sufficient to soak into the dry ground to any considerable depth, the surface soil in corn fields and freshly plowed land was muddy for the first time since August.

Pastures, already beginning to turn green following light rains nearly two weeks ago, were further revived. Tender sprigs of young bluegrass are shooting up, and most of the pastures are expected to furnish a fair amount of grazing until cold weather.

The rains even brought out a few mosquitoes. There had been no evidence of mosquitoes around the farm for weeks. In recent years there have been more mosquitoes in September and October than during summer. The first killing frosts failed to rout them last fall and the fall before.

Winter Wheat Coming Up.

Winter wheat is coming up. The first started pushing through the ground last Sunday. All the fields are green except a 14 acre field that was seeded less than a week ago. The grain is sprouting in this field and there is plenty of moisture to give the young plants a start.

Stands are good in all the fields where the wheat is up. Although there was little moisture in the ground when the wheat was sown, the surface soil was warm and the grain sprouted rapidly. The wheat was seeded at the rate of six pecks an acre. The seeding was delayed nearly two weeks by dry weather before light rains softened the soil enough that it could be worked.

Fifty-three acres of wheat were sown, a larger acreage than usually is planted at the farm. The increased acreage was sown primarily for use as a nurse crop for clover and alfalfa to be seeded in late February or March. These legumes are sown in with winter wheat or rye wherever possible. This permits earlier seeding and usually results in stronger stands than where oats are used as the nurse crop.

Increase Alfalfa Acreage.

More than the usual acreage of alfalfa will be sown next spring. It is needed to replace old meadows where stands have become thin.

About 25 acres of run out alfalfa meadow will be plowed this fall. The soil will be left in the rough over winter and planted in corn next spring.

Alfalfa meadows show little sign of the long fall drouth. They are green and the plants have made good growth since the last cutting of hay was harvested.

A third cutting of hay was taken from one field less than a month ago. The green alfalfa plants there are more than six inches high.

OIL COMPANIES, LABOR FRIENDLY, SAYS SHELL AID

Declares High Standards Are a Result.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11 (AP).—H. H. Anderson of St. Louis, a vice president of the Shell Oil company, testified before the monopoly committee today that "high labor standards" of the petroleum industry were due to a long prevailing friendly policy of major oil companies toward their employés.

The witness, who testified in behalf of the American Petroleum institute, supported his contention with charts showing that weekly earnings of workers had increased while hours of work had decreased.

Isadore Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics, interrupted to observe that the industry had operated on an average week of 55 hours in 1929 compared with the present average of 36 hours.

Compares Unions' Strength.

Anderson testified that in the refining branch of the petroleum industry only about 13.6 per cent of the workers were covered by C. I. O. union agreements and about 6.1 per cent by American Federation of Labor agreements. He said independent unions represented about 53 per cent of these petroleum workers.

Earlier George B. Ingram, president of a small oil company at Canton, O., testified that prices for petroleum products in his state were under monopolistic control, with most retail dealers following the price leadership of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio.

Tells of Physical Violence.

Ingram told the committee that "price cutting" filling stations had been threatened with loss of their supply sources of gasoline, and subjected to physical damage, such as cutting of hoses attached to pumps and blockades by motor caravans. He attributed the hose cutting and blockading tactics to a county association of dealers.

Ingram offered a copy of his contract with the Pennzoil Oil corporation to show that his prices were based "directly on Standard Oil prices."

Wallace	50.00	Yoder	75.00
Glenn	50.00	Dunlavey	100.00

Others too numerous to mention.

Our business was entirely new to each of the above men. What others are doing, you can do. Come in and I will explain our business in which you do not invest 1 cent.

I will tell you in less than 2 hours whether I will set you up in business or not.

NEW FIELD OF ENDEAVOR

for the ambitious man who would like to be in business for himself, but does not have the capital to start.

If you are married, over 25 years of age, have an established residence in Chicago, and can furnish good character references and record of past employment, we will be glad to talk with you regarding this new business. We will give a complete outline of our plan and a thorough presentation of our electrical unit.

We will furnish stock and finance your business for you. Percentage earnings can run from $2,500 to $5,000 per year, increasing with experience.

APPLY HOTEL LA SALLE.

Local Loan Gives You the Service You Want

75% of our loans are Signature Only Loans to employed men and women. LOCAL LOAN originated and perfected this salary loan service because the great body of employed people—young or old and regardless of occupation—are entitled to a simplified loan method.

Our aim is to offer you whatever plan will enable you to borrow most easily. LOCAL LOAN makes liberal Furniture and Auto Loans, but if you are steadily employed you can borrow from us on Your Signature Only without mortgages or endorsers. You may borrow $25 to $300—

On Your Signature Only

You make your own repayment terms [repaying any time within 20 months], and you are charged only for the actual time you have the money.

When you deal with LOCAL LOAN you borrow without the knowledge of your employer, friends and relatives.

We cannot tell you all about our service in our advertisement. Just phone one of the following offices. Your loan request can be taken over the telephone so you can obtain the money more quickly when you call in person.

LOANS
One Price to All

Examine the table below. It shows that $9.77 a month repays everything on a $100 loan in 12 months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for 20 months repays $100. The faster you pay the less the total cost.

CASH LOAN YOU GET	6 Mos. Loan.	12 Mos. Loan.	16 Mos. Loan.	20 Mos. Loan.
	Amount you pay back each month, including all charges.
$ 20	$ 3.64	$ 1.96
50	9.09	4.88
70	12.73	6.84	$ 5.38	$ 4.51
100	18.17	9.77	7.68	6.43
125	22.70	12.19	9.58	8.03
150	27.19	14.59	11.46	9.59
200	36.17	19.37	15.19	12.69
250	45.13	24.13	18.90	15.78

These payments are calculated at Household's rate of 2½% on balances of $100 or less; 2% on balances of $100 to $300. These rates are less than the lawful maximum on all loans and are the same to every one. No endorsers. Loans made on furniture, auto. No wage assignments. No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Save the Difference

Commonwealth's charge is less on all loans than the maximum permitted by law. Our monthly rate of 2½% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPES AND CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course, persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter or telephone will receive immediate attention.

Can You Set Aside $1.34 to $1.52 Per Week FOR A $100 LOAN?

That's actually all you need to pay off in full a $100 cash loan, including all charges on a 20 month loan at Personal Finance Company. And we take no wage assignment.

$1.34 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $100 borrowed on Personal's new amazing "Special" loan plan of only 1¾% per month on the actual balance owed. This plan is for persons with a steady income or salary sufficient to meet payments promptly without undue credit strain and a good credit record. You don't need co-makers, life insurance or bankable securities.

For persons without established credit and employment ratings and who wish to carry a loan larger than 8 to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan plan. On this plan an average of $1.52 set aside per week takes care of every $100 on a $100 loan—the charge is based on 3% monthly on unpaid balances of $100 and less, and 2½% monthly on unpaid balances over $100.

Loans up to $300 on either plan on your personal note, or with furniture or auto. Co-maker loans are also available on "Regular" plan. Seize this opportunity to save on loan costs. Come in or telephone today.

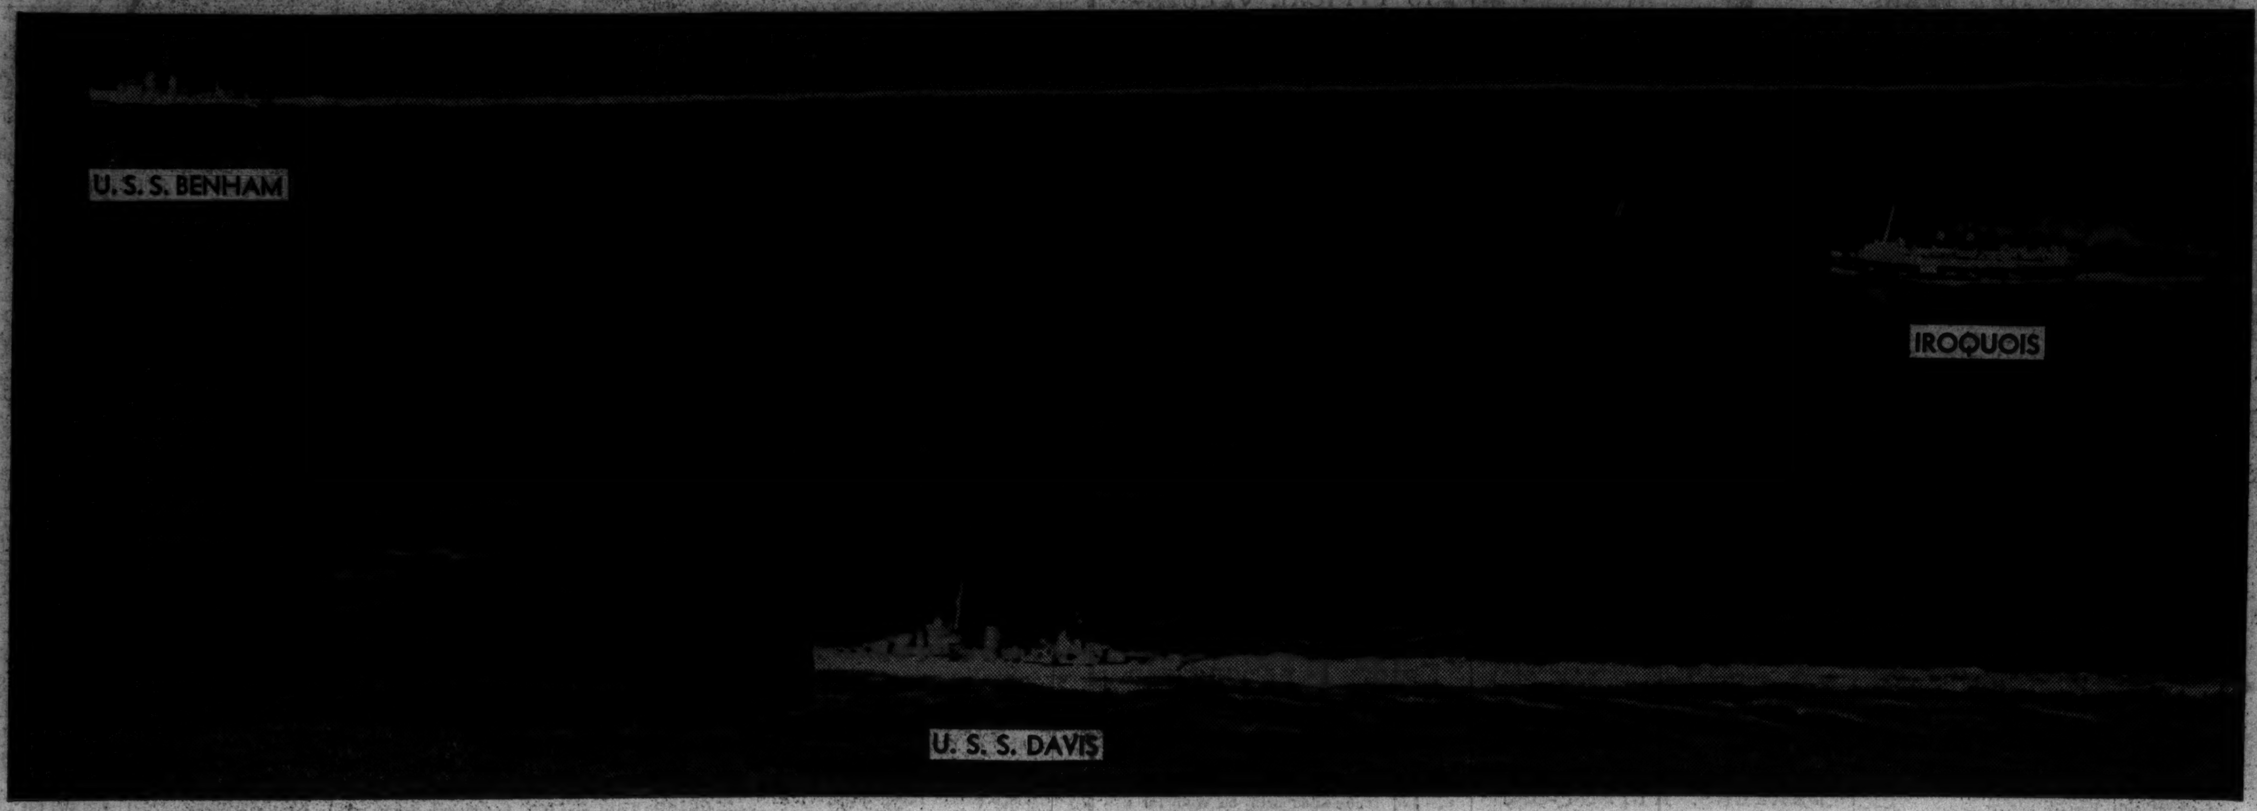
"Threatened" American Liner Reaches New York Safely—Betty Grable Divorces Jackie Coogan



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
